JIMMIE GOES WITHOUT LUNCH AND BREAKFAST

That's Why He Lags in School Work.

Chicago cannot afford to maim thousands of its future citizens by starvation now. There is no "dole," no "charity" for the child; the best we have is his by right, by any aspect of solid prudence. When the parents cannot give this, the public must.

ANTON J. CARLSON,

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Jimmie was dull and listless in school and this colloquy occurred:

Teacher—Did you have lunch today?

Jimmie—No'm, didn't have a dime.

Teacher—Did you have any breakfast this morning?

Jimmie—No'm, it wasn't my turn to eat today.

Investigation showed that there were five children in the family and they had to take turns in eating breakfasts. And of course there were few nickels or dimes for Jimmie to bring to school to buy one of the nourishing lunches which are furnished there. Jimmie was getting weak, that was all. The teachers fed him out of their own scanty funds, and now he is getting along all right.

Thousands of Other Cases.

There are many thousands of such cases, children on the borderland of starvation, and they will be pushed over the border this winter unless help is forthcoming. The teachers have given until it hurts and the funds are now almost exhausted.

Supt. of Schools Bogan estimates that there are 15,000 children who will need to be given free lunches this winter. THE TRIBUNE has undertaken to raise a fund for this purpose, and the subscription blank will be found in another column. The call for help is coming from schools all over the city. The fund will be distributed where it is needed most, for the teachers know which children are in need of food, and there will be no overhead expense in the administration of this relief. It will not conflict with the work of the governor's commission for general relief. Here is a special field, a pitiful emergency.

Prof. Carlson, who is an internationally known authority on the process of the human body, calls attention today to this need in Chicago and explains its social significance.

Situation More Serious.

"Last year," he says, "in our city schools thousands of youngsters were found undersized, despite all the energetic and sincere efforts on the part of public and private charity. The school teachers and the schools did splendid work to relieve the situation, the teachers contributing over $100,000 toward this child aid.

"All facts point to a more serious situation this winter. Many laymen seem to think that all is well, if no child actually starves to death. This is not so. Prolonged underfeeding of the child stunts and weakens him, and renders him more susceptible to many serious ailments, particularly tuberculosis.

"All our schools could dispense milk to the underfed child. Many are equipped to serve a nourishing meal at noon [at 10 cents each]. Contributions for the underfed child, diverted to the schools, will reach this child 100 per cent.

"There can be no doubt that in our wealthy city, even in normal times, and particularly in periods of economic stress like the present, failure of applying to the child what is known of the normal growth, health, and development is determined in part by the poverty of the home.

Thousands Being Maimed.

"It is not pleasant to contemplate that in this city, with its plethora of food and millionaires, any child should be maimed from starvation and undernutrition. To the minds of many kind people this condition may seem unthinkable, nevertheless it is so, even if the number of children so handicapped in normal times is small. In times like the present they number thousands.

"We agree that every measure should be taken to remove these handicaps to child health that are within our power to relieve. Certainly the starving child need not, should not, be among us. It is a challenge to our social conscience and economic order. We have the food. We agree that all children should be adequately fed, but we are not organized to

PACIFIC FLYERS SKIRT ALASKA; MOTOR HEARD

Head for U. S.; Are on Right Course.

Seattle, Oct. 5.—(Monday.)—(AP)—A "mystery plane" whose presence in the air could not be accounted for from any fields in this vicinity, was sighted in the air over the business district here at 3:12 a. m., Pacific standard time (5:12 a. m. Central standard time), flying eastward. The plane was seen by a group of policemen changing shifts, but it was not sufficiently distinguishable to determine whether it was the Pangborn-Herndon machine or not.

ST. PAUL ISLAND, Bering Sea, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Heavy fog blanketing False Pass in the Aleutian islands today was reported to have concealed an airplane, believed to be that of Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr., bound on a trans-Pacific flight from Japan to the United States.

The drone of the plane's motor was heard first by J. Manenius, owner and operator of an amateur radio station at False Pass, at 10:55 a. m. P. S. T. [12:55 p. m. C. S. T.], messages he sent here a short time later said.

The two barnstorming American aviators, who left Sabishiro beach, Japan, at 2:01 p. m., P. S. T. [4:01 p. m. C. S. T.], yesterday, should have been in the vicinity of the Aleutians at that time. Unimak island, on which the False Pass is located, is approximately half way along their 4,465 mile course to Seattle, Wash.

Motor Working Perfectly.

The plane's motor was described as "functioning perfectly." Heard to the westward first, the drone increased as it went over False Pass, and then decreased and disappeared to the east.

An extremely heavy fog covered the area, the messages from Manenius said, and it was estimated the plane was flying between 800 and 1,000 feet in the air. Light northwesterly winds had failed to blow away the fog.

False Pass is about 150 miles northeast of Dutch Harbor, which the two flyers had said they planned to pass over on their attempted flight from Japan to Seattle, or some other city in the United States.

On Right Course.

Manenius notified other radio stations in Alaska, and attempted to reach ships at sea, seeking more information regarding the plane. His message said the craft was "headed directly down the Alaska peninsula okeh and on the right course."

The flyers planned after leaving the Aleutians to head directly across the Gulf of Alaska for Queen Charlotte island off the coast of northwestern British Columbia. Pangborn, before leaving Sabishiro, said their course would lie towards that island from the Aleutians. Queen Charlotte island lies betwen 1,100 and 1,200 miles nearly directly to the east of Unimak island.

Hit 100 M. P. H. Clip.

Bremerton, Wash., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The motor of an airplane believed to be that of Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr. was heard today over False Pass in the Aleutian islands, Alaska, the navy here was advised by its station at St. Paul island, Bering sea.

The message sent by St. Paul island read:

"Trans-Pacific plane heard over False Pass 10:55 a. m. P. S. T. [12:55 p. m. C. S. T.] Plane not sighted, due to heavy fog, but sound of motor indicated on right course."

Unsighted Over Ocean.

TOKIO, Oct. 5.—[Monday.]—(AP)—Up until early today when it was reported that their plane had been heard near Alaska, the vast gray expanse of the north Pacific ocean with its fog, rain and wind, had clothed in silence the fate of the American flyers Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr., on their flight to the United States.

This message was the only word of their progress received since yesterday morning when they passed over Nemuro, 250 miles northeast of Sabishiro beach, the starting place of their attempt to span the Pacific in a single hop. Lack of word, however, was not surprising, for the flyers carried no radio.

That all had gone well was indicated

Edison Rallies After Relapse, But Is Failing

West Orange, N. J., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Concern for Thomas A. Edison became more grave today as his attending physician noted a gradual ebbing of his strength and increasing difficulty in the assimilation of nourishment.

Messages from all over the world, including two from Pope Pius XI., attested the sympathetic interest with which the 84 year old inventor's struggle for life is being watched.

Dr. Hubert S. Howe of New York, under whose care Mr. Edison has been virtually continuously since his return from Florida last June, visited his patient this morning and observed evidence of his gradual retrogression from a complication of ailments, including Bright's disease, diabetes, uremic poisoning, and a stomach disorder believed to be gastric ulcers.

Gradually Losing Strength.

"Mr. Edison is gradually losing strength," said the bulletin issued by Dr. Howe at 11 a. m. "He did not have a good night, merely dozing intermittently. It is increasingly difficult for him to take nourishment."

After his morning visit Dr. Howe returned to his home in New York. He did not plan to return until tomorrow morning unless a crisis developed.

Dr. Howe said Mr. Edison's condition is not as grave now as it was two years ago when he had pneumonia. He admitted, however, that the inventor's illness is more serious now than it has been at any time in recent weeks.

At 10 o'clock this evening Charles Edison, a son, issued this bulletin:

"Mr. Edison had a relatively good day. He seemed to enjoy his supper and is now sleeping comfortably."

While Mrs. Edison, the inventor's wife, and three of his children, Charles and Thomas A. Edison and Mrs. John Eyre Sloane, were at the family home in Llewellyn Park today, the two remaining children, Mrs. Marion Oser of Norwalk, Conn., and William L. Edison of Wilmington, Del., had not been summoned, it was said.

Mind Not So Clear.

This afternoon Mr. Edison sat up for a short time, but his rapidly ebbing strength was insufficient to meet the strain and he had to be assisted to his bed again. In sharp contrast with previous sinking spells, when Mr. Edison's mind remained so clear that he questioned the attending physicians about the chemical reactions of the medicines they were administering, he shows little interest now, it was said.

The messages from the pope were made public by Mr. Edison's son-in-law, John Eyre Sloane, who is a communicant of the Roman Catholic church. Mr. Edison himself is a free thinker, but his relation with the church has been friendly, and last November a gold medal was presented to him by the pope in appreciation of a special dictating machine he had sent to the Vatican.

"Kindly send information concerning the health of Mr. Edison," read the first message which was received today. It had been forwarded here by Msgr. Stephen J. Donahue, secretary to Cardinal Hayes of New York.

The second message, dated today, read: "The holy father desires further information about the health of Mr. Edison. Please ask the family direct and inform them of the holy father's interest."

Mr. Sloan in return sent a message to Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, expressing thanks for the interest shown by the pope and telling of Mr. Edison's condition.

Judge Absent, Bandit Suspect Freed on Writ

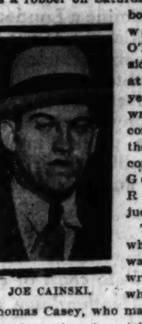
Arrested on Friday and identified as a robber on Saturday, Joe Cainski, bodyguard of Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, south side gangster, was at liberty again yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus read by the clerk in the court of Judge George Fred Rush in the judge's absence.



JOE CAINSKI.

The way in which Cainski was freed on the writ was revealed when Policeman Thomas Casey, who made the original arrest, sent out a teletype message announcing that his prisoner was at large again and requesting that he be seized on sight as a holdup man.

Arrested Near His Home.

Cainski, known for several years as official torturer for the O'Donnell gang, was arrested Friday afternoon near his home, 5207 South Hermitage avenue. Cainski is 29 years old and has a ten year police record.

Patrolman Casey took his prisoner to New City station to be held overnight. The next morning Miss Kay Wilms, 4450 Tripp avenue, and Joseph Stranch, 2637 North Hamilton avenue, appeared at the station and identified Cainski as one of the gunmen in the holdup of the Bon Vivant café, 4367 Lake Park avenue, on Aug. 16. Miss Wilms lost $1,110 in jewelry and Stranch lost $550 in cash and jewelry to the robbers.

Prisoner Ordered to Court.

An hour after they had identified Cainski there came a telephone call from Judge Rush's bailiff, announcing that the court had issued a writ and instructing the police to produce the prisoner. Cainski was taken into court at 2:05 p. m. The clerk was waiting, but the judge had left an hour before. The clerk read the court order directing the prisoner's release "By order of the court."

"You can't turn him loose," Policeman Casey remonstrated. "He's been identified in a stickup. I would have booked him for robbery, except for fear he would be bailed out immediately. We wanted to hold him for the Sunday showup."

The clerk replied that Judge Rush had instructed him to read the writ and see that the prisoner went free.

Falls in His Own Wine Vat and Californian Is Drowned

San Mateo, Cal., Oct. 4.—(AP)—When John Favalessa, 53, went to his cellar today to attend a 1,000 gallon vat of wine in the making, he fell into the vat and drowned.

4 Squads of Police Rush to County Prison

What is believed by police to have been a plot for a jail break on a large scale by desperate prisoners was frustrated shortly after 7 o'clock this morning by the arrest of a man in a taxicab just outside the jail walls where he admitted he had gone in response to a summons in a letter from an inmate of the jail.

A few minutes after the arrest a hurry call for the patrol wagon and several squads of police was sent from the jail to the Lawndale police station. Four squads, all heavily armed, rushed to the jail and surrounded it. However, within a short time the police were sent back to the station and it was reported that all was quiet in the prison. Jail attachés refused to discuss the matter until Warden David Moneypenny arrived from his home.

Arrested in Taxicab.

The man arrested outside the jail was Nathan Goldman, 25 years old, of 2350 Iowa street. He was sitting in a taxicab, covering the chauffeur, Edward Bachner, 1227 South Central Park avenue, with a pistol. Bachner said Goldman had hailed him at Madison street and Western avenue and directed him to drive to the jail.

Goldman, who, police say is a paroled robber, said that he was at the jail walls in a response to a letter from a jail inmate who signed himself "You know who." The letter, Goldman told the police, said, "It will be well worth your while to be outside the walls at 6:30 o'clock."

Called by Mike Romano.

Goldman admitted that he knew the letter was from Michael Romano, sentenced last week to the penitentiary for robbery, and known as a desperate man with a long criminal record.

In Goldman's pockets were two letters addressed to Romano from a woman signed "Opal." She said she was looking forward to meeting Romano on Wednesday, "where I saw you lass summer." The letter continued: "I hope this will be the last time I will have to write." She gave the address 609 Epworth avenue.

TWO MORE MOVIE HOUSES TARGETS OF STENCH BOMBS

Stench bombs were set off last night in the Sheridan theater, 4038 Sheridan road, and the Terminal theater, 3215 Lawrence avenue, as both playhouses were filled with spectators.

At the Sheridan theater the bomb was uncorked in the balcony while 1,800 persons were attending the performance. About a dozen left their seats. At the Terminal theater there were 1,300 spectators and a few left. Both theaters are operated by Fox brothers. The district manager for the playhouses, R. C. McMullen, could give no reason for the attack, declaring that the theaters were not involved in any labor disputes, and that they both employed union operators.

Early yesterday morning the Madlin theater, 1910 West Madison street, a house involved in the dispute of the Independent Theater Owners' association and the operators' union, was slightly damaged by a bomb explosion. It was the tenth explosion since the lockout of the union operators.

A meeting of theater owners and heads of the operators' union is scheduled for this morning in the office of Mayor Cermak.

MRS. W. H. GRAY DIES OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN FALL

Mrs. Ellen Orpha Buckingham Gray, wife of William Houser Gray, 2478 Lake View avenue, retired capitalist, died last night at the Grant hospital of injuries suffered in a fall a few weeks ago at the Union League club. She was 74 years old and had celebrated her golden wedding anniversary last February. The Grays came to Chicago in 1885.

Recently Mrs. Gray turned over several thousand bushels of oats, harvested on her farm in Woodford county, to charity, instructing her agents to distribute the grain to the needy without payment. She was a member of the Chicago Women's Athletic association.

Waketh Up to Find He Hath Thwallowed Teeth

Donat Morrier, 24 years old, 1004 North Clark street, knew something was wrong with him when he woke up yesterday morning. At first he thought it was merely indigestion. Then he realized that his bridge, the gold one with the five porcelain teeth, was missing. He went to the county hospital and lisped out his story. Dr. Alfred Lawy, assisted by Dr. Robert Lennon, fished around in his oesophagus and pulled up the five teeth.

U. S. CLEARS WAY FOR TAX FRAUD CASE TOMORROW

Gang Trial to Draw Eyes of Nation.

The attention of the country will be commanded tomorrow by the trial of Al Capone as an income tax evader, which begins in Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's court at 10 a. m. It will be the most famous of all the prosecutions of gang chieftains produced by the Volstead era and comparable in interest to the Loeb-Leopold trial.

JUDGE WILKERSON.

Federal prosecutors headed by United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson completed their preparations for the trial Saturday night, ending three years of unrelenting investigation born of a zeal to rid Chicago of its foremost public enemy. Seventy-five witnesses are under subpoena to give evidence of Capone's alleged $1,038,654 booze, gambling and vice income over a six year period, on which he paid no taxes.

Judge Wilkerson has ordered 100 veniremen into court today, so that the selection of a jury tomorrow will not be delayed by applications to be excused from service.

Judge Refuses to Bargain.

Defense Attorney Michael Ahern has not indicated that he will seek a change of venue and delay the start of the trial, although he has stated in court that Capone regards Judge Wilkerson as prejudiced. It was Judge Wilkerson who told Capone "it is utterly impossible to bargain with a federal court," when the gangster entered a plea of guilty with strings on it—a recommendation as to punishment agreed to by the government.

Judge Wilkerson adjudged Capone guilty of contempt last spring and sentenced him to six months in jail, from which Capone has appealed. It was also Judge Wilkerson who sentenced Capone's older brother, Ralph, to three years in Leavenworth for tax fraud. Al Capone faces a possible maximum of thirty-two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $40,000 if convicted on all six felony and two misdemeanor counts.

Agents See Conviction.

Agents of the intelligence unit, which developed the income tax case against Capone, expressed themselves as certain of a conviction. The prosecutors, notwithstanding the hazards of a Capone gangster trial, with hostile witnesses, called the case good. New propositions of law will have to be argued, for Capone had no bank accounts, in contrast to the other gangsters that have been tried, and the trial is expected to require at least two weeks.

A procession of Capone hoodlums will pass through the courtroom if the government calls all the witnesses it has under subpoena. Most notorious is bullet marked Johnny Torrio, predecessor of Capone at the head of the gang, who was brought back from his Long Island exile after six years' absence from Chicago. Most valuable for the government probably will be Fred Ries, the man whose testimony resulted in the conviction of Jack Guzik, Capone's business manager.

Sent to South America.

Ries was sent on an extended South American tour by the government, after he had testified against Guzik, because of determined efforts by the gang to ferret him out. But Ries returned and the government for a time lost track of him. It was reported that he grew weary of constant surveillance and feared testifying against Capone. But Ries was found again and served with a subpoena through the ingenuity of Clarence Converse, the ace of the intelligence unit's ace hoodlum hunters.

Ries, a veteran Cicero gambler, testified that the circulating houses he managed for Guzik netted weekly profits of $25,000 to $35,000. He named Al Capone, Ralph Capone, and Frank Nitti as members of the syndicate which controlled the houses.

Louis La Cava, Pete Penoviteh, Louis Alterie, and Frankie Pope, all interested in Capone gambling houses at some time, are prospective government witnesses. Another is Sam Guzik, brother of Jack and former collector for the syndicate, who was brought back from Leavenworth, where he is serving a year's sentence for tax evasion.

Guzik, it is reported, will be forced admit transmitting large sums of money to Capone at the direction of his brother Jack. Guzik is said to have told the government agents that he won these sums of money playing poker and shooting craps, but the prosecution is hopeful of convincing the jury that they represented the regular collections for the Capone booze, gambling, and vice syndicate.

The weapon with which the government hopes damning admissions from Capone hoodlums is the charge of perjury. They are taken before the grand jury and asked to explain certain circumstances or transactions known to the government from documentary evidence.

If their stories are not true they are charged with perjury. If they tell the truth to the grand jurors and repudiate their stories at the trial they are confronted with their grand jury testimony and charges of perjury or contempt.

Faces Perjury Charge.

Alterie was charged with perjury in connection with his grand jury appearance, and this charge is still being held against him.

Federal agents have been advised of the purported attempt to "steal" the government's documentary evidence against Capone. The report grew out of the investigation of the Terry Druggan plot to obstruct the prosecution of Druggan as a tax dodger and, failing in that, to expose his own scheme in order to give rise to an inference that the United States attorney's office had been tainted by bribery.

A lawyer reported to have been given $75,000 by Druggan to "fix" the tax case was said to have promised to arrange for the stealing of the Capone evidence in lieu of the $75,000 when Druggan demanded its return.

Capone Named in Story.

Capone's name figured in the story of the conspiracy and he was said to have provided Druggan with some hoodlums to kidnap the lawyer. It was presumed that Capone evidence would have a sufficient cash value to appease Druggan.

The prosecutors laughed at the pretended plan to steal the documental evidence, for it is safely locked in a vault of a large loop bank. In their preparations for the trial they used only photostatic copies of the documents.

The witness who told the government agents of the Druggan plot, Harold Hayes, manager of the Metropole hotel, was at one time considered as a possible witness against Capone. He is said to have given a long statement telling how Capone and Dennis [The Duke] Cooney operated their illicit enterprises from the hotel.

Tells About Cooney.

Cooney, Hayes is said to have related, quartered a number of his prostitutes in the hotel and paid their room rent with one check each week. Hayes also is reported to have told of witnessing transactions in which Capone engaged with various persons, including at least one Chicago police captain, and in which sums of money changed hands.

It was decided not to use Hayes as a witness because of the irrelevancy of most of his story and because he might not be a reliable witness.

Johnson to Direct Case.

District Attorney Johnson will appear in court and direct the prosecution of Capone, although not participating in the proceedings.

His staff of assistants represents the best talent afforded by the government for income tax prosecutions. Special Assistant United States Attorney General William J. Froelich came here from Washington to assist Mr. Johnson with the gangster prosecutions, and he will participate in the trial. Dwight H. Green, income tax expert, and Jacob I. Grossman, authority on difficult legal points, both of whom have engaged in all previous income tax trials here, and Samuel G. Clawson are the other prosecutors.

Capone has engaged the services of Attorney Albert Fink in addition to Mr. Ahern's.

Courtroom Is Ready.

The courtroom is in readiness for the trial, arrangements having been made to accommodate from forty to fifty newspaper reporters, including correspondents from various parts of the country. No one except those having business in the courtroom will be admitted, according to Anthony Czarnecki, collector of customs and custodian of the federal building.

The usual precautions will be taken against a possible attempt to assassinate Capone or some of the government witnesses. All branches of the federal service will be represented by the guard stationed in the corridor leading to the courtroom and at the entrances to the building. A squad of detectives will escort the gang chief to and from his headquarters in the Lexington hotel.

A jury probably will be selected during the first day, according to the prosecutors, because of the limited privileges accorded the defense in federal court.

Effect of Public Opinion on Chicago Crime Is Illustrated

The chart, covering eighteen months in the city's crime record, shows the peak of 40 homicides a month that was reached in June, 1930, with the murder of Alfred Lingle—the twelfth killing in ten days—and also the quick decline in the homicide rate which followed as the authorities, spurred by an aroused public, opened the drive on criminals.

Federal Trial of Capone Delays State Court Cases

Important criminal prosecutions are being tied up in the state courts because Al Capone, public enemy No. 1, has hired two of the best known attorneys in the city to defend him. This was the complaint made yesterday by First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup, who for nearly three years has been trying to bring Timothy J. Crowe, former president of the sanitary district board, and eight other former trustees and officials of the district, to trial on charges of graft conspiracy.

Prosecutor Northup pointed out that important criminal prosecutions often are delayed because defendants in different cases hire the same set of attorneys. He intimated that the judicial advisory council will be asked to investigate the matter with a view to promulgating rules to stop the practice, which sometimes has delayed trials for months.

Capone to Appear Tomorrow.

Capone is scheduled to face Judge Wilkerson in the federal court tomorrow morning on charges of income tax violations and liquor conspiracy. Attorneys Albert Fink and Michael Ahern will appear to defend him.

Attorney Fink is one of the principal defense lawyers in the sanitary district case, which is scheduled to come before Judge Joseph B. David in the Criminal court. Preliminary motions, such as to quash the indictments on the grounds of legal flaws, are scheduled to be heard. The prosecution had hoped to start the trial within a few days.

Attorney Fink also put in an appearance on Saturday in Circuit Judge Ralph Dady's court in Waukegan in behalf of State Auditor Oscar Nelson, who has been indicted on charges of misfeasance and conspiracy in connection with the failure of the Waukegan State bank. State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county asked for an early trial. Because of the Capone case, a continuance was granted.

Important Cases Tied Up.

"The impending trial of Capone is paralyzing the other courts," said a statement from State's Attorney Swanson's office. "Capone hires Attorney Fink and the law firm of Nash & Ahern. Between them they represent most of the defendants in the pending important criminal cases. As a result the state has to stand idly by because the judges grant continuances on the ground that the attorneys are engaged elsewhere."

Assistant State's Attorney Harold Keele, who for three months has been trying to bring to trial State Senator Daniel Serritella, Capone lieutenant and former city sealer, and his former chief deputy, Harry Hochstein, on charges of short weight conspiracy, pointed out that the Capone case is interfering with his case. Attorney Ahern is chief counsel in the Serritella case. Last week a continuance was allowed because of the government's demand that Capone be tried.

The Chicago Crime commission reports that a number of defendants often hire the same lawyer when no other excuse can be found for further continuance. It was pointed out that more than 5,000 lawyers practice in the city and that some system could be devised by the courts to prevent such delays.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Although Sir Thomas Lipton's will will not be published until after his funeral Wednesday the document was made ready tonight at his residence, Osidge, in London in the presence of two trustees, Col. Duncan Neill and Lord Inverforth, and his private secretary, John Westwood.

The bulk of the fortune, estimated at between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 will, it is said, go largely to charities, chiefly benefiting the needy of his native city of Glasgow.

According to the Daily Herald, no provision is made in the will for continuing his 32 years' struggle to bring the America's cup to Britain, which cost him over $3,000,000.

An explosion which authorities believe was probably caused by a misplaced bomb, tore away one wall of the bungalow of John Kilpch, 3421 South 59th avenue, Cicero, early yesterday. Kilpch estimated the damage at $4,000. He and his family were visiting in Crystal Lake when the explosion occurred. Kilpch is a brakeman on the Burlington railroad. Lieut. Nicholas Mongreig of the Cicero police said that he could find no reason why Kilpch should have been attacked by bombers.

SHOW AROUSED PUBLIC CAN CUT DOWN MURDERS

City Homicide Rate Drops After Lingle Death.

Fluctuations in Chicago's murder rate, as revealed in statistics made public yesterday by the federal government, show the strong force of an awakened public opinion and a determined drive on criminals.

Of particular interest during an eighteen month period in the city's crime calendar is the sharp decline in murder which followed the murder of Alfred Lingle.

A diagram accompanying this article illustrates the homicide rate during those eighteen months. It shows an abrupt drop in the murder rate immediately following Lingle's murder. The decline extended until the time of the trial and conviction of Leo V. Brothers, the murderer of Lingle.

Authorities War on Crime.

Lingle was murdered on June 9, 1930, his killing being the twelfth in ten days. Immediately after the Lingle murder, the authorities were spurred into a campaign against gangsters and crime. The leading gunmen fled from the city, and never was the community so free of notorious criminals.

Judge John H. Lyle, at the suggestion of Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, and Charles F. Rathbun, special prosecutor in charge of the Lingle investigation, began his vagrancy drive against the public enemies. The most notorious of the gangsters were taken into the courts again and again, and many of them were put in cells.

Noticeable Drop in Murders.

The 12 murders in the first few days of June, 1930, caused the murder rate to skyrocket from 26 in May to 40 in June. During July the effect of the campaign was felt, and in August the rate dropped to 30.

In the following month, September, the rate of murder reached a low for the entire 18 month period between Jan. 1, 1930, and July 1, 1931. Only 20 murders were recorded in September. From then until early last April, when Brothers was convicted, the rate held firm between 20 and 30, and after that perceptible rises were noted until last April and June the rate climbed slightly above 30.

ABANDONED CAMP PROVIDES ROPE CLEW IN COLLINGS CASE

Huntington, N. Y., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Discovery of an abandoned beach camp near Price's bend, close to the yacht Penguin's last anchorage before the killing of Benjamin P. Collings of Stamford, Conn., Sept. 9, tonight gave Suffolk county detectives a fresh start in their quest of the solution of the mystery.

Six milk bottles were among the articles found in the camp. Rope of the same kind used to tie Collings before he was thrown into Long Island sound also was among the abandoned articles, some of it, the detectives said, knotted in the same manner as Colling's death knots.

Mrs. Benjamin Collings returned to New York today from a futile trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., where she failed to identify two men as the "pirates" who killed her husband.

REVEAL POLICE WASTE RUNS UP INTO MILLIONS

Per Capita Cost Here 21 Pct. Higher than London

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Chicago is being cheated out of a large percentage of the millions spent annually for police service in the opinion of the citizens' police committee, headed by Elmer T. Stevens, which spent a year and a half investigating the workings of the department. The committee tells how to obtain "more and better police protection for less money" in a 281 page book issued last March.

The amount of the waste is not specifically estimated in this book, but it is the first report in years which does not submerge the question of costs.

A short time ago an official exclaimed: "Give us as many policemen, proportionately, as they have in London, and Chicago will be cleaned up."

Police Costs Compared.

Suppose the London police department is taken as a model for Chicago. To make such a comparison THE TRIBUNE has obtained data from its London correspondent John Steele.

London has a population, estimated by its police, of 7,839,500, while Chicago residents number 3,376,343.

Official financial statistics place London's police cost at $42,898,000 for 1930. On a comparable basis of reckoning Chicago last year spent $21,461,945.

This makes it apparent that Chicago, in proportion to its population, spent more money last year for police protection than did London. The cost per capita in London was $5.69, while in Chicago it was $6.92. That excess of 21 per cent for Chicago, if imposed upon London, would make its 1930 police cost $53,976,000 instead of $42,898,000.

London Cuts Police Pay.

The comparison for 1931 will show a still greater comparative cost for Chicago because London has recently reduced police salaries, while Chicago continues spending at the highest rate in its history.

Major crime in London is only a small fraction of what it is in Chicago. In 1930 London had a total of 21 homicides while Chicago had 349. The Chicago official report for 1930 credits 84 killings to gangs, 11 to the Black Hand, 52 to robbers and burglars, and 252 to other causes.

Frequently the reason given for the lack of effective results in Chicago is that "Chicago is spread out over a large area." It appears that London is also spread out.

The Question of Area.

London is more thinly populated in proportion to its area than is Chicago. London's 7,839,500 population is spread over 691.83 square miles while Chicago's 3,376,343 residents live on 210.51 square miles.

For each square mile London spent $61,200 for police service last year, as compared with the $111,406—nearly twice as much—which Chicago spent. That comparison also will be more striking for 1931, because of reduced police costs in London.

It may be argued that it is not how much is spent, but rather how many patrolmen there are to a square mile which determines police protection. Data have been collected which permit such a comparison. But the unit for London, adopted in its authorized financial compilations, is an acre instead of a square mile.

Acres and Patrolmen.

London has 442,771 acres, Chicago has 134,726. London has 19,251 constables, and Chicago has 6,182 patrolmen. The official financial statistics of London assert there are 23 acres for each constable. Within Chicago there are 21¾ acres for each patrolman. Theoretically at least there are fewer acres per patrolman in Chicago than there are in London per constable.

In brief, Chicago spends 21 per cent more per capita for police protection than London; Chicago pays nearly twice as much per square mile and it has fewer acres per patrolman, yet Chicago has more than 15 times as many murders.

The citizens' police committee expected there would be a clamor for more policemen and the consequent spending of more millions. In advance the committee—several members of which are now on Mayor Cermak's advisory staff—published its reply as follows:

"The committee here and now serves notice that it is unalterably opposed to an increase in the numerical strength in any degree until the police force has been thoroughly and convincingly reorganized and public confidence in a substantial measure has been restored.

"To increase the police force at this time, or any other time, without first rigorously exterminating every vestige of the old police régime, would but exaggerate present evils. Even when that point is reached, if it is reached, the process of expanding the numbers of the force must advance slowly."

Another London Comparison.

Reverting again to London, although the citizens' committee frowns upon such statistical comparisons as have been presented above, there is more population for each policeman in Chicago than there is in London. There are 17.6 persons per acre in London, as compared with 25 in Chicago. In London there is one constable for each 405 residents, while in Chicago there is one patrolman for each 546 residents.

These figures serve to indicate the police numerical strength in comparison with population. No one should get the impression that a Chicago patrolman, in the operation of the department, has only 546 persons to look after. He has many more.

Special Detail Under Fire.

One of the largest sources of waste of which the citizens' committee complains, is that patrolmen have not been patrolling the streets and alleys. On two public occasions Mayor Cermak has declared that there have been too many patrolmen detailed to duties other than patrolling. These criticisms refer exclusively to the police of the city proper.

While there are only 21¾ acres for each police patrolman on a public pay roll within Chicago—and more than 2,000 acres of that area lies at the bottom of Lake Calumet—the figures of the citizens' committee indicate that the average beat for a foot patrolman is 538 acres—25 times the 21¾ acres.

The committee data show that of the entire force of 6,712 members "58 per cent is used on inside duty, permanent and special details, traffic in the central zone, or is lost through vacations, rest days, and illness."

Only 750 Men for Patrol.

The report further indicates the waste as follows:

"That leaves a total of 2,821 available men for outside duty. Deducting necessary police assignments totaling 1,865 [which are listed] from the number of men available for outside duty there remain only 956 men to be divided among 41 districts for uniformed foot patrol.

"Details to the baseball parks in season, to the homes of officials, to the surface lines and commercial organizations still further depletes the ranks until in the final analysis there are only about 750 men, or 11 per cent of the total force, available to patrol on foot the 211 square miles of territory within the city."

Army to Test World's Speediest Piece of Artillery

Tryout Thursday

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The fastest moving piece of heavy artillery in the world, in the opinion of United States army experts who designed it, will be given its first public test at Aberdeen proving ground, Maryland, next Thursday in the presence of some ten thousand engineers and industrial executives attending the thirteenth annual meeting of the Army Ordnance association.

Heralded as one of the most noteworthy advances in the design of American heavy artillery, the ordnance department's new "T-2" gun mount, is equipped with four forward double wheels and two rear wheels, all with balloon tires and roller bearings. This highly maneuverable mount will accommodate 155 mm. cannon as well as eight inch howitzers.

Towed by a high speed motor truck or army tractor, it is said by ordnance engineers to present the most mobile weapon in existence having such great fire power.

Another remarkable addition to the army's array of engines of battle which will be demonstrated for the first time in public is a new armored car known as the "T-4," the first six wheeled fighting vehicle with four wheels ever built for the army. Two "idle" wheels located behind the forward wheels and placed so as to contact with the ground on broken and rugged terrain make it really an eight wheeled car.

SEARS, ROEBUCK TO OPEN STATE STREET STORE

Lease Leiter Building for Loop Trade.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., mail order house and one of the leading operators of chain stores in the United States, is to invade the Chicago loop district with a huge department store.

Announcement was made yesterday that the company had signed a twenty year lease with the Levi Z. Leiter estate for the Leiter building on the southeast corner of State and Van Buren streets and expected to have its merchandise in and ready for sale sometime in the spring.

The building, an eight story structure, has a 400 foot frontage along State street, 140 feet on Van Buren street and 140 feet on Congress street. It was once occupied by the Siegel, Cooper & Co. department store.

Holds Location Is Ideal.

Gen. Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., said that he believed the Leiter building could be made into one of the most up to date stores in the country.

"It is ideally located," he added, "as regards transportation facilities, with the State street cars from the south and the Broadway cars from the north and the elevated trains passing on the loop.

"The headquarters for the management of all our Chicago retail department stores and auxiliary buying offices for these stores will be located in the building. We also propose to provide rest rooms and waiting rooms to make the store a convenient place for persons in Chicago and the surrounding territory to meet friends and start the day's shopping."

Provide Auto Tire Service.

One of the unusual features indicated in the announcement is the provision of service facilities for tire mounting and battery installation in automobiles. Both Gen. Wood and George C. Nimmons, head of the firm handling architecture for Sears, Roebuck & Co., said that the definite plans for this department had not been settled as yet.

The invasion of the loop is a continuation into the last stage of the store expansion program which Sears, Roebuck & Co. started something more than six years ago. Its first retail unit was opened in Chicago. Now it has nearly fifty large stores carrying full lines and and about 300 stores carrying more restricted lines, mainly automobile tires and accessories, radio sets and sporting goods.

Oscar Friedman of 120 South La Salle street was the only agent in the realty transaction. Sears, Roebuck & Co. was represented by Charles Lederer of Lederer, Livingston, Kahn & Adler, general counsel, and the Leiter estate by Alfred M. Rogers of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt.

HEARING IS SET ON $2,871,968 OF PUBLIC PROJECTS

A public hearing on improvement projects ranging from the installation of small sewers and water mains to the paving of systems of streets was set yesterday by the board of local improvements for Friday. The total cost of the projects is estimated at $2,871,968. In line with the policy of the board only improvements requested by property owners are being planned.

The largest project is the paving with asphalt of a system of streets bounded by 55th and 59th streets and Narragansett and Mobile avenues at a cost of $440,000. Paving with concrete at a cost of $320,000 is planned for another system of streets bounded by Granville, Rosemont, Tripp, and Keeler avenues.

Another street improvement project is the proposed paving with asphalt of a system of streets including McVicker and Archer avenues and 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, and 59th streets between Austin and Melvina avenues at a cost of $438,000. The widening and paving of Central avenue between Archer avenue and 63d street at a cost of $212,000 also is planned.

SITS ON TRACKS; KILLED BY TRAIN.

Belleville, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—An unidentified man who had been sitting on the tracks was killed by a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train near Caseyville this afternoon.

SLAIN WITH AX, LEFT IN DITCH AT GLEN ELLYN

Charles Di Giovanna, 58 years old, 4713 Le Moyne street, was found slain in a ditch in the outskirts of Glen Ellyn early yesterday. An ax used by the slayer was found near the body.

The police learned that Di Giovanna, who was employed by the Western Electric company, had left his home Saturday night to go to Grand Rapids, Mich., to visit a son who had been paroled from a penitentiary and could not leave the state. The widow told Assistant State's Attorney Allen Meyers of Du Page county that Di Giovanna was to have met a friend who was to take him to Grand Rapids. The police are seeking the identity of the friend.

As far as could be learned Di Giovanna had no racket or hoodlum connections and was considered a man of good habits.

WALL STREET IS TURNED INTO SEA AS MAIN BREAKS

A huge water main near the Chase National bank on Nassau street broke and sent tons of water roaring into the cellar of the United States subtreasury building at Wall and Nassau streets.

Old records in the subtreasury cellar were damaged, but the water did not reach untold millions of gold stored in the building.

A geyser ten feet high shot into the air and the sidewalk in front of the Chase National bank bulged upward eight inches. The water burst a wall of a concourse nearby. Engineers constructing a new skyscraper for the Bankers' Trust said their work would be delayed.

Three mains supplying much of the financial district with water were shut off while experts sought the leak.

U. S. OPENS QUIZ IN MANCHURIA; ENVOY AT 'FRONT'

Will Investigate Russia's Reaction to Row.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Oct. 4.—Laurence E. Salisbury, first secretary of the United States embassy at Tokio, passed through Mukden this morning en route to Changchun and Harbin to conduct an investigation of Russia's reactions to the present Manchurian situation.

Mr. Salisbury will be met at Changchun by George C. Hanson, American consul general at Harbin. They will spend a day at Changchun investigating the results of the Chinese-Japanese clashes there and at Kwangchengtze, where more than 60 Japanese soldiers were killed.

Following an inspection of Changchun, where the Russo-Japanese spheres of influence meet, Salisbury and Hanson will proceed into northern Manchuria to continue their inquiry.

Japan Warns America.

An anti-American movement, which is secretly being stirred up, according to Chinese circles here, was emphasized today when the Manchurian Daily News, official organ of the Japanese owned South Manchurian railway at Dairen, published an article entitled, "Hands Off, America!"

The article declared that American diplomacy has proved disastrous in Europe and if not stopped, would also prove disastrous in Asia. The newspaper further alleges that China took advantage of the Kellogg anti-war pact to undermine Japan's position in Manchuria which resulted in Japanese retaliation to protect her rights and interests. The article stated:

"If America is going to interfere with a just settlement by China with Japan, then America will jeopardize the life and security of every foreigner in China. But luckily America at this time does not have an exhausted Europe to deal with, but a Japan, fresh and prepared to call America's bluff. 'No interference from a third party' is our motto and this time no American troops and ships will cross the seas. Japan is going to withdraw her troops from China in good time, but not before she has made Manchuria safe for democracy."

New Japanese Régime Looms.

While Japanese military authorities are disavowing any attempt to create an independent government, or to engineer a separatist movement in Manchuria, there is strong evidence that pressure has been exerted to induce certain Manchu and Mongolian elements to create a new régime embracing four provinces, Kirin, Fengtien, Jehol, and Heilungkiang, the latter provinces including Inner Mongolia.

Japanese newspapers today issued a list of alleged new Manchurian administration officials, most of the personnel being former officials or Manchu leaders connected with Japanese enterprises. It was also stated that Prince Su, a former official of the defunct Manchu dynasty, who is a Japanese subject, has arrived here to help govern. It was likewise claimed that the Mongolian prince, Tahaer, is at Mukden for a similar purpose. Responsible Chinese business men here, however, insist that efforts to create a new Manchurian-Mongolian republic, or empire, under alien suzerainty is bound to fail because of the opposition of Manchuria's population of 30,000,000, which is overwhelmingly Chinese.

The Chinese also claim that the action of Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord, in creating a provisional government at Chinchow, located on the Peiping-Mukden railway in the vicinity of the Great Wall and outside the Japanese zone, is likely to prevent the formation of a new independent régime here with the possible exception of a "puppet" government which will be lacking in any appeal to the Chinese people.

League Conducts Probe.

PEIPING, China, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The American legation here transmitted to Washington today the text of a note from the Nanking government requesting the United States government to appoint representatives to investigate the situation in Manchuria prior to the meeting of the league of nations council in Geneva, Oct. 14.

It also was learned that the Spanish consul general at Shanghai had been instructed to proceed to Manchuria to investigate conditions on behalf of Alejandro Lerroux, Spanish president of the league council.

Foreign advices from Mukden said that Japanese forces entered the Chinese city of Newchwang on the Liaotung gulf yesterday, citing a bandit attack on the city as a reason for the Japanese action.

TOKIO RUSHES WARSHIPS

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 5.—[Monday.]—While the anti-Japanese boycott is spreading over China with frequent attacks of violence reported, including assaults last evening upon Japanese women in Shanghai, the chief attention has turned upon the reorganization of the Chinese government in order to present a united front in the crises.

Meanwhile more Japanese warships are proceeding to China. Another destroyer division is on the way to Shanghai.

News of Manchurian developments are lacking because of the Japanese censorship, and the only reports received deal with further assaults by the Chinese upon Coreans.

Blame Manchurian Troops.

Two Japanese women were seriously injured in the cotton mill district of Shanghai last evening by Chinese rioters. On the other hand the Japanese report more Coreans slain at Kuchiatsu. They claim that the total Corean dead have reached several hundred. Manchurian troops, who fled Japanese assaults outside the South Manchurian railway zone, are blamed.

All departments of the Nanking government, working in conjunction with the military forces, yesterday urged coördinated action against Japan. But as far as has been learned no troops have been dispatched to reinforce the Chinese armies in the Chinchow area.

Chief attention was paid to the reorganization of the central government. Nanking, observers declare, is making further concessions to the rebel Cantonese government. The following changes are believed to have been agreed upon tonight:

Wang Ching-wei, Canton radical, to become head of the Koumintang, or government party; Hu Han-ming, now a political prison, president; Chiang Kaishek, now president, head of the army; Sun Fo, Cantonese, minister of railways.

Canton Summons General.

Gen. Chen Ming-shu, military commander of the Shanghai-Nanking area, suddenly canceled his passage on the President Jefferson at Hongkong last night, having been summoned to return to Canton because of the changes in the reunion program.

W. W. Yen, who is in Nanking, expects to proceed to Shanghai today to engage passage to sail to Washington within a month to assume his duties as minister. Wellington Koo, a former foreign minister, will return to Peiping by airplane to consult Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord, regarding further proposed cabinet changes.

OIL COMPANY DRIVER ROBBED.

O. M. Hocker, a driver employed by the Cities Service Oil company, was held up and robbed of $132 yesterday by a bandit as he drove away from a filling station at 3200 South Western avenue, where he had just delivered a tank load of gasoline.

do it. The permanent organization of this matter on physiologic, humane, and sound economic lines calls for the highest statesmanship in the leaders of society.

"Chicago is fortunate in having thousands of families and more thousands of children, where parental care suffices to bring the best that modern knowledge offers in the way of health and protection. But even in our wealthy and enlightened city there are thousands of families and more thousands of children not so situated, certainly not through any fault of these children. It is here that the public concern, public responsibility, public duty, come in.

Brings Increase in Crime.

"A few weeks ago I received a letter from John P. McGoorty, then chief justice of the Criminal court. The letter stated that parallel with the present appalling unemployment, juvenile crime and delinquency have increased to such a degree that the financial resources of the court are no longer adequate. The judge thinks the increase in juvenile crime and delinquency is due to failure of the youngsters to secure employment. I think it probable that the failure of the parents to secure work is the more important factor in the deplorable situation, for that brings hopelessness and dissension in, if not downright disruption of, the home.

Stunted Children of Europe.

"I have given most of my time to investigation and education in the field of human life processes. I am more at home in the research laboratory than among the practical conflicts and perplexities of the modern industrial age. But I was a man before I became a scientist. And from my special field of investigation and teaching I have a real appreciation of the harmful effects on the child of undernutrition, overwork, failure to receive adequate medical service, and lack of a favorable environment.

"As a child I knew want, poverty, and hardships, through parental misfortune. I still have a vivid personal recollection of hunger pangs 50 years ago. I had the privilege to assist Mr. Herbert Hoover in organizing the extra meal program for the starving children of a large part of Europe after the armistice in 1918-'19. It was a relief to be able to turn from war and destruction to the healing ways of peace.

"I shall never forget those thousands upon thousands of starving and stunted children over there. We don't want to see any children like that in Chicago, and yet here they are by the thousands.

KILLS SELF BY GAS.

4 FOUND SLAIN IN FARM HOME; SUSPECT HELD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Burlington, Wis., Oct. 4.—[Special.] Four persons were found murdered in a farm home three miles south of Burlington this evening. The dead are:

Herbert Boschert, 22 years old, his son.

Celia Kirkman, 18 years old, a maid.

Bobby, the infant son of Herbert Boschert.

Three hours after the bodies were found, Frank Gray, a Burlington farm hand, who had been employed by the Boscherts and who lived at their home, was arrested in a saloon at Kenosha. Gray, according to information given by the Kenosha police, admitted he had committed the murders. A shot gun was found in his automobile. Gray was in conversation with another man in the saloon when the police, who had been notified to look for him, entered the place. Police say he was intoxicated and willing to talk freely, though somewhat incoherently.

Confesses Killing Four.

"Of course, I did it," he is reported to have said. "I wouldn't lie to you fellows."

News of the murders and the capture of Gray spread rapidly through Burlington and the farming community surrounding it, and shortly before midnight Sheriff John Anderson of Racine county received warning that friends of the slain men might attempt to take Gray from the Kenosha jail.

Sheriff Anderson, with Deputy Coroner Frank Bassinger and Undersheriff Rohan, immediately started for Racine with the prisoner. They were escorted to the county line by Sheriff Dave Robinson of Kenosha and a squad of detectives, where they were met by a special squad of Racine deputies and police to complete the trip.

The bodies of the four victims were found in the farm home at 6:45 p. m. by Ralph Baumann, of Burlington, who had driven out to pay the Boscherts a visit. Miss Kirkman's body was found unclothed in Gray's bed. There were evidences that she had struggled to defend herself, and apparently had put up her right hand, as it was entirely blown away by the shotgun charge that killed her. The infant was found dead in a crib near the bed on which the body of Miss Kirkman lay. The child had been killed with a hammer which was found near the crib.

Herbert Boschert's body was found on the floor of the kitchen. He had been shot to death. Upset furniture indicated that he had fought with his slayer before receiving the fatal wound. In the basement of the house was the body of the elder Boschert.

Herbert Boschert's wife is ill in a Burlington hospital and has not been advised of the tragedy.

Kills Men to Escape.

Authorities believe the girl was slain first, then the baby, and that the slayer in trying to escape had encountered Herbert Boschert in the kitchen. After killing Herbert, the murderer apparently followed Herbert's father into the basement and slew him there so that there would be no witnesses to the tragedy. The elder Boschert also was shot to death.

Baumann, with Miss Evelyn Boschert, a daughter of Frank Boschert, had driven to the farm and had noticed the dairy herd standing about the barnyard long after the regular milking time. Baumann suspected something was wrong and, while Miss Boschert waited outside, he entered the farm house and found Herbert dead on the kitchen floor. He made further examination and discovered the bodies of the three other victims.

Deputy Sheriff Charles McCarthy and Frank Ranker, an uncle of Miss Kirkman, were summoned from Burlington and a thorough inspection of the scene was made. As Gray, the farm hand, was absent, and the Boschert car was not found in the farm garage, telephone messages were sent out immediately to the nearby towns and cities.

Blames "Mistreatment" for Crimes.

Believing that Gray might go to Kenosha, the police were asked to make a search for him there. It was barely three hours after the discovery in the farmhouse near Burlington that the farm hand was apprehended in Kenosha. When Gray was taken into custody he gave as a reason for the killings the alleged mistreatment at the hands of the Boschert family, police said.

"It all started last night at the supper table," said Gray. "Even the hired girl and Herb and Frank were off yesterday afternoon and I had to stay home. I always had to stay home, and yesterday I kicked and they bawled me out good.

"I got up this morning and did the chores and after dinner I went out to the machine shop and got Herb's gun.

Girl Pleads for Life.

"I saw Herb first and I didn't say a thing. I just let him have it.

"The hired girl was in the dining room holding the baby in her arms. She saw me coming with the gun and said: 'O, Frank, don't shoot.'

"I didn't say anything but just let her have it. I guess the one bullet killed both her and the baby.

"Then I went across the road and talked with some fellows on the golf course and went and got the cows. While I was out in the pasture the old man came to the cellar with a basket of apples he had picked up. He saw me coming but he couldn't do a thing. I just let him have it.

"I ain't sorry that I done it. I left the gun on the sofa and got into the car and came to Kenosha."

Killer Changes Story.

Later Gray changed his story about the girl's death.

"I ordered Cele to go into my room," he said, "and with the gun on her she went. I told her to put the baby in the crib. But I didn't attack her."

"Why did you shoot the girl?" the police asked.

"Well, she acted kind of fresh."

Gray admitted he had served 13 months in the state prison in Waupun a number of years ago for a holdup, but said he could not remember just what year. He was employed by the Boscherts last March.

Frank Boschert retired recently and moved to Burlington. He had gone out to visit his son, who was operating the farm, today, and had left his wife in Burlington.

JOBLESS RELIEF IS FEDERAL DUTY: LA FOLLETTE

Wisconsin Senator Will Back Appropriations.

United States Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin passed through Chicago en route to Washington yesterday after participating in a hard fought and successful campaign for the nomination of Thomas Amlie of Elkhorn, progressive Republican, as successor to the late Representative Henry Allen Cooper as congressman.

The junior Wisconsin senator was for the First Wisconsin district, returning to the capital with confidence, he said, that congress this winter will recognize the need for some sort of federal unemployment relief. He announced that he is prepared to support a public works program involving appropriations for building waterways, highways, federal buildings and for land reclamation.

Three Governors Go to Capital.

Aboard the Capitol Limited with Senator La Follette were three northwestern governors, John E. Erickson of Montana, George F. Shafer of North Dakota and Warren Green of South Dakota, bound for Washington to lay before Secretary of Agriculture Hyde their objections to the department of agriculture's present plan for administering the $20,000,000 federal rehabilitation fund. They were to confer with Mr. Hyde this morning.

Discussing federal relief, Senator La Follette professed to see merit in the proposal endorsed by Joshua d'Esposito, consulting engineer of the Chicago Union station, for a three billion dollar loan by the government for electrification of railroad terminals instead of appropriating billions for federal projects of doubtful value.

Asks Time to Study Plan.

"Such a proposition has many ramifications, however," the senator said, "and I would be unwilling to commit myself definitely for it without studying it thoroughly. There is a question whether the railroads want such a loan."

In Senator La Follette's view the dispute over federal relief can be resolved into a single question: Whether the burden shall be borne by real estate taxpayers alone, through expenditures by county and municipal governments; or be shared by income taxpayers through expenditures from the federal treasury.

"Shouting that federal relief constitutes a dole does not alter the situation," he said. "The fact is that millions willing to work cannot find jobs; that county and municipal treasuries carried 78 per cent of the burden of helping the unemployed last year; that state, county, and municipal governments are now carrying more of a load than they can bear. Hence, the federal government must step in."

The mission of the three western governors is to persuade Secretary Hyde to rescind his recent ruling that loans from the rehabilitation fund must be secured by first mortgages on stock and farm property. Many such mortgages are now held by the intermediate credit banks, the governors said, and the treasury department has forbidden the banks to waive their prior liens to permit the farmers to get the new loans offered.

"We will ask Mr. Hyde to change his ruling to permit the farmers to get loans from the rehabilitation fund on second mortgages," said Gov. Erickson. "As it stands now, the treasury and agriculture departments are defeating each other's purpose, with the farmer suffering the consequences."

Stimson Aid in Chicago on Air Trip to the West

Capt. Eugene A. Regnier of Washington, military aid to Secretary of State Stimson, arrived in Chicago from New York yesterday by airplane. He will depart by plane this morning for Los Angeles. Capt. Regnier, who has flown repeatedly on European air routes, said American air service was much farther advanced than that of Europe, both in efficiency and comfort.

Flemish Attack Belgian Vets at Graves of Comrades

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Ten former service men were injured today when a bus carrying a group of them to a celebration of Belgian unity was overturned by Flemish extremists. The extremists later surrounded the graves where the ex-service men were laying wreaths and attacked and beat them.

Robbery Victims to View Body of Slain Bandit

Victims of recent robberies will be taken to the county morgue to view the body of Herbert Ziegler, 22 years old, 2415 West 48th street, who was shot to death late Saturday night by Policeman William McEvoy in the latter's automobile in front of 5100 West Monroe street. Ziegler, who was a paroled convict, and a companion attempted to rob the policeman as the latter was sitting in his car. McEvoy drew his own revolver, shot Ziegler, and routed the second robber. An inquest will be held today.

3 KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHES IN OKLAHOMA

Seminole, Okla., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Falling soon after it had taken off, a plane crashed and burned here today, killing three men. The dead are Jack Whitten, pilot; Eddie Autrey and Harry Moore, both of Seminole.

Whitten, an army flyer during the world war and about 40 years old, was manager of the Wewoka, Okla., airport. Mrs. Whitten saw the crash.

Witnesses at the municipal airport said the plane nose dived from a low altitude. The cause was undetermined.

Leaps Into Propellor; Injured.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Edward Reith was knocked unconscious today by the propellor of his own plane, when he leaped into its whirling arc as another plane taxied into his at Glenn Curtiss airport, North Beach, Queens. His condition is critical.

ON TRIAL AS PARRICIDE.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Stokes Cross, who is charged with killing his father, Luther Cross, will go on trial tomorrow in Circuit court here.

IDENTIFY TWO AS GANGSTERS WHO SHOT 5 CHILDREN

Nine Men, Four Women Seized in Raids.

New York, Oct. 5 [Monday].—[Special.]—Vincent Coll, 23 year old gang leader, who has been sought since last July for the street shooting in which one child was killed and four others wounded, and eight other men and four women were arrested yesterday in a series of raids here and upstate which, the police asserted, brought into custody every member of the youthful racketeer's gang.

Coll and Frankie Giordano, alias Jordan, were identified last night as two of the men whose bullets had killed 5 year old Michael Vengali in East 107th street, the police announced. Giordano and Dominick [Tuffy] Odierno also had been identified as participants in the slaying last Friday of Joseph Mullens, known as a "route man" for the Dutch Schultz beer gang, the police said.

Raid Hideout Near Troy.

The roundup of the Coll gang, to whose bootleg warfare with Schultz and his henchmen the loss of eight lives has been attributed, was completed with a spectacular raid last night on the upstate headquarters of the gang at Averill Park, ten miles southeast of Troy, in which twenty-five shots were fired before New York City detectives, state police, and Rensselaer county deputy sheriffs captured the three men and two women they sought.

The prisoners said they were Mrs. Joseph Redden, reported to be Coll's sister; her husband, described by the authorities as his first lieutenant; Frank Facchiano, William King, and Mrs. Agnes De Lucia. The house in which they were taken was filled with firearms and ammunition, the raiding party reported.

Story of Capture.

Police related the following story of the Averill Park capture:

The house was surrounded. Mrs. De Luccia, who had learned of Coll's arrest while in Troy, was arrested when she neared the place.

She revealed Redden was alone in the house, the others being in Troy. The officers then forced an entrance and were confronted by Redden, who had seized a shotgun. A detective fired but missed, and Redden surrendered.

Rifles, shotguns, and hundreds of rounds of ammunition were seized, and then the lights were put out. The officers ranged themselves about the house to await the rest of the gang.

An auto drew up and King and Mrs. Redden made for the rear door, Facchiano and an 18 year old son of the Reddens entering by the front door. King and Facchiano, without turning on the lights, went to the fireplace and began to stir the embers. As they busied themselves a detective barked, "Throw them up!"

The two men opened fire and an exchange of shots followed in the darkened rooms.

The shooting stopped from lack of ammunition and a detective snapped on the lights. From the back of the house, said police, came Mrs. Redden, swinging a chair, while King and Facchiano also picked up chairs and tried to fight their way to the door. They were quickly clubbed into submission.

Summer Home of Artist.

The Averill Park house was the summer home of William Gillette, an artist, and had been rented by George Hess, known as a lieutenant of Jack [Legs] Diamond, according to Detective Captain Richard Oliver, in command of the New York detectives, who had been keeping watch on the place. Diamond himself has been seen there, he said. In the house the police found two machine guns, as well as a large quantity of small arms.

Those who had been arrested here earlier in the day, in addition to Coll, Odierno, and Giordano, were described as Pasquale De Greco, alias Patsy Dugan, and Mike Basile, alias Mike Coch, Vincent De Lucia and Betty White and Lottie Kreisberger, alias Moran. The last three named were held only as material witnesses.

Traced through the alertness of an unnamed civilian who spotted the license of an automobile as it sped away after the bombing of the Majestic garage in the Bronx early Saturday, and the resourcefulness of Patrolman Thomas Lynch, who found the car in a garage and had a watch placed on it until De Lucia attempid to reclaim it, the roundup followed a day of activity rarely paralleled in the history of the local police department.

Watch Party of 200.

Fifteen detectives were sent out of town on various leads developed as one prisoner after another was arrested in the course of the day, while last night and early this morning fifteen other detectives under Acting Captain John J. Appell kept careful watch at the corner of Broadway and 49th street, apparently on the members of a party of 200 at a nearby restaurant.

Although they searched several persons and questioned others as they left the party, which, it was rumored, was in connection with an attempt to raise funds for counsel for a man now awaiting trial, the detectives made no arrests there.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney, District Attorney Craig, and District Attorney McLaughlin of the Bronx questioned Coll and others of the prisoners for several hours in the Tremont police station in the Bronx late last night and early this morning. Among the crimes they hoped might be solved through the roundup, the police said, was the murder of Roy Sloan, former Columbia student, who once argued his way out of Sing Sing, in a Dyckman street speakeasy.

PACIFIC AIRMEN "RIGHT ON TIME"

Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr., American aviators, had evidently reached the half-way mark of a nonstop Pacific flight yesterday when the radio station on St. Paul's island reported hearing the motor of their plane over False Pass, in the Aleutian islands. The flyers had planned to fly to Dutch Harbor and thence strike out for the coast of British Columbia or Washington. Should all go well, the aviators are expected on this side of the Pacific some time this morning. The plane was on the right course and just about on schedule when heard in the Aleutians.

MORE PROTESTANTS THAN CATHOLICS IN NEW YORK, BY CENSUS

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Reversing the census figures for 1920, which showed more Catholics than Protestants in New York City, the Protestants are now in the lead by 218,219, according to an analysis of the 1930 census for the five boroughs made public today by Dr. Walter Laidlaw, executive secretary of the cities' census committee.

Dr. Laidlaw's compilation, which also shows an increase of 232,612 in New York City's Jewish population from 1920 to 1930, is the result of percentages applied to the thirty or more national groups as appearing in the bulletins issued by the census bureau. The greater part of the large Protestant gain in population, Dr. Laidsaw says, is due to northwestern European increase and the increase of native whites of white parentage.

According to Dr. Laidlaw's figures, the religious composition of New York City's population, as shown by the census in 1910, 1920, and 1930, was as follows:

| | 1910. | 1920. | 1930. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Rom. Catholic | 1,672,618 | 1,943,730 | 2,362,805 |
| East. Orthodx. | 56,764 | 91,458 | 111,096 |
| Jewish | 1,252,135 | 1,643,012 | 1,875,821 |
| Protestant | 1,785,366 | 1,941,847 | 2,581,024 |
| Total | 4,766,883 | 5,620,048 | 6,930,446 |

Thieves yesterday entered the parish house of St. James Episcopal church at 666 Rush street, and rifled the clothing of members of the parish choir. Members of the choir discovered the thefts when they returned from afternoon services to change from their vestments to street clothing. The loss was $38.75.

by reports that the flyers were in the neighborhood of Dutch Harbor, 2,600 miles from the beach from which they roared away Saturday.

Should the flyers strike land north of Vancouver island, depending largely on the weather, it was thought probable they would go inland and follow the valleys into central Washington. Otherwise they would follow the shortest route to the United States directly to Seattle.

If there is a sufficient amount of fuel left after reaching Seattle, the flyers expected to attempt to shatter the nonstop distance record of 5,011 miles set by Russel Boardman and John Polando on their flight from New York to Istanbul. Wenatchee, Wash., home of Pangborn's mother, Boise, Idaho, and Salt Lake City have been mentioned as possible landing places.

Storm warnings have been posted along the Washington coast, and a disturbance was reported off Vancouver island. This might cause the flyers to decide upon the inland route.

If successful they were expected to land in the United States sometime after 5 a. m. tomorrow [2 p. m. C. S. T., Monday]. They would be the first to span the north Pacific in a single flight and eligible for a $25,000 prize offered by the Tokio newspaper Asahi for a nonstop flight from Japan to the United States.

Flyers Land at Skagway.

SKAGWAY, Alaska, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Don Moyle and Cecil A. Allene, California aviators, landed here today at 5 p. m., after they had failed to find a field at Juneau on which they could bring down their plane.

The flyers, who failed recently in a trans-Pacific flight attempt, said they plan to take off tomorrow on an attempted nonstop flight to Tacoma. They hopped from Fairbanks, Alaska, at noon yesterday on a 500 mile trip to Whitehorse, Y. T.

LOST! 22 Lbs. Of FAT

Well Known Battle Creek Woman Jubilant! Reduced Waist Four Inches—Limbs More Shapely—Feels Oh, So Light and Full of Pep!

Suppose you weighed 172 and your mirror constantly reminded you of a double chin, heavy arms and legs, large hips and bust.

And suppose this over-fat condition made you too heavy for your own feet—until you felt constantly all dragged out, stomach upset with gas and indigestion, and you were grouchy and irritable.

And then you tried one thing after another—and you're all ready to give up in despair.

Such was the dilemma of Mrs. Harold Tyler, 291 Elm St., Battle Creek, Mich. She read about Bonkora, the safe, natural way to take off excess poundage by cleansing wastes from the intestines and removing retained moisture, from fatty tissues. But let her tell the story:

"I wanted to reduce badly, for I was far too heavy. I was nervous and irritable. I tried one reducing preparation after another, but got no results. They seemed only to increase my nervousness. Then I tried Bonkora, and the results certainly came fast. I lost 22 pounds of fat and 4 inches of my waist line—from 172 to 150 in a short time, without following any special diet."

You may not want to lose 22 pounds. But if you have excess fat you can lose it in the famous "3 easy stages" as shown in this picture. For the next week, before meals, take a little Bonkora, the new Battle Creek treatment, in half a glass of water. No need to starve. Eat as much as you want. The big secret is selecting for each meal the proper combination of foods that do not clog the system and turn to fat. An almost endless choice of appealing dishes, showing how to select the correct combination of foods you probably like best, furnished free.

Bonkora, the safe and effective method to reduce—recently perfected by a skilled chemist—contains only the choicest and most efficacious medicaments of Nature. No thyroid or other drug that may jeopardize your health.

Simply get a bottle of Bonkora, the new Battle Creek treatment, with free list of anti-fat food combinations, at Walgreen's today—unhealthy fat will quickly disappear and with it bloat, gas, and other stomach ills. You'll feel younger; yes, you'll look younger, with those bright eyes and that clear skin and stunning, youthful figure which only perfect health can impart.

TREASURER OF CONCERN SLAIN BY INVESTOR

Gunplay Ends Argument Over Promised Pay.

In a dispute over an investment and a wage contract, Robin Ross, 31 years old 417 South Parkside avenue, treasurer of the United Broiler company, a poultry supply house, was shot five times and fatally wounded yesterday by August Thonka, 44 years old, 1925 Warren avenue, an employé of the company.

AUGUST THONKA.

The shooting occurred in one of the concern's six hatcheries, at 4435 Kinzie street. Ross was taken to the Garfield Park hospital, where he died early this morning. He was accompanied to the hospital by David Street, 829 Eastwood avenue, general manager of the company, who witnessed the shooting. Thonka, making no effort to flee, awaited the arrival of a Fillmore police squad and surrendered to Lieut. Thomas Duffy.

Tells of His Investment.

The prisoner made a statement declaring that he recently had been persuaded to invest $1,000 in the company on a promise to receive a $30 monthly dividend for three years as well as a job paying from $30 to $75 a week, depending on his efficiency. So far he has received neither salary nor dividends, Thonka said.

Last week representatives of the concern approached him with a proposition to invest an additional $500, Thonka said. He refused and at the same time resolved to demand redemption of their promises by the company officials at the earliest opportunity.

Yesterday forenoon, Thonka went as his wife found no provisions in the pantry for a Sunday dinner. Thereupon Thonka decided to call at the hatchery and demand a pair of broilers for the meal, at the same time resolving to confront the officials if he found them.

Thonka Demands His Wages.

He arrived to find Ross and Street in conference with a third official. He demanded his wages of Ross. The treasurer, according to Thonka's statement, made a gesture towards his hip pocket and ordered Thonka to "stick 'em up." Thonka then drew his gun and fired. Ross, the police learned, was unarmed.

The poultry concern maintains sales offices at 35 East Wacker drive. Records of the Municipal court show that a month ago a young man appeared before Judge Joseph A. Graber complaining that he had invested $1,000 in the concern on the same representations Thonka avers he was given. The complainant said he had received neither dividends nor wages and had finally been discharged for "inefficiency."

CHINESE SHOT; RENEW PROTEST AGAINST GANGS

Two hundred Chinese business men met at 225 West 22d street last night and drafted resolutions calling upon Mayor Cermak and the police to give Chinese residents of the city protection against hoodlums.

The resolution was the result of the shooting yesterday morning of a Chinese, supposedly by hoodlums, who, according to the Chinese business men, have been annoying and attacking Chicago Chinese for several months.

The meeting last night, presided over by C. W. Yen, president of the Chinese Benevolent association, was the second in the last two weeks. At the first meeting a protest letter was drafted and sent to the mayor asking protection against hoodlums.

The victim yesterday morning was Goon Wah, 211 Alexander street, an employé of the Canton tea gardens, 404 South Wabash avenue. He was shot by one of three men at Wentworth avenue and Alexander street. At the county hospital his condition was said to be serious.

COLLECT FUNDS TO FIGHT RACKETS; IT'S JUST A RACKET, TOO

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—A racket which consisted of tricking New York business men into contributing funds to a fake league for the suppression of gang supremacy and racketeering was exposed today with the arrest of two men charged with being ringleaders in the fraud.

The letter head of the fake league listed the names of former Police Commissioner Grover Whalen, United States Attorney George E. Medalie, August Heckscher, John Barry Ryan, and George L. Harrison, governor of the federal reserve bank.

The prisoners, Stafford Krone, 42, of West 64th street, and Charles W. Mott, 32, of Bayside, Queens, were accused of obtaining $500 from J. E. Aldred, head of a brokerage firm of that name at 40 Wall street, by fraudulent use of Harrison's name.

CONTACT MAN IN $200,000 KIDNAP PLOT IS SLAIN

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The kidnaping of Leon Gleckman, St. Paul politician and finance company head, had its aftermath today in death and the arrest of four men, who, Police Chief Thomas A. Brown said, confessed the abduction.

Fears that their contact man would "squeal" on them, Chief Brown said, prompted the four who kidnaped Gleckman for $200,000 ransom and got only $6,400 to take Frank La Pre for a ride last night.

Several hours later about 40 men and women were in jail, including the four Brown later said confessed the kidnaping. One, Sam Cimin, who has served time for violating the prohibition law, he accused of doing the actual slaying.

TWO ARE KILLED AS AUTO UPSETS ON HOLIDAY TRIP

Car Turns Over at Sharp Curve in Highway.

Two men, speeding back to Chicago after a holiday at Fox lake, lost their lives yesterday when their car overturned on a sharp curve at Wedge's Corners, ten miles west of Waukegan.

Stanley Migala, 30 years old, 1308 Chapin street, who was hurled clear of the car, died of a fractured skull on the way to St. Theresa's hospital in Waukegan. Harvey Eckert, 23 years old, 2020 West Harrison street, died in the hospital a short time later of a similar injury. He was pinned in the wreckage.

Girl, 8, Killed by Truck.

Evelyn Cierut, 8 years old, 3006 West 47th street, died late yesterday in the German Deaconess hospital of injuries received four hours earlier when she was struck by a truck as she played in the street in front of her home. Fay Blackman, 47 years old, of Morris, Ill., was the driver.

This death and three others increased the Cook county auto toll since Jan. 1 to 940. The victims:

Fred Nebel, 67 years old, a farmer, of Palatine. Died in the Mount Prospect hospital of injuries received on Saturday in a collision of two autos north of Park Ridge, in which Mrs. Margaret Murphy, a bride of a week, was killed.

Walter Naden, 55 years old, 2456 West Monroe street. Died in the county hospital of injuries received on Saturday when he was struck by a truck in front of 1719 West Lake street.

John McAvoy, 40 years old, 6059 South Troy street. Died in the county hospital of injuries received Saturday night at 44th street and Ashland avenue when he stepped from the curb into the path of a car driven by Dennis Medow, 5646 South Halsted street.

Mrs. Kay O'Hare Injured.

Mrs. Kay O'Hare of the St. Clair hotel, wife of Husk O'Hare, orchestra leader, sustained minor injuries yesterday when the automobile of Dr. A. G. Berger, 633 Deming place, in which she was riding with the physician and his wife, was crowded by another car against an abutment under the railroad viaduct crossing Michigan avenue near 16th street.

Barney Leo, county highway policeman, received a broken leg yesterday when a motorist sideswiped his motorcycle as he was chasing a speeder on Cottage Grove near Ridge road. The motorist, Walter Jackson, 22 Webb street, Hammond, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

FACTOR TO TAKE STAND IN OWN DEFENSE TODAY

John [Jake the Barber] Factor, who fifteen years ago ran a barber shop in South Halsted street, is expected to take the witness stand today before United States Commissioner Walker to deny the charge that he swindled English investors out of $7,000,000. Factor is fighting extradition to England.

In building his defense, Factor's counsel last week placed Maj. Harry Brian Pearson of London on the witness stand. He testified that he had examined ores taken from the Rhodesia and Vulcan mining properties, the two mines involved in Factor's alleged swindle, and found these ores contained a high percentage of copper.

A ruling on whether Factor must return to England for trial is expected some time this month.

Rob Lodge of $613 While 60 Members Talk in Hall

Sixty members of the Hungarian Rozoki lodge, who had dropped into the lodgeroom at 755 West North avenue yesterday afternoon to pay their dues, stayed over for conversation. The talk was so constant and so loud that when the treasurer, Frank Papp of 618 Willow street, called for help in the washroom no one heard him. So the two robbers, who had taken $613 of the lodge funds from him, locked him up and walked through the hall without interruption.

Gunmen Terrorize Patrons of Restaurant, Seize $200

Five armed men entered a restaurant on the second floor at 1326 West Madison street last night, terrorized a number of customers and forced the cashier, John Poulos of 1361 West Washington boulevard, to surrender $200 from the cash register.

CHICAGO'S AUTO DEATH RATE 45TH AMONG 82 CITIES

Statistics Revealed by Bundesen.

Among 82 large cities reporting automobile accident mortality figures, Chicago ranks forty-fifth for the year ended Sept. 5, according to statistics issued yesterday by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, coroner and health commissioner.

The Chicago rate for that period was 27 deaths per 100,000 population. The average rate of 82 cities was 25.6. For the year ended on Sept. 6, 1930, the Chicago rate was 23.9, which was below the average of 25.3 of all cities for the same period.

Camden, N. J., showed the highest death rate of all for the year ended Sept. 5, 1931. Its rate of 55.1 showed an increase of 23 per cent over the previous year. The Camden rate for the year ended Sept. 6, 1930, was 69.2.

9,098 Killed in Year.

The total number of automobile deaths for the 82 cities for the year ended Sept. 5, 1931, was 9,098, as compared with 8,351 for the year ended Sept. 6, 1930. The increase of 257 deaths is 3 per cent.

"Statistics show," said Dr. Bundesen, "that when prevention work is carried on continuously, when the public is daily reminded and admonished to exercise caution in driving, and automobiles are inspected for defects, the death rate is materially decreased or maintained at a fairly low average."

Auto Death Rates Shown.

The death rate per 100,000 population for the year ended Sept. 5, 1931, for some of the 82 cities is as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Camden | 55.1 | Salt Lake City | 31.6 |
| Miami | 50.8 | Duluth | 31.5 |
| Columbus | 44.8 | Houston | 30.7 |
| Toledo | 41.4 | Louisville | 30.6 |
| Youngstown | 40.6 | Oklahoma City | 30.6 |
| San Diego | 40.4 | Birmingham | 30.5 |
| Pittsburgh | 35.6 | Peoria | 29.6 |
| Los Angeles | 35.3 | Flint | 29.2 |
| Kansas City, Mo. | 34.1 | Cleveland | 28.6 |
| Atlanta | 34.0 | Cincinnati | 28.5 |
| Memphis | 33.7 | Indianapolis | 27.6 |
| Washington, D. C. | 32.8 | Chicago | 27.0 |

Among the cities listed Flint, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Salt Lake City, and Oklahoma City showed a reduction in the number of auto fatalities in comparison with the year ended Sept. 6, 1930.

Oklahoma City showed the largest decrease of any of the cities, having reduced its rate from 50.8 to 30.6 or 39 per cent. During the four weeks ended Sept. 5, 1931, the 82 cities reported 656 deaths. The total for the same period of 1930 was 674.

Now Let Us Make Your Teeth 3 Shades Whiter in 3 Days!

New Technique Removes Yellow and Stain—Impossible with Ordinary Brushing

LOOK at your teeth. What do you see? Ugliness? Stain? Discoloration that is not pleasant to look at? Science has discovered a simple technique that quickly removes all off-color, cleans teeth dazzling white—3 shades whiter in 3 days—and helps to keep away decay.

This technique, while having 2 to 3 times the cleansing power of old-fashioned methods, does what no ordinary toothpaste can do. It rids the mouth of millions of germs that sweep in with every breath and cause most tooth and gum troubles. That's the reason it makes teeth so clean and white—even teeth that have been yellow for years!

Just start brushing your teeth with this new technique—a half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush, twice a day. Instantly you'll discover a difference. For when Kolynos enters the mouth it becomes an active, exhilarating foam that cleans out every pit, fissure and crevice and leaves the mouth refreshed.

According to tests this amazing Kolynos foam kills 190 million germs in the first 15 seconds and inhibits their growth for 3 full hours. It washes away ugly tartar and yellow, and stimulates the gum tissue.

Thus, easily and quickly teeth are cleaned right down to the beautiful, natural white enamel without injury. They are kept sound.

Start using this Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique. In just 3 days you'll see how foolish it is to have dull, yellow teeth. Teeth will look whiter—3 shades whiter. Gums will feel firmer. Your mouth will feel clean and refreshed. Buy a tube of Kolynos.

STATE WAGE ACT CONTRACTS MAY BE HELD INVALID

Report Carlstrom Likely to Give Opinion.

BY HAL FOUST.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Attorney General Carlstrom, according to reports here, may deliver an opinion this week holding that all contracts awarded under the prevailing wage act are invalid and that bids pending are worthless.

In that event construction probably will be halted on $4,635,000 worth of state road work which has been started since the wage law went into effect on July 1. This includes $2,037,500 worth of projects in the metropolitan area.

The award of $32,534,000 worth of contracts, planned by the state highway department for late this fall and this winter, in all likelihood will be delayed pending a decision from the Illinois Supreme court. The Circuit court of Sangamon county two weeks ago held the wage act was unconstitutional, and this ruling is being appealed.

Decision Binding Now?

The attorney general's opinion, it is said, will hold that the decision of the Circuit court is bindjng until and unless it is reversed by the high tribunal. The highway administration, however, had not anticipated that contracts awarded before the court suit was started would be declared invalid. Nor had contractors anticipated such a ruling.

"I cannot predict what we will do until after I have studied the attorney general's opinion," said State Highway Engineer Sheets. "However, I can foresee further delays in public construction at a time when the road work should be relieving unemployment. Also I can foresee considerable confusion over the contracts which have been awarded and now declared invalid.

How to Pay, One Problem.

"Many contractors have made appreciable progress on work awarded under the prevailing wage act. There is a question of how they can be paid for this. I am also anxious to learn from the attorney general's opinion who is liable for this work.

"As far as the delay on new contracts is concerned, the seriousness of this will depend upon how soon the Supreme court will rule on the appeal. We hope that the court will consider the case of urgent importance to public welfare and deliver a decision this month. Without this special consideration, an opinion would not be handed down until February, which would deprive 3,250 men of work on the roads this winter, deprive 7,000 men of labor in preparing material and supplies, and delay the employment of 24,380 men on the roads next spring."

The state has bids pending on $3,554,596 worth of road work and is ready to advertise for contracts totaling $3,827,863. These projects were to have furnished employment to 5,256 men until cold weather. In view of the attorney general's opinion, the award of these contracts will be delayed until after the Supreme court rules.

May Call on Legislature.

In the event that the Supreme court does not rule at this term, there is discussion of having the special session of legislature clarify the situation so that public construction can proceed this winter. Legislative action may be necessary, it was said, not only to relieve unemployment this winter but also to untangle the invalid contracts. Gov. Emmerson is away on a fishing trip.

While perhaps the largest class of public construction effected by the attorney general's opinion is the state highway program, it covers all construction contracts awarded by the state and its political units, the building of school houses, sanitation plants, park buildings, city street work and so forth.

The prevailing wage act, sponsored by organized labor and by a group of contractors, provides that labor on public construction shall work no longer than eight hours and that the scale of wages shall be no less than the rates prevailing for work of a similar nature in the vicinity of the projects. Difficulties in administering the law delayed construction from four to six weeks this summer and now litigation is causing further delay.

British Premier Wins Support of Miners in Own District

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Repudiated by the Labor party of Seaham Harbor, his own constituency, last Friday, Prime Minister MacDonald today won the backing of two branches of the party. The Murton Miners' lodge and the Murton branch of the Labor party, both affiliated with Seaham division, have decided to nominate him as the Labor candidate for the Seaham division for the general elections.

The prime minister, who represents the Seaham division in parliament, personally defended his action in forming a national government before his constituents last week. Despite his plea a resolution calling upon him to resign from the party was passed by a vote of 40 to 39.

At the time Mr. MacDonald informed the Murton branch of the Labor party that he would accept its nomination if they so decided.

Two Parties Split Open.

What is expected will be the last week of the present parliament opens in complete confusion politically. Both the Liberal and Labor parties are split wide open.

Following the Liberal party's declaration yesterday that it would not support a protective tariff policy came the announcement by Sir John Simon, Liberal, of his intention to form a new party which will support the national government. It will probably be known as the "National Liberals."

The official Liberal party tonight issued a statement severely criticizing Sir John. It declared he will not receive a fraction of support from any section of the party. It is believed, however, that Sir John will be able to carry at least 25 Liberal members with him into the new party.

War Within Labor Party.

Meanwhile the Independent Labor party, at a demonstration at Scarborough, where the national Labor party executive meets tomorrow, declared war tonight on the latter's authority. Fenner Brockway, chairman, said:

"The Independent Labor party will resist to the last any attempt to make it accept the present intolerable rules of discipline. Independent Labor candidates will go forth in the coming election unendorsed rather than to accept the standing orders of the Labor party bosses, headed by Arthur Henderson."

Mr. MacDonald is expected to announce the dissolution of parliament either Tuesday or Wednesday, and a general election to take place before the end of the month.

BUT ONE GIRL OF 750 FRESHMEN PLANS TO MARRY

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Of the 750 freshmen entering Hunter college this year only one announced an intention to marry in making out a response to a general questionnaire. The majority of them hope to teach while others will turn to law, medicine, journalism, nursing, farming and dog breeding, as suitable fields in which to seek their own careers. Many of the girls expect to start working while still in college. At least 130 members of the new class are already supporting themselves by teaching piano or violin, by general tutoring, clerical work, selling or aiding in recreation centers, while 300 more say that they intend to find part time jobs to help pay expenses and acquire working experience.

Saved from Death by Auto Gas by Inhalator Squad

Herman M. Horwitz, 53 years old, 2246 Ridge avenue, Evanston, was saved from death by asphyxiation yesterday after he had been overcome by fumes from a truck motor he was testing in a garage near his home, when a neighbor looked through the garage window and saw him unconscious on the floor. An inhalator squad worked over him for an hour before reviving him, and sent him to St. Francis hospital. He is a partner in a wholesale silk concern at 209 South State street.

ASKS AUTO CLUB WORKERS TO TELL CHICAGO'S STORY

Mayor Cermak, in an address yesterday before an annual meeting of Chicago Motor club employés, assigned to that organization a share in the duty of educating Chicagoans to know, to appreciate, and to love their city.

"Those who know Chicago love this city," said the mayor. "But the average Chicagoan doesn't learn much about his city until some out of town visitor leads him around to the places of interest and of beauty."

Charles M. Hayes, president, told of the club's activities in protecting the interests of the motoring public and of the organization's efforts to improve traffic facilities.

"We are now campaigning for the construction of an elevated highway from the loop westward to the perimeter of the built-up area," Mr. Hayes said. "The motor club feels that this is every bit as important as the campaign, now bearing fruit, for wider highways and for grade separations.

"The benefits of a fast and safe boulevard from the open country to the heart of the city will be enjoyed by all Chicagoland. I want every employé of this organization to familiarize himself with this project and to work for its realization."

2 Youths in Stolen Car Shot by Pursuing Police

WONDER IF NAVY STATIONS, ARMY POSTS ARE TO GO

Economy Program May Be Excuse for Action.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Whether President Hoover will take advantage of the opportunity offered by the business depression to trim the pork from the huge surplus navy shore establishment and the army's valueless posts and forts is a question that is puzzling service officials as well as congressmen from the affected districts.

Faced by the necessity of economy in operating the federal government, if big deficits are to be avoided in the future, President Hoover today is in a better position to actually push through orders closing old Indian posts, frontier forts and other surplus army and navy properties than any predecessor in recent times.

With the whole nation anxious to avoid a tax increase to balance future budgets, many Washington observers believe that a move to slash from the public pay roll many of the army and navy's surplus properties would have sufficient popular approval to defeat log rolling efforts from affected states.

See Saving of Millions.

Exhaustive surveys concluded by the heads of the army and navy establishments have disclosed that ultimately millions of dollars could be saved simply by abandoning posts no longer needed for military purposes and navy shore properties rendered useless by the reduction of the American fleet following first the Washington and later the London naval limitation conferences.

While army and naval officers refuse to make estimates of possible savings, checkups on actual navy and army needs and actual expenditures indicate that $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 could be saved through slashing surplus properties. These savings would be effected through cutting down the cost of maintaining the services, through averting demands for additional building at old forts, posts, yards and stations and by cutting down the necessity for maintaining so large a per cent of the enlisted navy personnel ashore.

Repeatedly moves have been made to place yards at Boston, Charleston, S. C., either New York or Philadelphia and Portsmouth, Me., on an inoperative status but all have failed. On the four yards, not including Philadelphia and the Newport naval training station, upward of $25,000,000 in appropriations is expended annually. The naval shore establishment today is larger than before the Washington conference, having cost more than 400 millions.

Ask Money Each Session.

Maintenance of this establishment requires additional enlisted men, additional civilian aids, and affords an opportunity at each session of congress for congressmen to ask for new construction or funds for repairs. Similar conditions exist in the army.

To date the army's current program for closing army posts has been hardly half way completed due to political opposition which grew so strong that Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley ordered the abandonment operations suspended at four points until his return from the Philippines. Posts slated for closing but which are still operating are Fort Lincoln, N. D.; Fort Missoula, Mont.; Fort Brown, Tex., and Fort D. A. R. Russell, Tex.

Within the next few days Secretary Adams will present to President Hoover a plan for carrying out the White House demand for slashing expenditures during 1933 by $61,000,000 below the navy's budget estimate of its needs. Unless he departs from the present navy plan the program will include recommendations for curtailing activities at several points along the Atlantic shore.

Hunt Indiana Convict Who Strolled Out of Prison

Warden Walter H. Daly of the Indiana state penitentiary in Michigan City yesterday asked the Chicago police to search for Thomas Chappell, colored convict, who was serving a life sentence for murder, and who walked out of the prison Saturday night. Campbell, who had served eight years, was a "trusty" in the warden's home. The residence, which is outside the prison walls, is practically unguarded.

NAVY RUSHES TO START SHIPS AS HOLIDAY LOOMS

May Except Destroyers in Any Agreement.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Pending announcement by the Hoover administration of official American participation in the voluntary naval holiday plan recommended by the arms truce committee of the league of nations, navy department officials are expediting the laying down of keels on all warships now contracted for.

Within the last few days the keel of the new aircraft carrier Ranger was laid and preparations are now under way to lay down two submarines, on which work has started, but whose keels have not been laid. Contractors who competed successfully in the recent awarding of contracts for five destroyers also have been directed to hurry up their operations so that the keels officially will be laid by not later than Nov. 1.

Hangar Contract Awarded.

Just a few days ago the contract for construction of the huge airship base at Sunnyvale on the Pacific coast was hastily awarded so that the contractors would be well started on the big hangars before any new economy move in connection with the naval holiday threatened to stop this piece of navy construction. Work on the ZR-5, sister ship of the Akron, will begin within the next two weeks, so it will be under way by Nov. 1, unless White House orders postpone building of this ship.

The reason for haste is found in the fact that it is probable the nations, in event a holiday is proclaimed on Nov. 1, will except vessels whose keels are already laid down.

Destroyer Policy Reversed.

It was learned today that the administration took steps just a week before the destroyer program was scuttled to expedite the laying of the keels on all eleven destroyers.

Another development that served to complicate this situation came when Hugh Wilson, American minister to Geneva, told the league committee that this government wished to except the eleven destroyers from the proposed holiday. Before this news had been printed more than 48 hours, the White House order allowing five destroyers to be built and canceling six was given out.

It is expected the holiday will except seven 8 inch gun cruisers, one aircraft carrier, three submarines and five destroyers, all vessels on which some work will be done. It will prevent the laying down of one 13,800 ton aircraft carrier, six submarines, one flying deck cruiser, one ordinary 6 inch gun cruiser, a destroyer leader and an undetermined number of destroyers.

GAS BLAST IN LUNCH CAR.

An explosion of gas which had escaped from a leaking pipe smashed windows and dishes yesterday in a lunch wagon at 6552 South Western avenue. No one was in the car at the time.

ONE-SIXTEENTH FOR CHICAGO.

The state highway engineer has announced that he will let $32,000,000 in road contracts before spring. Chicago is to get only $2,000,000 worth of the roads to be built.

The engineer estimates that the contracts will give jobs to 2,000 or 2,500 men this winter and 24,000 next spring and summer. That means 200 of Chicago's unemployed will find work this winter and not more than 1,500 next spring and summer. The rest of the benefits will be distributed downstate.

This distribution is made in spite of the fact that unemployment is more prevalent in Chicago than it is downstate; that unemployment in the cities causes vastly more suffering to the individual and his family than it does in the country or in the smaller communities; that the need for highways in the city is greater than the need for improved roads anywhere else in the state; and, finally, in face of the fact that Chicago contributes 44.6 per cent of the money which the state spends on road construction. That is the state's own calculation. As a matter of fact, the Chicago contribution is probably considerably more than half of the total.

Every one who drives an automobile knows that the downstate counties with few exceptions are in no pressing need of road improvements. Every one knows that money has been squandered on many highways which are of benefit to few except the rural gentry past whose acres they run. Every one knows that lives are being sacrificed every day in Chicago and motorists are being subjected to costly delays for lack of elevated highways and grade separations. Nevertheless the state administration is spending only one-sixteenth of its road budget in Chicago.

It is difficult to believe that any one in a position of responsibility has made this apportionment. The injustice is too obvious. The deal is too raw. Its political consequences in solidifying opposition are too apparent. The probability that Chicago's indignation will be reflected at the polls is too great.

Illinois needs an elevated highway in Chicago built along the Austin-Kinzie route. The road would provide work this winter. As many as 20,000 men might find employment on it. No other highway project in the state will serve so useful a purpose in relieving traffic congestion and saving human lives. The refusal to call a special session of the legislature to authorize this construction is an evidence of indifference to suffering and need which the citizens can neither forgive nor forget.

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT.

Americans are thinking a good deal of their losses these days, chiefly their losses in money. Perhaps they might better be thinking of some immaterial things they have lost or, we prefer to think, mislaid. What has become of the old fashioned American of whom Rudyard Kipling wrote in 1894, in his once resounding poem, "The American Spirit Speaks"?

> But, while Reproof around him rings,
> He turns a keen untroubled face
> Home to the instant need of things.
> Enslaved, illogical, elate,
> He greets the embarrassed Gods, nor fears
> To shake the iron hand of Fate
> Or match with Destiny for beers.
> So, imperturbable, he rules
> Unkempt, disreputable, vast—
> And, in the teeth of all the schools,
> I, I shall save him at the last!

No one has laid a heavier hand upon American faults than Kipling, but he could go beneath them and beyond them to the spirit which, "in the teeth of all the schools," shall save the American at the last. Where is that faith among us today, lost or mislaid?

WHEN WE GO RUSSIAN.

When Lenin took over the democratic revolution in Russia, closed the incident of representative government, chased out or killed all the moderates and established the dictatorship, he and the Reds did not declare their objection to czarism but to popular government. The particular phase of czarism which Russia had was undesirable, but all the communists wanted was a transfer of authority from Romanoff to Red. That is what Russia got.

Lenin was wise and his successors have been wise. They knew that the plan of the Red revolution was antagonistic to any form of free government. It being the effort of an autocracy, democracy was its enemy. In a democracy the people would be too independent to submit to the coercive measures. Their government would be too weak to attempt the coercion.

When western democrats admire what they regard as wise in the government of Stalin and the administration of the five year plan they appear to ignore the fact that they and their democracy could not exist in conjunction with the ideas they consider prophetic and desirable in Russia.

Imitation of Russian planning would begin with the shutting of the precinct polling place, the abolition of manhood suffrage, the closing of legislatures, the suspension, permanently, of representative government, the regimenting of the population for orders and the creation of just what the Reds candidly call it, the dictatorship. When the American liberal minded have things prepared for this we'll take up the rest of the program.

SCHOOL BOARD ALIBIS.

The teachers of the city schools who have had no pay since April are not good soil for the seeds of buncombe which the school board holdovers are trying to cultivate in the public mind. The board is still controlled by a majority that has accomplished nothing for the teachers and is not prolonging its control for any such purpose, but only to retain as long as possible the means of postponing a full accounting of their mismanagement and of perpetuating the conditions which brought the school teachers and the school system into their present predicament.

This is a situation involving not only the teachers but the whole community. It represents the hangover of a régime which not only demoralized the schools but the whole machinery of our municipal affairs, wasting through graft and incompetence the money of the taxpayers on a ruinous scale and producing a condition which has destroyed values throughout the city and which afflicts every inhabitant.

The school teachers are exhibiting a self-control and regard for public service which are worthy of the greatest praise, and the attempt to befuddle them is as offensive as it is futile. The holdover board is the discredited survivor of a régime with few if any equals in the records of misgovernment and it is hanging to the wreckage it has helped to make only by the technicalities of existing law. It has no standing in public confidence, and self-respect would long ago have brought about its self-retirement.

TOM PAINE AND THE HALL OF FAME.

A protest against the exclusion of Tom Paine from the Hall of Fame at New York university had a reply from the director of the hall, Robert Underwood Johnson, that no one in the university has any voice in the selection of the hall's inmates. The selection is made by a college of electors, being a distinguished and widely dispersed organization of citizens who have given thirty-six votes to Paine, more than half enough to elect him, and consequently are not wholly devoid of appreciation of his genius and his contributions to the American cause. In spite of the distinguished and dispersed character of the college of electors Paine may yet arrive in the Hall of Fame.

Distinguished persons, it must be admitted, may shy away from Paine, particularly if they are associated in anything so cockalorum as the college of electors of a hall of fame. Properly a hall of fame might be considered as complete when the electors had assembled and its purpose served when they had checked their hats, crossed their legs and peaked their fingers together at a Gothic point indicating contemplation and self-respect.

Tom Paine would not have the confidence of such a gathering. He would be of questionable gentility, an eccentric nonconformist, a deist if not an atheist, and the most remarkable revolutionist who ever lived, cheering American soldiers to new determination in desperation and counseling French parliamentarians, as one of them, to moderation, a man of three countries. In America he was one of the foremost influences of the revolution, a pamphleteer with a soldier's courage, ranking in the first flight with Washington, Sam Adams, Jefferson, John Adams, Nathanael Greene, and Benjamin Franklin. If the son of a Scotch gardener can make the United States naval academy at Annapolis, the son of an English staymaker might make the Hall of Fame at the University of New York, but Paine himself might feel that in no case was it within the power of the college of electors of the Hall of Fame to enhance by electing or to detract by passing by.

TEST FOR KELLOGG TREATY.

[The Rock Island Argus.]

Hostilities developing between Japan and China will give the Kellogg peace treaties for the abandonment of war as a national policy the acid test. Both Japan and China are signatories, and yet the Japanese are seizing Manchuria because of China's demoralized state. The league of nations, backed as it is by our state department, will also be put to the test. Japan, it is said, will accept a Chinese proposal to organize a commission to settle the controversy in Manchuria, one condition of which is that Japanese troops be withdrawn from occupied districts. In a time of severe floods over vast Chinese areas Japan took advantage of that situation and placed a large part of Manchuria under its flag. The rebel Canton government is coöperating with President Chang, representing the national government, against Japanese aggression. As Japan holds six railroads in Manchuria, Russia may become involved if the Japanese troops occupy Harbin, as Russia owns the railway extending to the south.

It is anticipated that the final result of the present controversy will be to the disadvantage of China. The sudden occupation of territory belonging to a nation which has been greatly weakened by flood and rebellion, and which is but poorly prepared to take an aggressive stand, should teach our American pacifists something, but it probably won't. The outcome of the trouble between China and Japan will help to crystallize public opinion about the real value of the Kellogg peace treaties and the efficiency of the league of nations. America would do well to put its trust in a strong army and navy in preference to scraps of paper, in case war ever looms. Other nations will respect us the more if we have the means of national defense. That is far more efficacious than the signature of our government to a treaty. Most of the nations of Europe signed the Kellogg peace pact and yet Europe has every appearance of an armed camp. America, made defenseless by pacifist actitivities, would stand as little chance as China in the face of a powerful foe.

Jimmy—Fine! How?

Suitor—Get me a lock of your sister's hair.

Jimmy—If you'll give me 50 cents I'll get you the whole wig.—Hummel, Hamburg.

THE CASE OF PRESIDENT GARFIELD.

A CORRESPONDENT wishes to know why the surgeons were so badly mistaken in the case of President Garfield, who died fifty years ago, and whose last illness is receiving some newspaper notice just now. Incidentally, he asks why they issued misleading bulletins during the course of the illness.

President Garfield was shot on July 2 and died from his wounds on Sept. 19, 1881. The principal wound was one due to a bullet which struck him in the back about four inches to the right of the middle line and near the lower ribs. This bullet hit the eleventh rib, shattering it, was deflected, hit the twelfth rib, penetrated the bodies of two vertebrae, injuring one rather badly. In its course it nicked the splenic artery, without severing it, went across the top of the kidney without injuring that organ, kept outside of the peritoneal cavity, and came to rest in the heavy muscles of the back.

In this course not one single important organ was wounded, and under present day methods the wound should not have caused serious trouble. Death was due to what is commonly known as blood poisoning, though the immediate cause was hemorrhage from the injured artery. Three weeks after the injury evidence of sepsis developed. In the course of the next two months pus was evacuated from several pockets in the back, from the parotid gland, and from small boils in the skin. At the autopsy other collections of pus were located.

I am very certain the correspondent has an exaggerated idea as to the mistakes of the surgeons. Complete detailed reports of the case were made in the New York Medical Record soon after the President's death, and the surgeons debated the question at length of the correctness of the treatment. The subject again came up for extended discussion in the Journal of the American Medical Association in 1901, subsequent to the death of President McKinley. The consensus was that the surgeons in attendance did about the best that could be done in the state of science in 1881.

In such a case occurring at the present time X-rays in several directions would have been taken. Those would have shown the shattered ribs, the injured vertebrae, and the location of the bullet. Certainly an operation would have been done to remove the fragments of bone. An opening would be made that would permit of free drainage and, incidental thereto, the bullet would be removed. As a part of the procedure, bismuth or some other similar substance would be injected into the track of the bullet and into the pus sac, whereupon X-ray pictures would show how drainage should be done.

Had there been no collections of pus near the injured artery the chance is good that it would not have ruptured. Had present day treatment been used in President Garfield's case, blood poisoning should not have occurred. But that does not mean that the surgeons were guilty of serious errors in view of the limitations of that day.

TO STOP LISPING.

H. M. writes: 1. What causes lisping? 2. Is it curable? If so, how? 3. Can an adult be cured?

REPLY.

1. Using the speech organs the wrong way.
2. Yes. By training in the use of the speaking apparatus.
3. Yes. But the longer one has spoken the wrong way, the longer he must persist in training.

SMOKER'S HEART.

C. G. writes: What is smoker's heart? Can it be cured?

REPLY.

Smoker's heart is one form of nervous or irritable heart. The only treatment required is to stop the use of tobacco. If this is done cure follows without treatment. If the excessive use of tobacco is continued treatment is ineffective.

THEIR BIRTHRIGHT.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—[Friend of the People.]—A and B are two boys born in the United States of English parents. The family moved to Canada when A was 3 and B was 1 year old. The family lived in Canada until A was 21 years old. Both boys returned to the United States when A was 21, and they have lived here eight years. Both claim that they are American citizens, though they have not taken out any papers. They say it is their birthright. Is this correct? S. M. W.

Yes, unless they have taken steps to divest themselves of their birthright.

H. L. ROETHE,
Acting district director,
U. S. department of labor.

SHOULD FILE CLAIM.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I sold my furniture to a married couple on promissory notes. After the husband's death the widow sold the furniture without notifying me. The sum of half the original amount is still due me, and it has been ten months since the last payment was made. 2. Will appreciate your advice as to procedure. F. N.

1. We assume that you took no chattel mortgage and that it was not a conditional sale.
2. If he left assets you should employ an attorney to see that the estate is probated and your claim filed.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WAIT UNTIL YOU SELL.

Forest Park, Ill., Sept. 29.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Nineteen years ago a loan of $300 was made for a period of two years. The loan was paid off in said time. A month ago in looking over our property deed in the recorder's office we found out that there was a loan of $300 against the property. They notified us to get a release deed in order to have this taken off the books. We cannot find the paid receipt. The party who loaned the money left town. Kindly advise me how to proceed. If attorney is hired what would the approximate fee amount to? G. N.

We advise you to wait until you are ready to sell the property. At that time one of the parties will presumably employ an attorney and such attorney will draw up an affidavit which will clear up such difficulties. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

THE PAYLESS TEACHERS booed good Mr. Trustee Savage when he tried to explain that the scrip the Board of Education has offered them is the same as real money. It's the imagination that is lacking, Mr. Savage. For instance, Mr. Savage, on Thanksgiving day you do not need to have a nice, fat baked turkey on the table, flanked with cranberry sauce, scalloped oysters, celery, and all that sort of thing. Just put a ten cent hunk of bologna on the platter and imagine it is a roast turkey. Then go ahead and imagine the cranberry sauce, the scalloped oysters, the celery, and the rest of things. To you, Mr. Savage, with the imagination that is able to look upon scrip as real money, it should be very easy to regard the ten cent hunk of bologna as a real turkey. And after you do that the imagining of the cranberry sauce, the scalloped oysters, the celery, and the other things will be easy. But be sure and have the ten cents' worth of bologna on the platter. Oh, indeed, and, yes, Mr. Savage, it would be bologna.

RESPONSE.

You wonder why I love the autumn skies—
The gloom-grey tints with hint of richer dyes?
They hold the somber deeps of your dark eyes.
Oh, autumn skies!

And why, the fleeting, formless clouds that whirl
Across them, like some wandering, wanton curl
Upon the brow of Night?
The wild winds hurl
No softer tress of cloud than this I furl.
Oh, gloom-dark curl!

And why, the rushing winds that stir the leaves
Like wine-brown surf on restless autumn seas?
Your sigh—your touch—stir love's deep mysteries,
Once dead as these.

MABEL GREGG.

EAGERLY SCANNING the markets for the low prices of which we hear so much, except when we start out to buy something, we found that magnesium metal, the average price of which in 1915 was $5 a pound, can now be bought in carload lots at 30 cents a pound. Oh, we must have a carload of magnesium metal, but we don't know where in the world we are going to put it in our little flat. And do you eat it or burn it in the furnace? Anyhow, we simply can't resist a bargain like that.

NOW THAT all the seven or eight different kinds of bridge have been standardized into one system the only thing left to do will be to make all the bridge players accept it. Which, of course, will be simple. Lykell, lykell, lykell!

ACH, DER LIEBER GOT!

R. H. L.: I, too, would have been somewhat jarred by the use of the word "gotten" as quoted by the Line from the New York Times. However, it appears that the legitimate objection would be to the use of the word itself rather than to the form. You will at once agree that had the sentence read "Northcliffe has got and written the story himself" it would have been equally unfortunate. Perhaps a happier construction would be "Northcliffe personally had secured the story and he himself had written it." It is mainly through poor sentence constructions of this kind that some of us develop "pet peeves" over certain word forms. For the sake of clarity in distinguishing from the past tense "got" we should preserve the participial form "gotten." I am not in favor of purism, but it seems logical that we retain forms which have a definite function and which lend color to the language. If we object to "gotten" we should consistently object to "spoken," "taken," "eaten," etc.

We should struggle against allowing these obsessions to guide our speech. The late Ambrose Bierce was admired for many of his works, but it is doubtful if posterity will thank him for his laborious volume called "Write It Right!" in which he succeeded only in setting forth his own individual "pet peeves" in sentence construction and the use of words. GEORGE HENRY FISHER.

MEMBERS of the New York Stock Exchange must no longer describe selling movements as "bear raids." Naughty, naughty! But what will they call 'em? Let us speak of them in future as animal crackers. Congress certainly will see nothing worth investigating if it's called merely animal crackers. How innocent and how sweet!

TO MARJORIE F. W. AND EOLUS.

Say not: "I have loved blossoms, softly glowing,
And mourned their dying amid Winter's storms."
But: "I have thrilled to deathless Beauty, knowing
Her swift kaleidoscope of changing forms!"

For never a petal falls, but ere its falling,
Sets fast its Beauty in its root, then seems
To "rest a little space," indeed, till, calling,
Once more Spring builds us bodies for our dreams!

Dream splendid dreams of Beauty that no Death
Has claim to, and the little forms are streamers
Of light—between a breathlessness and breath!

For he who harbors splendid dreams goes singing,
Bearing his dream past Death and all its fears,
To find a land of deathless ropes springing,

BILLY D.

OCTOBER! Ah, you are crying aloud for beer; dost remember when once we raised our glasses and our fresh young voices and sang "Brown October Ale"? But now in October we who are not felons must sing instead "Brown October Buttermilk." Only buttermilk isn't brown and it's so hard to make a three syllable word take the place of a one syllable word. And it seems so silly to drink the foolish stuff. However, all together, "Brown October Buttermilk."

IT LOOKS as though there was a joker in the new Spanish law that women can vote when they're twenty-three. How many of the girls are going to admit they're twenty-three? Not until they're fifty and then they don't care whether they vote or not. R. H. L.

TIME TO REBUILD THAT BRIDGE

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 5, 1915.

CHICAGO.—The mayor ordered that the 7,152 dramshops in Chicago proceed to obey the Illinois Sunday closing statute. One of his last official acts before starting for California at midnight at the head of a party which will celebrate Chicago day at the San Francisco exposition was to sign the document which will smash down the lid all over town next Saturday midnight, Oct. 9. City Collector Forsberg was ordered to notify the saloonkeepers that for the first time since the Chicago fire the sale of liquor must be stopped on Sunday. Chief of Police Healey is to throw the full strength of the police department into enforcement of the order. At first the liquor dealers scoffed when they heard of the order, but they became alarmed when it became known that there is to be no fourflush. The United Societies executive committee, in which Anton J. Cermak is the guiding factor, went into an emergency session on the matter. One reason given for the mayor's action is that he entertained a thoroughly grounded fear that a Cook county grand jury might start proceedings, possibly tending to impeachment, because he had refused to enforce the Sunday closing law.

LONDON.—The time allotted to Bulgaria by the allies to turn its back on Germany, Austria, and Turkey expired this afternoon at 2 o'clock, but there are no reports as to what action Bulgaria took in the matter.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 5, 1901.

NEW YORK.—The third and last race of the series for the America cup was sailed and concluded with the most magnificent finish ever seen in this country. The Columbia was the final winner over Shamrock II., Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, and the cup remains in America. The victory went to the Columbia on time allowance. The Shamrock crossed the finish line two seconds ahead, but as the Columbia was allowed forty-three seconds by the challenger it won by a margin of forty-one seconds. Shamrock deserved the victory and Sir Thomas Lipton was cheated out of the honor chiefly by errors of judgment on the part of the manager of his yacht.

NEW YORK.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew before many months will lead a bride to the altar. His fiancée, Miss May Palmer, although of an old New York family, is little known in this city, as she has lived abroad for years.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 5, 1881.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The members of the star route ring, who have been brought into court by information, have decided that the government is thoroughly in earnest, and will, therefore, appear at court tomorrow prepared to give bail for their appearance. It is not thought that large bail will be fixed by Judge Cox, for even the government does not believe that the accused intend to run away.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—After a somewhat protracted examination of Dr. Lamb, the grand jury considered the evidence. Dr. Lamb had illustrated his testimony by very carefully prepared charts, and is understood to have expressed the opinion to the jury that the wound was necessarily mortal. After a comparatively short deliberation the jury returned a presentment against Charles J. Guiteau for murder. On the presentment an indictment will be prepared, and after a true bill has been returned by the grand jury Guiteau will be brought into court to plead to it. The district attorney does not care to have the time when this will be done to be widely advertised.

NEW YORK.—Thomas A. Edison was very happy this afternoon. He had just finished a satisfactory test of the largest dynamo machine ever created—a machine having a capacity for 1,000 or more of his electric lights.

CHICAGO. — Miss Mamie Merrill was married at the residence of her parents, 465 West Washington street, to N. M. Jones, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Noble of the Union Park Congregational church.

THE DECLINE OF THE NAVY.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—At the end of the war the United States had the finest navy in the world. Now, thanks to the idiocy of the present government, it is relegated to third place. England first, Japan second, the United States third.

Hoodwinked at the Washington conference into destroying the two greatest battleships this country had ever built, gypped at the London parley into agreeing not to build the cruisers ordered by congress, we are getting to be known as the most gullible nation on earth. Not only have we inaugurated a lot of mean and petty economies which are destroying the morale of our officers and men but the government now proposes to slash the navy sixty millions more!

When Mr. Hoover was running for President it was charged that his sympathies were more English than American, that he was indeed more a citizen of that country than of our own. His conduct since his election goes to prove the assertion was true. Our Chicago congressman, Fred Britten, is fighting the new cut. He should have the backing of the whole nation.

A first class navy is needed not for war but to prevent war. The richest country in the world, we have thousands of miles of undefended coast line. Theodore Roosevelt once said, "Speak low but carry a big stick." O, for a few weeks of Roosevelt in the White House now! With a little more paring our big stick will soon become a toothpick.

We are too great a nation to be content with a third rate navy.

MARY ONAHAN GALLERY.

CALIFORNIA'S NOBLE EXPERIMENT.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 25.—There is a noble experiment in California that is more noble than experiment. It is that of senators and representatives in congress giving all their thought, time, and energy to the wants of their constituents. If their constituents want wine, dams, or subsidies, that is what California congressmen strive to obtain. And their success is a tribute to their ability and honesty of purpose.

Why should THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE censure California for getting what she wants? Why not rather censure Illinois congressmen for failure to give Illinois the same consideration? If Illinois—or Indiana, for that matter—would send something other than wind to congress more of real benefit might be accomplished. S. S. R.

RENAISSANCE REPLICAS.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Dr. Halsey C. Ives, chief of the department of fine arts at the World's Columbian exposition of 1893, stands of record in the published histories as authority for the assertion that the French government had made, expressly for our World's Fair, "reproductions of many masterpieces of French Renaissance sculpture and architectural details" from St. Gilles, Bordeaux, Amiens, Reims, Notre Dame and other ancient churches or cathedrals. "Many of these facsimiles were presented to the people of the United States for permanent exhibition in a public art museum."

These priceless replicas now stand in the Art institute of Chicago. They bear labels identifying them as "From the Mrs. T. B. Blackstone Collection," but without a word of credit to the French republic for an incomparable gift to the American people, nor reference to the city of Chicago as custodian of the treasure! Pretty shabby manners, what? X.

THIS SCRAMBLED WORLD.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The attempt of one of your readers to give a summary of the world news make me laugh. He's all muddled up, and it's all so simple.

England wants to take all the gold out of the pound sterling to make it worth something. After she takes all the gold out of it the pound will be worth twice as much, industry will boom and everybody will have a job. But it will be pretty hard to take all the gold out of the pound because France and America have practically all the gold in the world and are in cahoots to lend Germany and bust up the British empire.

But Germany won't stand for it. Germany is not only starved but hasn't had bite nor sip for twelve years. Therefore she's clamoring for permission to spend lots of money building battleships, increasing her armaments and bringing her army and navy personnel to the pre-war level.

That's where Russia comes in. Russia hasn't ever built a piece of machinery good for anything but the junk heap, but within the next five months she's going to flood the market with tractors, wheelbarrows and kiddy cars, thus laying all the capitalist countries on their backs. After she sacks Berlin, Paris and London she'll take possession of New York and make Stalin head commissar.

Which brings up the Sino-Japanese question. China refuses to defend herself. She insists that the controversy with Japan be settled by the league of nations because no matter what question or controversy was ever brought before the league it never yet settled anything. THOMAS SIMA.

ABOUT BOATS.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Replying to R. B. Thompson of Dolton, Ill., regarding the steamer Florida, I can say that when she left Chicago she was taken over by the White Star line and has been in service on the Detroit-Port Huron run ever since. The old ship had an interesting history before she came to Chicago for the Michigan City run in 1918. She is a true pioneer of the lakes, having been built in 1883 to open the Lake Huron coast line run from Detroit to Mackinac Island. She was then named City of Mackinac. Ten years later, renamed State of New York, she opened a new line between Cleveland and Buffalo. The traffic on this run soon outgrew the boats, and when new ones were built the State of New York was shifted to several short runs on Lake Erie. In 1918 she was again renamed Florida and brought to Chicago. WILLIAM WIESENBARD.

PRAISE FOR A BANKER.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—What is so rare as a banker with the conscientious mind of President T. B. McGrath of the Mayfair State Savings bank, which closed its doors on Sept. 30 with an excellent banking record and the unprecedented gesture of paying each depositor in full? Do you wonder it was impossible to force some grateful depositors to withdraw their money when they found the institution to be so sound and understable management? Just a few more bankers with the integrity and stability of Mr. McGrath and this world would be a different place for the working men and women who, in placing their small accounts in the safekeeping of an institution, hope to be assured of safety. # AMERICAN LABOR WARNS JOBS WILL KEEP DOLE AWAY

Urges Pay Levels Be Kept; Convention Today.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—With the statement that indications point to a total of 7,000,000 unemployed by January, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor made public today its annual report covering recommendations for a long range unemployment program and emergency recommendations for the coming winter. The report will be submitted to the 51st annual convention which opens tomorrow.

To cover long range employment needs the executive council makes the following recommendations:

President Hoover should call a national conference of employers and labor to discuss how all workers may share in available employment.

Urge Work Day Cut.

Immediate inauguration of the five day week and the shorter work day.

The wage structure and wage standards should be maintained.

A guarantee that all now employed shall be assured their positions and that work be shared equitably by all through spreading working hours.

Prohibition of child labor.

Application of a more scientific plan of industrial production, so that a stable balance may be maintained in order that production may be carried on systematically over longer periods of time.

On the question of modification of the Volstead act the executive council again expressed itself as favoring 2.75 per cent beer.

Want Hoover to Act.

The council repeated its suggestion, made last year, that a national economic council be created by the federal government and that the President take the first step toward planning on a national scale by forming such a council to discuss the project.

The emergency employment program for the coming winter embraces the following proposals:

Each of the 3,000,000 employers to take on two additional workers, thus absorbing 6,000,000 idle; creation of work through public undertakings; strengthening of public employment agencies; keeping young persons in school to avoid competition for jobs; preference to be shown for workers with dependents; financial relief to be issued from public and private funds.

Unemployment and unemployment insurance received the most attention in the council's report. On the subject of unemployment insurance, which was discussed exhaustively from the experience of schemes in effect in Great Britain and Germany, the council makes a flat declaration against compulsory unemployment insurance as being unsuited "to our economic and political requirements here and unsatisfactory to American working men and women."

Warning on the Dole.

However, it was said by the council that "if compulsory unemployment insurance is fastened upon our industrial, political and economic life it will be because industrial ownership and management have failed to provide and preserve working opportunities for working men and women."

The report makes clear that in the present situation "it must be work or unemployment insurance."

The report then added the following warning:

"It is the opinion of the executive council that the owners and managers of industry will be largely responsible for the enactment of unemployment insurance legislation in the event public opinion becomes so crystallized as to demand unemployment relief through the enactment of compulsory unemployment insurance laws."

CLOSE KEELEY CURE TO WOMEN FOR BRIEF TIME

Facilities Inadequate, Secretary Says.

The Keeley institute at Dwight announced yesterday that "owing to the increased number of women applicants for the cure, the institution has closed its doors to feminine patients for a short period." The announcement was made by Martin Nelson, the secretary.

The institute has been steadily enlarging its quarters in the last few years and has been able to supply ample accommodations for the increased number of men patients, Secretary Nelson declared. But as women patients are segregated and quartered individually, their quota is limited and is filled, he said.

Additional Space Required.

The plans of the institution for women were based on pre-prohibition conditions, which have been exceeded, and additional space is now required, according to the announcement. Before 1920 few women applied for admittance, but in the last year the number who inquired about the facilities has embarrassed the institution and arrangements must be made to care for the excess, Mr. Nelson said.

"We have made it a rule not to give out any figures concerning women patients," he said. "But it may safely be said that the women applicants over the pre-prohibition figures have more than doubled.

Hope to Remedy Situation.

"Women patients never visit the offices or consulting rooms as do the men and our medical force at present cannot supply proper treatment for all women who wish to come here. We hope to remedy that situation in the near future."

The total registration at the Keeley institute during 1931 will equal that of 1930, which was the busiest year, Mr. Nelson stated. There were more than 900 patients last year, the largest number since 1900 except one year, 1907, when 946 persons took the cure. In 1920 only 186 patients were treated, according to the secretary.

GANDHI'S DREAM OF A FREE INDIA NIGHTMARE NOW

Moslems Scorn 'Holy Man'; Parley Doom Near

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Mahatma Gandhi's dreams of winning independence for India over a conference table turned into a nightmare tonight.

Belittled by the hostile London press, which is already lauding his downfall, besieged by shouting minorities of Moslems, Sikhs, Christians, Parsees, "untouchables," Anglo-Indians, and Europeans, all clamoring for their spoils in a new India, the "holy man" took time off today to walk in the cloistered gardens of Canterbury with the archbishop.

Tomorrow he will return to London to face the music. At the request of the Moslems, the federal structures committee, which is scheduled to hear tomorrow just how much of a responsible government Britain is ready to grant India, will be adjourned indefinitely. Mohammedans, encouraged by British Conservatives and dominated by a loyalist faction, will not support Gandhi's demands for self-government until he grants their entire program in the racial quarrel. And in this they are joined by most of the other minorities.

Gandhi's Pleas in Vain.

Gandhi spent the week-end vainly pleading with the minorities to bury their differences until they learned what England is granting them, if anything. This morning, before proceeding to Canterbury, he made a secret proposition to the Moslems, "untouchables," and Anglo-Indians.

"Let us make a united demand to the British government to disclose its decision concerning our political demands for self-government and leave the question of separate electorates and special representation for the minorities to be settled either by an impartial tribunal or a special convention of Indian leaders elected by their constituencies," the mahatma offered.

The offer was promptly rejected because all Indain delegates were chosen by the British government, and half of them admit they could not win an election among their own people.

Gandhi warned that "by our internal squabbles we are playing right into the hands of the British," but to no avail.

Ready to Boycott Hindus.

Prospects for a settlement were further complicated when it was reliably reported that the Moslems have decided to unite with the other minorities to the extent of letting the all India Nationalist delegates and Hindus withdraw from the conference. The government would then offer them a constitution granting the minorities special rights, but insuring British rule for India indefinitely.

Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express, in an article entitled the "Failure of Gandhi," stated:

"Gandhi is out of his depth in England. He has gained publicity which a film star might envy, but has been a complete failure at solving Indian problems. Unless he provides a miracle the conference will break up in two or three days, and the last remnants of his prestige will disappear."

Poets Behind Intrigue.

Back of the oriental intrigues, which the British have not hesitated to enter, lie the figures of two of India's greatest poets, Sir Mohammed Iqbal, the D'Annunzio of Moslem India, and Mrs. Sarojini Naidu. Both are delegates. Iqbal dreams of a Moslem northwest India, broken off from a Hindu India farther south and eventually federated with Afganistan, Persia, Iraq, Arabia, Egypt, and Morocco in a great Mohammedan empire, powerful enough to dominate the world.

Mrs. Naidu is responsible for bringing the Hindus and Moslems together in the present conversations. Although a high caste Brahmin herself, she enjoys the greatest confidence of the Mohammedans.

GIRL WORRIED BY SWEETHEART'S ILLNESS DROWNS

Edna Sax, 23 years old, of the Stratton hotel, 6336 Drexel avenue, was found drowned yesterday in a channel leading from Lake Michigan to the yacht basin in Jackson Park.

She had mentioned suicide to fellow employes in a restaurant at 2107 East 71st street, where she worked as a cashier, Henry Ehrlich, owner of the restaurant, told police. She had been worried over the condition of her sweetheart, Al Block, 303 East Superior street, a young lawyer who is seriously ill at Passavant hospital, Ehrlich said.

Block is too ill to be questioned, hospital authorities said. Miss Sax, an orphan, had no relatives in Chicago, police were told. Her foster-father, James W. Byrnes, lives in Spenceville, Calif., they learned.

NATIONS QUARREL OVER BLEAK STRIP OF ICE AND ROCK

Denmark Fights Norway's Seizure in Greenland.

BY JOHN AHL-NIELSEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 4.—Denmark and Norway are having a hot dispute over East Greenland, where some Norwegian hunters recently hoisted the Norwegian flag on a coast hitherto under Danish sovereignty. The leader of the Norwegians, a student hunter named Devold, radioed a demand to the Norwegian government asking the cabinet to authorise his occupation, and after some hesitation the Greenland committee of the cabinet approved his act, despite Danish protests.

Denmark asked Norway not to take such a step, but instead to place the matter before the world court at The Hague, where international arbitration could decide to whom the ice and rocks belonged. Norway, however, maintained that the East Greenland coast was a "no man's land" and could be had for the taking. So on July 10, 1931, she broke off negotiations and occupied the land.

Denmark Fears for Prestige.

Now, the occupied territory means nothing but expense to the country trying to cultivate it, but Denmark sees upon a time ruled the waves from Dover to Normandy and from the Baltic to Melville bay, and felt that her prestige was threatened. If Norway could take East Greenland, some other country could take the rest of the biggest island in the world, and Denmark would remain with only memories to cherish. Hence, she appealed to The Hague court, which will give a verdict next summer.

Observers seeking to analyze why East Greenland interests anybody at all, point out that the whole problem is based on some strange but explainable psychology. The first Norwegian expansion came 1,000 years ago, when the Norsemen crossed the northern Atlantic, stopped for a little rest in Iceland, and went on to East Greenland and then south, passing Cape Farewell, from where they crossed to Vinland, i. e., America. Their route is the modern air route recently flown by Wolfgang von Gronau, German aviator.

Danes Rule Norway.

In those days Norway was split up by local kings and dukes who could not agree on the problem of Christianity. Then came a time when Denmark took over the administration of Norway and when scores of local dukes bowed to the Danish monarchs. For several hundred years Norway was controlled by the Danes. In 1814 Sweden assumed the duties of the Danes in Norway and held them for almost 100 years.

In the United States Scandinavia is Scandinavia, and the Danes, Norsemen, Finlanders and Swedes are considered as one race, but over here the four nations are sharply divided into camps, and each camp wants to be let alone with its problems. Thus Finland, trying to rid herself of the Swedish yoke, was absorbed by Russia, and in 1905 the Norwegians elected the Danish Prince Carl as king and proclaimed themselves independent. Sweden threatened war, but peace prevailed, and Norway for the first time in 1,000 years was independent and master of its own house.

Peace for Ten Years.

For ten years everything was peaceful, but when the United States in 1916 asked Denmark to sell her Virgin islands for strategic purposes, Denmark asked the entire world if everybody would recognize her right of sovereignty over Greenland. Everybody did, and England put a clause in the agreement that if Denmark ever wanted to sell Britain should have the option.

Norway also recognized Danish sovereignty.

Meantime, during the uncertain days of the war, Norway took Spitzbergen. Her rights were recognized. Then she looked back into history, where, in the dim past, she saw the Vikings landing in Greenland. Since then, observers here say, she has sought to establish rights there.

In 1921 Norway complained that Danish sovereignty hurt Norwegian interests in east Greenland. These interest were hunting, sealing, and whaling. The Norsemen wanted some places where their ships could anchor during summer cruises.

They got what they wanted, but Denmark always considered itself host to the Norsemen.

Return Wounded Man to Indiana as Bandit Suspect

Ernest Bevington, who appeared last week at the Morrison hotel with a bullet wound in his back and a story of having been wounded by a holdup man near Wabash avenue and Roosevelt road, was sent back to Lebanon, Ind., yesterday in custody of Sheriff Wilbur Small of that town, a suspect in a series of robberies there. The two men who perpetrated the robberies kidnaped Burns Fitzgerald of Indianapolis, and after one of them had been shot by an intended victim, forced Fitzgerald to drive them to Chicago.

Efficient Management Is the Secret.

BY PAUL POTTER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ames, Ia., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—To the fittest of Iowa farmers belongs the race of 1931, a contest in which those able to effect the closest shaving of corners in cost of producing corn, meat and dairy products will survive what many farmers are terming the severest times of the generation.

A survey of the state this week has disclosed that while corn is worth 22 to 25 cents a bushel, a considerable number of growers will be well under that figure in cost of production, while the majority of all farmers in the state will be able to turn this cheap feed into profits that will make it worth as much as 50 to 55 cents a bushel by next spring.

Take as an example W. D. Mitchell of Tama county, whose twenty Holstein cows this year have averaged 574.1 pounds of butterfat, and set a new production record for the state. He is one of more than 2,500 Iowa dairymen who are able to make a sizable profit over all expenses with butterfat at more than 30 cents a pound and feed and labor costs the lowest they have been since these men started milking.

Test Cows Yield Higher.

A report of the state cowtesting work issued this week by the state college has this comment on the situation:

"The 450 dairymen whose herds have been on test five years or more this year had cows that averaged 330 pounds butterfat and each cow returned $75.57 income over feed costs compared with an average production of 292 pounds fat and $54.40 income over feed costs for cows in the 585 herds on test one year."

Even the corn growers are not all singing a tale of woe these days when they find that modern methods of production bring yields of 45 to 65 bushels per acre and that some growers are going to market corn soon that stands them less than 20 cents per bushel delivered at the market.

Keeps Cost Records.

Roy Woodley, Wright county farmer, has a set of cost records well above the average in the state this year, but to be approached or duplicated by at least twenty farmers in every county where drought did not seriously reduce yields. Last year he produced 50 bushels an acre on 170 acres at a cost of 13.8 cents, exclusive of land taxes or interest on investment. At last fall's prices his profit was about 26 cents a bushel, taxes and marketing costs included.

This year his yield is 35 bushels per acre, with lower costs of labor, fuel, and marketing. He is still considering himself well within current corn prices and believes some of the farmers in his county are also. Unless hogs drop in price in the next six months he is in position to realize a safe margin of profit by marketing his corn "on the hoof."

Maurice Ames, Woodbury county, has a similar proof to that of Woodley, while Elmer Rittmer of Clinton county has clipped another cent a bushel off the costs of these two men.

Government Aid a Chimera.

"If we Iowa farmers would just quit looking to the government and commissions for help that can't be given us, but get busy on improving our methods and diversity incomes instead, we'd be a lot better off," declares Harry Poundstone, master farmer living near Clarion.

His remarks were repeated dozens of times in interviews with farmers this week. By valuing their living costs at levels comparable with the towns and cities, they reported that most of their neighbors seemed to be overlooking some $1,500 to $2,000 in yearly returns from their farms and gardens.

While banks and insurance companies will continue to add new farms to their lists of foreclosures this winter, THE TRIBUNE'S survey indicates that the farms in Iowa changing hands or for sale still will be within 20 to 25 per cent of the total, and that in most cases the farmers "going broke" have either been the less efficient or the heavy borrowing class.

SPANISH REGIME CLAIMS VICTORY IN DEPUTY VOTE

MADRID, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Voters in seventeen Spanish provinces cast their ballots today for the election of 23 deputies to fill vacancies left when assembly members holding seats from more than one district were required to resign all except one. Minor fist fights were the only election disorders.

The voting was closely watched to determine the extent of opposition to the present régime. Government factions claimed victory in most of the races. Women, granted suffrage Thursday, did not vote, but participated in the electioneering. First returns in Madrid indicated a victory for Manuel Cossio, left wing candidate, over Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera of the right wing. The latter ran for a seat in the chamber of deputies in order to defend the policies of his father, the late Gen. Miguel Primo de Rivera, as premier against the attacks of anti-monarchists.

Pedro Rahola, candidate of the Regionalist party headed by Francisco Cambo, former monarchist, apparently had carried the city of Barcelona with a sufficient majority to defeat the candidate of Col. Francisco Macia, Barcelona political leader. In Valencia the race apparently was close between the Carlists and Autonomist Republicans.

ROBBERS RAID SHOE STORE.

Two bandits held up Max Levy in a shoe store at 2100 Madison street yesterday and robbed him of $95.

ALFONSO SEEKS TO WIN BACKERS OF DEAD RIVAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Flinging aside completely all thought of the 100 year old dynastic feud, former King Alfonso of Spain today surprised the two branches of the Bourbon family by taking charge of the funeral arrangements for Don Jaime, Carlist pretender who died suddenly here Friday.

The action is regarded as a bid for Carlist support, which, if successful, will give the monarchists new power in Spanish politics. The gesture is already making the Carlists more sympathetic with Alfonso and is paving the way for a series of conferences for the purpose of uniting the royalist forces. Numerous Carlists from all parts of Europe are arriving to attend the funeral, which will be held Tuesday.

Alfonso took charge of the funeral with the permission of Don Alfonso of Vienna, aged uncle of Don Jaime. Don Alfonso is the new Carlist pretender, but he is 82 years old and has no illusions about his chances of success. The former king ordered a special mass said today and arranged for Don Jaime's body to lie in state until the funeral.

SEIZE FIFTEEN IN BEER RAIDS.

Police arrested fifteen persons in raids on two beer flats early yesterday, and booked Horace Johnson, Negro, as the keeper of one at 5214 Lake Park avenue, and Christ Gath as the proprietor of one at 4110 Lake Park avenue.

SOVIET REFUSES TO LET WIFE GO TO FAMILY HERE

Professor Tells of Long and Vain Effort.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Prof. Dimitri Krynine of Yale university sat in his living room here today and told of his two year old fight to bring his wife, Mrs. Raisda Krynine, from Russia to America. Every effort he has made has failed—but Dimitri Krynine is a Russian, and Russians are patient. He has not given up. He is still hopeful that the soviet government will relent.

"This story has produced a sensation practically all over the world," the professor said this afternoon, "for it is a family tragedy understandable to every man and to every woman. I have not seen my wife in two and one-half years. My son has not seen her since 1925."

Lives in Poverty in Moscow.

"My mother is desperate," he said. "We have tried everything. She has tried everything. They will not permit her to come to us. Instead she is compelled to live in Moscow in poverty while we have this comfortable home."

The Krynines, father and son, live on the second floor of a walk up apartment on an elm lined street a few blocks from the university. It is a comfortable home, but it lacked the touch of a woman's hand.

Prof. Krynine is a specialist in highway engineering and soil research. He is a tall gray haired man with bright eyes and a ready smile. He is reticent when speaking about himself but eager in his conversation concerning the possibility of Mrs. Krynine winning her way to America.

"I came to the United States in August 1929," he said, "on a scientific commission for the soviet government. The commission—a study of highways and soil—had been completed and a report presented when I suffered an automobile accident followed by a nervous breakdown, the result of my previous overwork in Russia where I had to work excessively hard and undergo physical privations as to food and lodging.

Decides to Stay in America.

My health was impaired to such an extent that I can no longer endure present Russian living conditions. Hence, upon the advice of physicians, I resolved to remain in America. Since December, 1929, I have been with Yale university as associate professor to the graduate school. I have an emigrant visa which allows me to remain in the United States permanently and to bring over my wife.

I resigned from my Russian position, explaining the entire matter in writing and enclosing medical certificates. I asked them to release my wife and let her join me. All my letters and telegrams to that effect—and they have been many—have received no answer whatsoever from the soviet government; but neither have the authorities asked me officially to return to Russia.

"Yale university has endeavored to help me reunite my family, but neither the university nor the state department at Washington can do anything as the United States does not recognize the soviet government.

Lady Astor Tries to Help.

"Last July," continued Prof. Krynine, "I applied to Lady Astor, and Mr. Bernard Shaw, who were at that time visiting the soviet government, asking them to intervene in the case. They did what they could, but nevertheless, my wife was not released to join me.

"Soon after this Mrs. Krynine made her fourth official request, asking for passports about Aug. 15. She was asked by the officials to accompany the request with a ticket to New York. I sent the ticket to Moscow. Mrs. Krynine also agreed to sign a statement that she desired to leave the soviet union forever.

"After this on Sept. 10 she was refused her leave. Before that date I received two letters from Lord Astor, both hopeful; but I cannot publish them, as they are private and confidential.

"I have had many offers from travelers to smuggle my wife out of Russia, but I do not wish to resort to such a violent situation in this case. I do not know what new steps I can take. According to existing rules my wife can present another request in a month after refusal. That will be on Oct. 10. I have resolved to wait for the new result."

Three Possible Explanations.

Three unofficial reasons have been advanced as explanations of why the soviet government is holding Mrs. Krynine in Moscow. One is that it hopes eventually to bring Prof. Krynine back to Russia, where he would be of great value in engineering research. Another is that the case has gained considerable publicity and the soviet union wishes to make the Krynine separation an object lesson to others. A third reason is that the soviet government does not want any one to leave who is the recipient of United States money—as the union gains by the exchange of currency.

Prof. Krynine was asked about these unofficial explanations of the soviet government's conduct.

"I do not know," he said. "All I can say is that I have had no explanation whatever.

"I am lonely. My son and I are not going to give up hope."

Shows No Bitterness.

Prof. Krynine is not bitter toward the soviet authorities. He considers it just another of the government's mistakes and believes it eventually will be corrected.

"I should say," he explained, "there is no visible cause for a refusal, since neither I nor my wife have ever been involved in any anti-soviet propaganda whatsoever. I have served the soviet government in a very responsible technical position without belonging to the communist party. I always worked as well as I could. I have several textbooks published in Russian. Their sales have been good, but royalties ceased to be paid to my wife at the time I decided to remain in the United States. However, she was assessed taxes on these unpaid royalties and had to pay the government income tax as if she had received them. She was left utterly without funds, and I am sending her money and food parcels from this country. She now lives under conditions of extreme poverty. Her health is not good and I am afraid for her this winter, as the Moscow winters are most severe.

"I feel that I have the right to ask for the release of my wife as a reward for all of my work in Russia."

Married Thirty Years.

The Krynines have been married for thirty years. Paul is the only child. From 1907 to 1916 they lived in France and South America, but returned to Russia in 1917, where Prof. Krynine assumed military duties and served with the Russian army.

Prof. Krynine said he would never return to Russia. He smiled at the suggestion that he find some engineer to serve in Russia in his place.

"But I do not know any engineer who could go," he said.

Meanwhile he is patient. He knows how to wait, but Mrs. Krynine is desperate, and he does not know what course she may take.

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—F. C. Hall, Oklahoma oil man, who backed the world girdling flight of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, arrived today in quest of two aviators to attempt to better their record.

Post and Gatty took 8 days 15 hours and 51 minutes for their flight. Hall, who came here from Toronto in a new plane, the Winnie Mae II., said he would interview airmen interested in a similar round-the-world journey.

Frank Hover, his pilot, landed the plane at Floyd Bennett field. Like Post and Gatty's craft, it was named for Hall's daughter, Mrs. Leslie Fain of Oklahoma City.

Your Guesses Add Interest to This Book

Otherwise It Has Dull Moments.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Love Among the Cape-Enders," by Harry Kemp [Macaulay]. Published today.

A FEW years ago—nine to be exact—Harry Kemp, known as the tramp poet, published a book called "Tramping on Life," which was at the time, if I remember, called an autobiography. I see that Mr. Kamp now lists it among his opera in "Who's Who" as a novel. When it appeared it received an extra deal of publicity because it told in frank terms with almost no veiling whatever the details of a love affair between the author and the wife of another and really famous author.

Harry Kemp today presents the world with a book which is called a novel, but which, it is whispered, is quite as autobiographical as "Tramping on Life." That whisper will be responsible for the beginning of the book's sales. As far as I am concerned the only thing that the book has in whisper news there is in the fact that it is a picture of a group of amateur playwrights and actors and actresses who founded an experimental theater on the wharf at the end of Cape Cod and that they may be the Provincetown Players who were founded by a group of amateur playwrights and actors and actresses on the wharf at the end of Cape Cod.

To me "Love Among the Cape-Enders" is a poor novel, done by a heavy hand, and, except for its material, uninteresting if not actually dull.

But the material is interesting, and if Mr. Kemp has painted a true picture the book is of importance as a record of a group which will go down historically not only in the annals of the stage in America but in American literature generally, for among that group were to be found men and women who have done brilliant literary work. The most spectacular figure to emerge from the Provincetown Players was Eugene O'Neill, whose first plays were produced there in the little wharf theater. There is a character in "Love Among the Cape-Enders" who might easily be the sad-eyed young man who startled the world with his dour playlets of the sea.

"Love Among the Cape-Enders" is concerned mostly, however, with "love," although whatever happens in the name of that much over-advertised young god does happen among the people who call themselves the Cape-Enders and who meet regularly for rehearsals of the plays which bring them—eventually—fame. There is a tremendous amount of recording of biological urges and their fulfillment.

The hero, who is a poet, seems to have less control over his emotions than any hero in modern literature except the "Jew in Love," and the hero of that case book was in no sense and in no wise a poet. Poets are supposed to have a certain sensitiveness to beauty and feelings which are wounded by a chill in the spiritual atmosphere about them, but the hero of this book is a young Pan. He never talks like a poet, though he is always talking about BEING a poet and occasionally reading his poetic works to ladies. And, what is incomprehensible to me, the author of the book, who is a poet of not inconsiderable fame, writes less like a poet than any poet whose prose I have ever read. I remember that as the most vivid surprise of "Tramping on Life," whose hero was also a poet (the same one, perhaps as the hero of this book). Usually, no matter what kind of prose a poet writes or what he writes about, his prose shows the unmistakable sense of rhythm and the pattern of words that a true poet always has.

So far as I am concerned, of interest only for the fact that the characters may possibly be, probably are, drawn from life, that the group which it probably chronicles was an interesting experiment socially which led to two or three literary reputations, and that any book that is rumored to be drawn from the lives of well known people is intriguing as a guessing game.

HARRY KEMP'S
Love Among the Cape-Enders

This new novel by a writer still untamed is a vigorous piece of self-revelation—"a story with the bark on." The author's headlong adventures in love, in writing, in bohemian living, and in the famous theatrical experiment on Cape Cod are told with astonishing candor. A robust novel, like Tramping On Life, of skyward idealism fired and checked by earthbound passions.

Good Morning!

This one is easy on the eyes and stirs on the risibles.

In other words, Eddie Cantor, plus a screenful of beautiful girls, male clowns and female comediennes worthy of the name, makes and keeps you happy throughout the duration of "Palmy Days."

Close your eyes and picture the ebullient Mr. Cantor as assistant to a fake spiritualist, he being the working spirit, so to speak; the versatile voice from the Great Beyond which speaks male, female, canine, feline, and answers all questions of the distraught inquirers as correctly as possible; i. e.:

NEPHEW [in darkened seance chamber, speaking to spiritualist]—I would like to speak to my Aunt Matilda who lived in Milwaukee.

VOICE—O, I'm in Milwaukee.

NEPHEW—In MILWAUKEE!!!!"

VOICE—O, we have a Milwaukee in heaven—just like St. Paul——"

So far so good. Now, via of imagination, waft this spiritual lily into a bakery and see him suddenly transformed into the organization's efficiency expert. An expert who threads his erratic way through bevies of beauteous bakeresses who take time off from their labors to do daily docalled modern science and new thought are godless, Bishop Rummel quoted extracts from theological reviews and popular magazine articles by Prof. John Dewey of Columbia university, and the late Prof. William James of Harvard.

Sunday Traffic Jam Delays Hoover Party on Way to Washington

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Hoover tasted the traffic jam served to all city dwellers on week-ends today as he returned to Washington from his Rapidan retreat.

A balmy Indian summer day that had drawn thousands from the capital toward the Virginia hill country resulted in piled up traffic for twenty miles out of Washington as hundreds of machines turned home again.

Threading in and out of the strings of cars, the three automobiles in the chief executive's party often were separated for nearly a mile by the crush.

Only by circling on the wrong side of a moving street car did the small cavalcade make its way across the Key bridge over the Potomac river into Washington. Skillful driving by White House chauffeurs brought the party intact and together to the executive mansion.

MISS EDWINA DICKINSON.

A marriage license was issued on Friday to Paul Hyland Jr., and Miss Edwina Dickinson, daughter of Augustus E. Dickinson, president of the Indiana Limestone company. At her apartment at 747 North Wabash avenue yesterday, Miss Dickinson refused to admit that the marriage had taken place, declaring she and her fiancé were still undecided about the date and other plans. Miss Dickinson, who is a graduate of the Mary Lyon school at Swarthmore, Pa., was married two years ago to Douglas Dow Miller of Garden City, L. I., at her parents' home at 2130 Lincoln Park West. That union ended several months ago in divorce.

Catholic Bishop Calls Birth Control Phase of the New Paganism

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The national conference of Catholic women opened its eleventh annual convention tonight with a keynote address attacking the "new paganism" of birth control, companionate marriage and divorce. Hundreds of delegates assembled for a four day meeting heard the Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Rummel, Bishop of Omaha, compare products of new thought with conditions of pre-Christian paganism.

"Companionate marriage, divorce, birth control and sterilization," the bishop asserted, "may be more refined terms, but their candid definitions reveal vices and crimes quite as vile and abominable as were those attributed to the pagans of old."

To support contentions that the so-

Women Wonder Who Will Be Speaker's Wife

Congress Faces Another Serious Problem.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—(AP)—For some woman the wheel of chance holds a glittering prize in the near future—the mantle of "speaker's wife" long worn by Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth.

From her slim shoulders it slipped shortly after the last session ended.

A silver wedding anniversary for Speaker and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth that last busy congress of his long official life had focused public attention upon the picturesque pair and relinked the "speaker's wife" with the "Princess Alice" of the Roosevelt régime in the White House.

So individualistic was she, so proudly did she wear the cloak of her officialdom, the question, "Who will be the next speaker's wife?" is regarded in Washington as for more than a mere corollary to "Who will be the next speaker?"

Just now the wheel is jiggling this way and that, waiting the decisive push that will send it spinning the Republican or the Democratic way.

If the Democrats organize the house, Mrs. Jack Garner, wife of the Texan, now minority leader, apparently holds the lucky number. She probably would wear it in her own quite different way. For 28 years secretary to her husband, Mrs. Garner is regarded as almost indispensable to his office, and hardly likely to leave it for the social scene.

If the Republicans retain control, the indicator may stop at any one of these five:

Mrs. John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, wife of the Republican leader. With a son, John Q. Jr., in Yale, and a daughter, Margaret, in Smith college, distinguished looking Mrs. Tilson divides her time between New England and the national capital. Of late years Washington has seen her from New Year's to lent in the official social whirl. She has not been a house gallery fan.

Mrs. Bertrand H. Snell of New York, wife of the chairman of the rules committee. Slender, dark haired, dark eyed, musically trained, Mrs. Snell is seen in the gallery at least once each fortnight the house is in session. A debutante daughter, Louise, named for herself, this year will give her an even busier social rôle than in past seasons.

Mrs. Carl E. Mapes, wife of a representative from Michigan. Twice treasurer of the Woman's Congressional club, Mrs. Mapes has proved her popularity. She is small, brunette, vivacious. She has a daughter in Wellesley and two sons.

Mrs. C. William Ramseyer, wife of the gentleman from Iowa, with a little girl of grade school age, can offer a child in the speaker's box in the house gallery where Paulina Longworth sat so often. She also has a high school daughter, Jane, 14. Youthfully slender and quite tall, with dark hair and blue eyes, Mrs. Ramseyer is prominent in the Congressional club.

Mrs. Homer Hoch, wife of the Kansan—a woman statuesque in appearance, capable in mentality. She is active in the Congressional club, writes Washington happenings for the Kansas paper of which her husband is editor, takes a great interest in the journalistic career of her son, Wharton, and the college work of her daughter, Jean.

The wife of Representative Robert Luce, also mentioned as a possibility for the speaker's chair, died in 1926.

FLORIDA DELEGATES HERE TO AID FAIR IN CHICAGO IN 1933

Full of enthusiasm for the 1933 Century of Progress fair here and the plans for Florida's participation in it, a delegation of nine reached Chicago yesterday. This morning they start an intensive program of inspections and receptions, of conferences with fair, city and state officials that will wind up tonight with a dinner at the Stevens hotel, with Col. Robert I. Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, presiding.

"Florida's going to show the people of these United States the greatest exhibit ever," was the opening gun of Chairman William O. Hodges of Tallahasse, state senator. "We're going to make California look like thirty cents. Already we've got an appropriation of $10,000 to begin our work with, and our state advertising fund permits $150,000 to be made available to us immediately. Every Florida county is working on a plan to spend three cents per capita for our World's Fair exhibit."

President Rufus C. Dawes and other fair officials will hold a luncheon this noon for the Florida group in the trustees' room of the administration building in Burnham park. Mayor Cermak is expected to attend.

Peace Pacts Called Feeble World Shield

Speaker Foresees Co-operation or Destruction.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Kellogg-Briand pact of 1928 to outlaw war as an instrument of national policy has failed; taken its place with "a good many scraps of paper that have been torn up and thrown away since 1914." Such was the admission of Fred B. Smith of New York, chairman of the World Alliance for International Friendship. He spoke yesterday afternoon at an international good will conference at the Palmer house. He talked again last night at the opening meeting of the twenty-fifth season of the Sunday Evening club, Orchestra hall.

Dr. Smith, in his second speech, connected the Kellogg pact with other international "agreements" undertaken by the various nations since 1899. Other failures he pointed out included the Hague arbitration conference of that year, and "all the agreements between European powers previous to 1914."

Dr. Smith added that the only hope for orderly political procedure, as well as the preservation of governments by the people, is through political international coöperation. The same, he said, could be applied to religion. He declared the whole question presents the dilemma of "complete international coöperation or destruction," regardless of previous futile attempts toward coöperation.

Dr. Smith said a revolution began on Armistice day, Nov. 11, 1918. On that day, he continued, the world began to remake itself and from that moment this revolution has been gathering momentum until today it is "a world-wide issue which pivots around the essential question: War versus peace."

Bread and not armaments, the price of wheat and not military leadership are responsible for war. At least this is the opinion of the Rev. Charles Stelzle, New York publicist. He spoke during the afternoon conference at the Palmer house. Dr. Stelzle reviewed wars of the past and said that the question of getting a living was always the supreme issue.

Dr. Stelzle quoted Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, who, he said, declared that unless early action is taken to relieve poverty and toward giving people food, mob violence and revolution will develop. He said Gen. Butler pointed to 14 multimillionaires who represent $5,000,000,000, declaring they stand ready to give half their wealth by taxation to forestall mob action.

"Stooges," chorus girls, etc.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

THE revue called "Crazy Quilt," also described as Billy Rose's, came to the Apollo theater last night, and the down-towners "went for it," as the saying goes, in a solid phalanx, some 1,500 strong. With a trinity of comics, famous in Chicago and elsewhere—Fannie Brice, Phil Baker and Ted Healy—as central patches on the program, the watchword of the night apparently was "Welcome to our city."

When Mr. Rose, who is Miss Brice's husband, called "the boys" around him for the purpose of giving Messrs. Ziegfeld, White, Carroll et al. serious competition, some bright, ambitious spirit probably said: "Why hire a librettist? The stage director will only cut out his stuff—so let's beat him to it and cut out the author."

No sooner said than done. "The boys" slapped the show together without guidance of a "book." And they slapped it merrily and well.

Fannie Brice dipped into the lavender of her most cherished souvenirs and brought out the mock-dance of "The Dying Swan," a parody of Pavlowa in her prime, and you know how long ago that was. She also put back into currency "My Man," a moaning ballad that is the grandparent of the contemporary "torch song."

Mr. Baker hitched himself up to his double-barreled accordion and sent a telegram to his henchman who sits in an upper box, saying: "Be sure you haven't forgotten the good old wisecracks." Mr. Healy drove in a herd of "stooges" from the jungles of the Bronx, and then, with a happy thought, added an educated chimpanzee to the outfit.

But they sought chorus girls that were young and tender, songs that were on the crest of the popular taste, and dances that were fast and furious. The result is "Crazy Quilt," a brisk and enthusiastic entertainment, not too rowdy in tone, pleasantly casual in manner. The old masters of Broadway amusement lead the revels with unflagging spirits, and even their last year's jests are in a crisp state of preservation.

"Crazy Quilt" stands on middle ground between the copious pageantry of the oversized Broadway revues and the intimate or "little" variety of these jazzy extravaganzas. It is not big enough to be pretentious and not little enough to be arty. It is well dressed without aiming at opulence; it is "wise" without seeking for sophistication.

The only new thing to be said about Miss Brice, the quaintest droll in her vein is that she seems to be getting better looking every year—no mean achievement. Mr. Baker is still talking with cherubic malice about the depression, and Mr. Healy is still the Simon Legree of stooge-masters. But no matter how valiantly he buffets his grotesque hirelings, he displays a wholesome fear of his trained monkey.

Gomez and Winona dance admirably in ballroom style, Marion Bonnell leads a song or two neatly, and the chorus girls are always worth watching. They are particularly decorative in a number called "In the Merry Month of Maybe."

The premiere's first round of applause was won by Mayor Cermak as he marched down to take his first row seat. Later on Phil Baker adopted His Honor as a member of the company and caused him to take the customary bow.

Quincy Baptists Dedicate Church Dr. C.D. Case Started

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 4.—The congregation of the Central Baptist church dedicated their new $150,000 edifice today. A bronze memorial tablet in the hallway of the church was dedicated to the memory of the late Rev. Dr. Carl D. Case. He died about a year ago. He came here from Oak Park and was active in starting the new church. The Rev. Philip Johnson is the new pastor.

Stores to Give 4-Day Show of Furnishings

Special Displays Start on Wednesday.

The Chicago Home Furnishings Style show will be held on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week within the various furniture houses and household furnishing departments of stores.

Merchants who have been interviewed pointed out that never before and possibly never again will Chicago women have such an opportunity to buy things of excellent quality at prices within the reach of persons of modest income.

In addition, the new season's edict is that pronounced individuality in colors, draperies and combinations of furniture is to be desired. This will mean, it was said, that women who heretofore have chafed against the necessity of mediocrity in home furnishings this year have a chance to try their wings. They may take all sorts of flights in furnishings. High prices and a reigning conventionality such as existed for years in a majority of American homes need not keep them grounded any longer.

Plans are not yet complete for the four day style show, but special displays in the stores, including newly outfitted houses planned by budget, model rooms and apartments are being arranged. Further information will be contained in THE TRIBUNE furniture section of Oct. 7.

Asked what percentage of reduction furniture prices represented now, merchants said that it was impossible to say, due to the many sales in progress. They agreed, however, that at no time in the span of their recollection were prices so low or quality so sound. Beauty of line and wood and finish has taken on meaning to the average housewife, with the result that the manufacturers of even the least expensive furniture are incorporating those qualities in their products.

"Our store is 78 years old," said one executive. "I feel safe in saying that at no time in these 78 years has a purchaser obtained so much for his money as he can now."

One store will make a specialty of displaying a fine collection of authentic early American and French provincial furniture in a setting of charm and simplicity.

Another which is devoting between 9,000 and 10,000 feet of space to a new section for copies of rare antique pieces manufactured by the store itself will show highly individual rooms completely furnished.

This innovation of making their own reproductions of antiques, many of which have never appeared before on the contemporary market, will enable persons who formerly spent $50,000 in furnishing a large apartment to furnish one equally as satisfactorily for $5,000. Moreover, a designer of the furniture pointed out, he has made drawers of apparently antique dressers fit the modern man's shirt, something that no genuine antique is likely to do, he said.

In all types of furniture durability and purity of line are valued at this time, however. No more charming furniture than the reproductions of early American and other provincial types may be found, one dealer contended, and they may be had at less than ugly and conventional furniture formerly brought.

"I believe that the lower scale of prices is going to have a splendid effect," one furniture merchant said. "Up to now, many persons have bought furniture as they would a new car, expecting to replace it in a year or so by another model. The last few years of prosperity developed an easy come, easy go philosophy. That is changing. Now, when women buy furniture, they want value. That is, they are thinking of permanence.

"It is one quality our elders loved which we had almost forgotten about—permanence. No beautiful furniture ever could have evolved without a respect for permanence.

"Furniture now actually is better made than it ever has been. If women only grow to value the quality of permanence and buy good furniture—that is, solid, well made furniture—it will be an investment for life."

Another merchant, asked why he considered this "the best time in the world to buy furniture," as he stated it, replied:

"For the same reason that it's the best time to buy stocks—providing they're good stocks. Because it has reached its lowest level in price. There is no better investment they can make than furniture."

Chicagoans to Buy Tags Today to Aid Children's Charities

More energy and finesse than have ever gone into the business of exchanging tags for contributions to the support of fifty juvenile charities will be expended today. Every corner will have its quota of women and girls, and star shaped tags of the Chicago Children's Benefit league. Every passerby is going to be asked, urged, pleaded with to buy one of the tags, and to pay as much for it as he can possibly spare.

For the impending winter looms as one of the most strenuous ever to confront the fifty charities whose main donations of the year come from the proceeds of their taggers' efforts. And with more children requiring food and shelter than ever before, officials of the league emphasize that there is crying need for a greater total of receipts than ever before.

Ordinarily, Chicago demonstrates its approval of this tag day by slipping approximately $100,000 into the canisters in exchange for the fluttering pasteboards. This year everybody is urged to double or triple their usual contribution if at all possible, for there will be need for all that and more, to carry these institutions through the year without imposing a real hardship upon the dependent youngsters.

Officials Tell How to Avoid Losses by Fire

This week, by special proclamation of Gov. Emmerson, will be featured by newspaper, radio, and lecture admonitions to the public on fire prevention. Deputy Fire Commissioner Edward Maloney is directing the local observance, which includes special programs in the schools, fire drills, and suggestions on ways and means to prevent much of the tremendous annual property losses by fire.

Following the practice begun last year, some of the schools will invite members of the fire department to address the students on the topic. Division Marshal George Graves will be one of the busiest of this flying squadron, being booked for a number of talks to students about the perils of leaving matches and oily cloth lying around in their homes or in their cars, and other carelessness which invites disaster.

Special caution is being requested of motorists during the week by the Chicago Safety council, which has issued a bulletin in connection with Fire Prevention week. One point especially stressed is the anniversary of the great Chicago fire, which occurs Oct. 8 and 9.

"By observance of state law and local ordinances," the bulletin reads in part, "and by exercising personal precautions, motorists can materially reduce Chicago's annual toll of life and property loss by fire." Drivers are asked to observe the following rules:

Don't park within fifteen feet of a fire plug.

Pull to the curb if you hear fire apparatus approaching.

Turn off lights and motor when getting gasoline or oil.

Don't throw lighted cigars or cigarets from your car. See that they are no longer burning.

Occasional Passing Up Is Normal Lot of Each Individual

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"What do you make of a boy who rushes you for a month and then passes you by with only a hello and good-bye on the street? Is there something wrong with the boy, or with me? WORRIED."

Maybe with you, maybe with the boy, and maybe nothing wrong with either! Maybe it's just part of the scheme of picking and choosing that is supposed to pursue the lives of the young. You meet a boy. He is attracted to you because of your looks, or because of your ways. He sees you frequently and the looks or the ways, as you have them to offer, aren't what he wanted after all.

He may have no feeling about dropping you in order the better to pursue the girl in the back of his mind. You haven't anything to do with that picture, unless you just happen to be it in person. It's altogether possible he may continue his search and come back to you again, realizing that you were the girl, after all. Again, the next girl he meets and rushes may be the answer to his bachelor prayer.

Ordinarily, there is nothing to accuse oneself of, though one may happen to be passed up. It's just part of the game.

If it happened time and again, however, a girl would need to ask what's wrong here! She would better find out just why she can't hold the boys' interest. Whether she is too flip, too serious, too catty, or what. Whether she is not as personally attractive as she might be. Whether she falls down on the arts—dancing, listening, flattering.

If she scores pretty well in her own opinion after a critical self-résumé, then she should just charge it off to experience, perk up her head, and keep an eye cocked for the next crush. Anything but getting into the doldrums over a fancied jilting. It isn't that. You, yourself, meet people, see them often for a while. They drop out of your lives because there aren't enough common interests to keep the friendship going. But there's nothing wrong with the friends, nor with you.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Boundaries of Love.

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think a fellow who gives a girl his class pin loves her? LEW."

He has been attracted and is trying hard to make a favorable impression.

Antoinette States Just How Exercise Does Away with Fat

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY

A correspondent asks if I can tell her just how exercise reduces weight. She can understand how dieting will do it, but can't figure out what relation fat disappearance has to exercise.

Well, here's the answer: When you exercise, the muscular action causes the blood stream to take up stored fat and utilize it as a source of energy. Then wastage from the fat is eliminated through the natural organs, which carry off body wastes, principally through the pores of the skin in the form of perspiration. Incidentally, this latter point supports the advice that half hearted exercise is not much use, that exercise to have real value should be done with sufficient vim and purpose to work up a good, if inelegant, sweat.

It's really a case of turning stored up fat into used-up fat, when it becomes no longer fat but waste matter, to be excreted through the usual channels—perspiration, kidneys and bowels.

I hope this isn't too technical an explanation. Anyway, exercise in connection with dieting is the safest and surest way of putting the body in shape to resist an early return of fat. Those who rely on diets only and confine their diet restricting to six weeks or so, let's say, at the end of which fasting period they return to old habits of eating aren't much ahead in the course of a couple more months.

Countless numbers of people keep their weight under control by doing exercise and living on a good maintenance diet, the exercise playing an important part in the disposition of any extra pounds that might accrue. To get a clearer idea of how exercise works off fat, an athlete can lose anywhere from two to five pounds in a strenuous football game, wrestling match, game of tennis, or other vigorous sport.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY

P. G.: SOUR BUTTERMILK MAY be used effectively for a mild coat of tan. The lactic acid in it acts as a bleach.

L. A.: A HEALTHY TONGUE should be moderately red, clean, and moist. If it is coated, stomach or liver derangement is indicated.

"Satan," Inactivity, Finds Mischief for Child's Idle Hands

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"Satan finds mischief still for idle hands to do," sounds like the opposite of everything a believer in modern child training might think. But is it?

Perhaps it may mean something that is very modern. Perhaps it may mean that children can't be expected to do just nothing—that little children and boys and girls are full of energy that can not remain static, energy that will force its way out. It may mean there are natural and legitimate channels through which that young vitality should express itself, an expression which means growth and development. And it may mean that if that energy is denied its true expression, it will get out in some way that may be destructive. In that sense, Satan [misdirected energy] will find what we call mischief for idle hands to do.

In other words, children's hands won't remain idle. They will do something. Therefore, it behooves us to see that they have the right things, the wholesome things, the natural things, the interesting things to do. We as parents can take that old warning to heart and make use of it almost from the time our babies are born. We can look at their busy-ness as signs of growth; we can look at their constant activity as the vital need of a young experimental thing.

We can look calmly at the disorder their legitimate play causes. We can get out of the "no" and "don't" frame of mind and let them do everything they want to do within reason. We can avoid the ideal of the "good, quiet child."

We can think of the house as their home to feel free in, to feel "at home" in, in every sense of the word. Repression and denial are synonyms for Satan. They create the ugly kind of idleness [the inactivity] which causes much of the mischief that children do.

The Marriage Racket

By VINA DELMAR

SYNOPSIS.

Dan Corbin and Don Phillippe de Rodriguez, hoofers, with their pianist, Tom Libby, appear in Thrace for a week's vaudeville engagement. A convention is being held in the town and the hotels are overflowing. Phillippe grabs the first vacancy. Tom and Irma inquire at the town's leading hostelry, where Tom runs into an old friend, Bill Fitzroy. Tom finds a cot and Bill turns over his room to Irma. Bill invites Irma to a dinner party in the hotel, where she meets Wallace Graham, a widower. Wallace has a young daughter, Mildred, who has grown up under the supervision of her Aunt Tessie. Bill and Wallace shower invitations on the pretty dancer. Wallace asks Irma to be his wife. Bill's proposal to her is of a different nature. Irma quarrels with Bill and quits the act. She marries Wallace and settles down to a dull existence with him. A baby son arrives to compensate her for any flaws in the marriage system. The baby becomes the center of her universe.

INSTALLMENT XIII.

THE HOUSEHOLD ON TRIAL.

Irma settled herself on the divan with two other girls. She talked to them until they had drunk enough to render them unfit for intelligent conversation. Then she found some one else. It was a dull party, she thought. Others danced and drank and shouted and laughed. A bunch of idiots. The last person who could talk rationally had passed out when Bill Fitzroy joined the party.

Irma thought she wouldn't be able to bear it if he greeted them by calling "Hello, soaks. Pardon me, I mean hello, folks." Everybody else would call that. It had become almost a password.

Bill didn't say it. He just came in, looked around and made for the corner of the room where Irma sat with a polite smile frozen upon her face. With his curious knack for creating an illusion of solitude, Bill settled himself on the floor in front of Irma. "How's the baby?" he asked.

Her smile lost its lifeless rigidity. "He's fine. I think he's beginning to know me." Curious that she should think Bill Fitzroy would be interested.

More curious still that he should answer gravely, "That's wonderful. Is he gaining weight?"

"Asleep."

Wallace's system of enjoying a party in a friend's home was a most unique one. He drank gluttonously for the first hour, became most fearfully drunk and sleepy and retired to his host's bedroom for the rest of the evening. Thus it was that he always departed cold sober and was often considered caretaker for more abstemious but less systematic brethren.

"He's early to bed tonight," Bill remarked.

She wished that he would talk long and amusingly about something—anything. She hated these wordless spaces which hung between them so often. There was something queerly intimate about those silences.

"Um, yes. This is the Reese road section." His inflection supplied the word "that we were talking about."

Irma's eyes wandered with a new interest over the walls and to the tiny foyer. Suppose she had taken the other fork in the road and chosen Bill? Why, she might have selected this very apartment. And Wallace might still be sleeping in the bedroom while this very crowd sang and drank in here. But, no, Wallace would not have consented to be entertained by any one's mistress, and she had a definite conviction that this crowd would not have come after the initial curiosity call. But would she have needed them as an aid as she needed them in virtue? Bill was a gay companion. There would have been many week-ends in New York, too. But had she taken Bill there would have been no baby. The thought of the baby caused her eyes to glance anxiously at the banjo clock which had been one of the Gardiner's wedding presents.

It was midnight. She said, "O, we have to be going."

"Not so soon?"

"Yes, we have the baby now."

"Well, there are people home with him."

"Yes, but there are things I have to do for him. We have to go, really." He stood up to let her pass and then followed to help her awaken Wallace. At last this was never an easy task.

Wallace after much calling and pushing awakened to discover that he had a violent headache. He felt unjustifiably inconvenienced. It was only twelve. At one coffee and sandwiches would be served. Another hour's sleep and the headache would go and he would awaken in the mood for coffee and sandwiches.

"But we have to go on account of the baby," Irma said.

"He's all right," Wallace insisted.

"Perhaps. But we have to go. Come on, will you?"

Wallace stared at her for a time before arising. Others had come to the doorway now and were watching the scene with amusement.

"You take Irma home, Bill, and then come back," somebody suggested. "Wallace wants to stay."

"Come on, Wallace," Irma said sharply.

The flurry that attended their departure was artificially cheery and gay. It was sister to the flourishing conversation that springs up after some one has made a horrifying faux pas.

When the door had closed upon the Grahams, Roger Drake said, "Well, I never saw a wetter blanket in my life than that Graham woman."

"She sure orders Wallace around, doesn't she?"

The Gardners thought that Irma had been unnecessarily frank about being bored. Somebody else thought she was high hat.

"As a matter of fact," Bill said, "Irma had to go home and nurse her baby."

"She could have said so."

Meanwhile Irma was riding home and observing that it had grown colder. She wondered about that extra blanket and gazed impatiently at the speedometer. Twenty-five miles. That was Wallace's set speed. There was no point in trying to hurry him tonight. His headache had put him in a bad humor. He had wanted the coffee. She decided that she would attend to the baby and then make Wallace a good cup of coffee and a toasted cheese sandwich. He always liked toasted cheese.

She wanted to fly right upstairs the minute they reached the house, but a strong wind had sprung up and Wallace would expect her to hold the garage doors open for him.

But at last she was able to run up the stairs and see what harm had been done in her absence. She noticed at once that the extra blanket had not been added. The baby's hands felt cold and he was not dry or comfortable looking.

Irma ran about the room snatching up dry diapers, sheets and underwear as she went.

"Damn it to hell, why can't people do as they're told?" She did not address Wallace nor expect an answer. He was undressing himself, apparently unconcerned with anything else in the world except a knot in his shoe lace.

"Poor baby, did they leave you all cold and wet? Never mind. You're going to be dry and warm soon. I'll be damned if I can figure people caring a little what becomes of the baby. And I'm not speaking of Catherine either. She's not related to the baby."

Wallace rolled into bed.

"If you wait I'll fix some coffee," Irma said.

"Never mind." Wallace closed his eyes and fell asleep.

Next morning after Wallace had gone to the office Irma put the rest of the household on trial. Why was the baby wet and cold when she returned home?

Mildred said, "I looked at him before I went to bed and he was dry and the room was warm. I can't help it if it got cold afterwards."

"I wonder if you feel as indifferent toward the baby, Mildred, as your manner makes you seem."

"Don't be crazy. He's sweet and I'm fond of him, but I can't sit up all night with a thermometer in my hand."

Catherine said, "Old Miss Graham told me not to bother about the baby. She said she was going to do everything."

Irma's eyes flamed angrily. "Hadn't I told you what I wanted done?"

"Yes, Mrs. Graham, but I'm telling you Miss Graham said she didn't want me to touch him."

"Does Miss Graham pay you your wages? You take orders from me about the baby. I don't give a damn about the dirt you leave in corners or the broken platter or anything else, but I want you to mind what I say about the baby."

She ran from the kitchen conscious of angry tears streaming hotly down her face. Nobody understood how she felt about the baby. These people were insensitive clods. They were the type with whom only the strongest children survived.

Aunt Tessie was in her room busily lengthening one of Mildred's party frocks. Irma said, "Will you stop sewing for a minute and listen to me, Aunt Tessie?"

"Certainly, dear." She looked questioningly up into Irma's face.

Irma stared sullenly out the window as she spoke. "Why did you interfere with the orders I gave Catherine, Aunt Tessie?"

Hawaii Letters Tell Romance of Young Flyer

BY THALIA ——.

LIEUT. OLIVER S. PICHER'S recent Hawaiian postmarked letters to his family and friends here have indicated that there was romance in the air, and now news has come from Honolulu that Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lewis have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Lewis, to the young flyer.

Lieut. Picher, who is the son of Mrs. Oliver S. Picher of Hubbard Woods, was graduated from Harvard with the class of '28, and he entered the United States Army aviation school at March Field, Riverside, Cal., the following spring. He was graduated from Kelly field in San Antonio about a year and a half ago and is now stationed at Wheeler field in Hawaii. His fiancée attended Pine Manor school at Wellesley for several years, and studied for a year in Florence, Italy.

The wedding is set for Nov. 1 and is to be small, I understand. Mrs. Picher is now in the east, the two younger Pichers are away at school and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Purcell Jr., who have been at the 711 Bar ranch at Eldridge, Mont., for the summer, are staying on there for the hunting season. It isn't likely that any of them will be making the long trip to attend the marriage. Lieut. Picher won't be having a long leave for some time, and consequently it will probably be long before he brings his bride to Chicago.

Eleanor C. Case of Baltimore, N. A. Miller to Wed Oct. 24.

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Carlile Case, daughter of the late Col. Frank L. Case and of Mrs. Case of Baltimore, Md., and Norman Amos Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos C. Miller of Evanston, is to take place at Christ church in Baltimore on Saturday, Oct. 24. The wedding attendants are mostly easterners and include Mrs. Lawrence Haynes of New York as matron of honor; Miss Constance Phillips of Chicago, as maid of honor, and Miss Jean Conrad of Baltimore and Miss Emilie Rich of Philadelphia as bridesmaids. Wells W. Miller is to be his brother's best man, and the ushers are Hobart Avery, W. Stewart Beecher, and William L. Thompson, all of New York, and Arthur Poole of Connecticut.

Mrs. Adeline Lobdell Atwater has come on from New York where she has lived for the last year or so, and plans to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Lobdell of 2716 Prairie avenue for the winter. She's working on a new novel, her second, and has nearly finished it.

Service Club Chorus Girls Find Dancing Is Work.

The sum total of sore muscles and bruises on the respective anatomies of the service club's amateur chorines who are rehearsing daily for the annual benefit, "Hit It Up," to be presented on the 24th of this month, is pretty tremendous. They start out in the morning all right, practicing their dances with almost military precision, but as the day wears on and the floor waxes slipperier, the ensembles look more like tumbling acts. One act that's being rounded into shape rapidly is entitled "The Bridge of San Kato." It has a thimble dance in it and for practice purposes the girls are using as cymbals a collection of assorted kettle lids.

Itemised . . . The Samuel Gale Taylors plan to stay out in Barrington through October if the weather is warm. If it gets cold they'll move back into their Division street residence. . . . Mrs. Russell Matthias was here for a day or two recently en route to Los Angeles whither Mr. Matthias had been called because of his mother's illness. The Matthiases have had a Bar Harbor house this summer and plan to spend the winter in California. . . . Mr. and Mrs. George Plamondon who returned last month from their wedding trip in Europe, have taken an apartment at the Belden-Stratford hotel. . . . Mrs. Erich Gerstenberg is to be hostess at this week's luncheon meeting of the opera box committee on Wednesday at the Casino. . . . Huntington Harris, the Hayden Harris' son, who is a freshman at the University of Chicago, is a Beta Theta Pi pledge.

If You Can't Find Plates, Have Some Made to Order.

It wasn't exactly necessity that mothered Mrs. George W. Dulany's invention of a method for creating a new and striking kind of tableware—or maybe you could call it that. It seems that the nearest thing to the kind of service plates she had in mind to affiliated well with her lovely modern dining room were French and frightfully expensive. Having assailed and conquered numerous other problems of ingenuity when she decorated the Dulany domicile on top of the 926 Lake Shore drive building, she set to and figured out a way whereby she could have precisely the plates she wanted by designing them herself and having them made. They are mirror backed affairs, in deep blue, green, copper, and amber shades.

Continuing . . . Mrs. Elizabeth Eddy Rowe and her sub-deb daughter Betty are to live in New York City this winter, and have taken an apartment at 180 East 79th street. . .

The wedding is to take place next spring. Mrs. Radford and her daughter formerly resided in Wisconsin. Miss Radford is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. C. Donald Dalle of Winnetka and of J. J. ## Russet Reds, Browns Favored for Autumn

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Paris fashions have burst into a blaze of autumn colors with russet reds and browns united to make the prettiest daytime ensembles that have been seen for a long time. Black, dark and somber blue and other utilitarian colors are thrust aside in favor of these tones of the autumn woods.

A favorite formula is the dress of rusty red transparent woolen, or silk crepe, worn with the topcoat of russet brown, and this is the color scheme of the Chantal ensemble shown in our sketch today. The coat of this ensemble, being brown, can be worn over a variety of frocks. It is made of heavy, woolly diagonal material, and is straight line in cut, with the wrapped over closing cut off in a diagonal near the bottom.

The sleeves are set in in the raglan fashion to give a bulky, rounded shoulder line, and they have deep cuffs of curly brown astrakhan. The collar is a wide scarf of astrakhan that is tucked under the brown cloth belt at the right side closing.

The frock is made of the new broaded jersey, which is very thin and light weight, and it is a rusty red color. Above and below the waistline are tucks in sunray pattern, at the center front and back and at the sides. These tucks serve to give the dress its fitted waistline, which is further emphasized by the brown leather belt.

The neckline is round, and in front it is cut out in an arrowhead opening, over which are placed ties of brown crocheted wool. The skirt is flared by circular cutting beginning about halfway to the knees.

Urges Special Care of Young in Depression

Modern mothers know more about the needs of their children than did the mothers of a generation ago, according to Dr. H. H. Barnard, director of the White House conference on child health and protection, who is here to confer with Chicago educators in preparation for a regional convention to be held in the city on Oct. 30 and 31.

"The modern mother may manage to lead her own life, too, keeping up outside interests and having a good time, but she takes an absorbing interest in her children and knows much more about the scientific study and care of youth than our mothers did," Dr. Barnard said.

"As educators, the most important task before us this winter and during the period of depression is to save the children from its harmful effects. Of course, general relief of all suffering people is imperative, but the children are the ones most deserving of our aid.

"That means not only feeding, clothing and sheltering them, but turning their energies into proper channels, keeping them in school, helping them discover the occupations for which they are best fitted, rehabilitating the delinquent and making fit the thousands who have physical defects.

"There have been many conferences held separately by leaders in the field of child health, education and community problems, but the idea of combining all of these studies, of considering the child and his life as a whole, is much more recent. That was done at the White House conference in 1930.

"In the Chicago regional meeting we hope to go a step farther and actually get under way certain movements to aid the school children of America. A downstate meeting will be held later at Springfield and similar conferences will be held in most of the central western states during the winter."

After conferring with Supt. William J. Bogan of the public schools, Dr. Barnard commended Chicago for its progress in vocational guidance and in dealing with the truancy problem. He also praised the special schools for deaf and blind children.

Among those who are scheduled to attend the Chicago conference are Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior; Dr. John Dewey, Miss Jane Addams, Miss Julia Lathrop, Dr. C. H. Judd, Dr. Isaac Abt, and Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, city health commissioner.

Thank you one and all for the splendid response to my appeal for information on bohnenkraut. I am only sorry that there isn't room here to thank you each personally, and publish your individual letters. However, a few excerpts which demonstrate the use of the herb may help some of you, even though bohnenkraut has turned out to be none other than an old friend "summer savory," and can, therefore, be purchased in most of the seed stores under the English name.

Mrs. C. K. writes: "Bohnenkraut grows from seed. When the seed ripens, it falls out. The stalk dies as the frost comes, but the fallen seed grows the following spring. The stalk reaches a height of ten or fifteen inches."

Mrs. M. A. M. says: "The Germans use it to flavor soups, especially bean soup. It is also delicious in meat pies, or stews, particularly, lamb stew."

Mrs. J. P. F. claims: "We never make a poultry stuffing without it. It is also used to season certain sausages."

Mrs. E. M. Z. writes: "I am familiar with beankraut, as I have had it in my garden for many years. I always add it to beans to give them a delicious flavor. If you plant it in the spring, you will have it in your garden continuously. In the fall, it may be dried and kept for winter use."

Mrs. G. K. S. writes: "My mother used this herb all her life, and I have used it for thirty years in turkey and chicken filling, as well as in beans. I buy it in large bunches, and dry it. When dry, I rub it with the palms, pick out the stems, and use the leaves. For turkey filling, I use one-half teaspoonful, but more can be put in, according to the individual taste."

Mrs. J. M. T. says: "We do not cook bohnenkraut with the string beans, but add it when they are almost through cooking. It is also good in string bean salad."

Mrs. F. C. A. writes: "I went into the country to get this herb for my grandmother, who makes sour beans for winter use. The beans are washed and cut slanting in long thin strips, partly boiled, and cooled in a basket or drainer. They are then packed in a stone jar with salt and thin layers of bohnenkraut for seasoning. Press down tightly and cover with a weight, until the brine covers the beans. Let stand and sour like sauerkraut, which takes several weeks. One bushel of string beans will fill a two gallon jar, though a three gallon jar is preferable, as this allows for fermentation."

Miss L. T. says: "My mother used to have the seed of bohnenkraut, and have it in her garden every summer. She used it in German fried potatoes, green string beans, and also in liver dumplings, which were always so good that we never can forget them."

Tomorrow's menu calls for a soup which is delicious. By all means add it to your soup repertoire.

CREAM OF PARSNIP SOUP.

2 tablespoons of butter.
1 tablespoon of flour.
¼ of a small onion.
¼ teaspoon of pepper.

Wash and scrape the parsnips. Cook until tender in boiling water. Use as little water as possible, and save the water the parsnips are cooked in to use in the soup. Rub the parsnips through a sieve. Melt the butter, add the sliced onion, and cook over a slow fire five minutes. Stir in the flour and add the milk, stirring constantly. Strain over the parsnip puree and return the whole to the fire. Cook until hot; season with salt and pepper, and serve.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 4.—The usual sedate quiet of the so-called city of the silent dead wasn't disturbed today by world series affairs. Cheap canvas emergency signs setting forth that tickets were for sale by scalpers, and a few weary newspaper men were the sole outward indications that tomorrow the town would get its first glimpse of the series when the Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals play the third game for the world title.

So long as each contender has won one game it probably is permissible to say that each is bulging with confidence. Possibly the Cardinals are a bit more confident than the bush-league American leaguers. That three hit win hung on the Macks Friday by Wild Bill Hallahan's arm and Pepper Martin's legs have made the National leaguers that way. They feel that Connie Mack's luck is about to crack. A lot of other people feel the same way, but it may be a case of a wish being father to the thought.

Grove's "Injury" Bobs Up.

Mack, who always has been one of those fellows working on the scheme that a man of silence appears smart, continued his rôle today. He wouldn't tell even the newspaper men who travel with him all year just what he had decided about his pitching for tomorrow. Secrecy in such matters is of no importance, either to the opposition or anybody else, so we might as well reveal that Mack knows right now that Lefty Grove is going to be his choice.

The only uncertainty about Grove's starting is that he is reported to have another blister on the second finger of his throwing hand. The blister, if it actually exists, resulted from his pitching in the first game of the series, which he won. He has had this alleged blister before, and always pitched.

The same blister was used to explain why he wasn't started against the Cubs in 1929. But you will recall that when he did get into that series in a relief rôle he didn't handle himself like a cripple. The blister yarn probably is some of Mack's primer boot psychology. Anyway, if Grove doesn't start it will be Wahlberg.

Street Names Grimes.

Gabby Street, who doesn't kid himself into believing that a manager on the bench can pitch a game or hit the ball in the pinches, came back from the Cardinals' workout at Shibe Park this afternoon and expressed himself on his pitching thoughts. He was quite sure that he would place his faith in tough old, grumbling, Burleigh Grimes. As usual, Grimes has his whiskers growing in anticipation of a summons to front line duty. He actually is anxious for the call. He figures he is too good a pitcher to be beaten three times in a row by the same team. The Macks whipped him twice last fall.

If Grimes' deadly spitter should be held for another day it may be up to Paul Derringer, the 24 year old freshman, to return for another fling. The kid was batted from the field in the opener last Thursday at St. Louis, but now insists that he learned things which will be of vast aid to him in his second appearance. Experience is a great thing for pitchers, but it doesn't keep them from pitching one bad ball at the wrong time and being beaten on that one pitch. This is particularly true against a team such as the Athletics, who boast several men able to boost a drive over the fence if a pitch happens to come into their alley.

Adams Returns to Third.

During the Cards' workout today Spurgy Adams, the ex-Cub and Pirate, was back at third base, and he expects to be among those in action tomorrow. The tiny infielder, who was an important item in the

WORLD SERIES PITFALLS YAWN FOR THE UNWARY

Mr. Pegler Buys Players, or So It Seems.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 4.—To whom it may concern: I wish to explain that the check for $2,000 which I signed about 5 o'clock the other morning in St. Louis was signed only in self-defense after a desperate resistance of several hours.

At the time I intended to stop payment on the check as soon as the banks opened for business, but there was a lot of confusion going on in the hotel suite where all this took place, and when I got up about noon I hadn't the faintest idea of the name of the bank on which it was drawn. I don't even know what city this bank does business in.

Somebody, seeing my plight, ripped a check out of his book and gave it to me and I filled it in to quiet this party, who insisted on selling me a battery cheap. I forget the name of the catcher in this battery, but the pitcher's name is Lil Stoner. I remember him as having worked here and there in the major leagues a few years ago. He was $1,500 and the catcher was $500.

It Might Be Manslaughter.

I wonder if, considering all the circumstances, the authorities can do anything to me about this check when it bounces back. I might even be held for first degree manslaughter, because this check is 100 per cent rubber and when it does bounce back it is likely to knock that pest's head off.

This happened in one of those world series suites. Up to 2 o'clock in the morning the situation was well in hand. Several of us had been visiting quietly with Judge Landis and Mrs. Landis in their rooms until about 11. Then we all left and a couple of us went to my room for just one moment before turning in. We had one, and then we got interested in some major problems of the day, and the first thing we knew it was about 2 o'clock, and we started down the hall for the elevator intending to get some scrambled eggs and tomato juice before turning in. On the way down the hall, however, we heard sounds of revelry from this suite and I said "Party."

"Shall we drop in for a minute?" my friend suggested.

Got to Be Broadminded.

"Sounds like some girls in there," I said. "You know how it is about me and girls when I'm out on the road at these daffy shows like the world series and all? I just like to spin tops with them and get their angle. In our business you've got to be broadminded about things, and what harm is there in sitting around a suite telling a few lies? A fellow can't ask girls to sit out on the curb."

"Oh, sure; that's my idea," my friend said, and just then we came to the door of the suite and out of the door popped a minor league magnate whom we both knew. He had his hat on.

"Hello," he exclaimed very cordially. "Why don't you boys bounce in for a minute and inhale a couple of quickies? Make yourselves at home. Some nice people here. This is Mr. Mwaw and this is Mr. Mnah and these ladies are Miss——." Here he uttered a couple of blurry sounds that might have been Indian names, and started for the door again. "You'll excuse me, won't you?" he said, "I've got to be measured for a suit."

All Is Confusion.

As I said, there was a lot of confusion in the suite. There was a litter of smudgy ice and water and soggy beer labels and half-submerged bottles of beer in the bathtub. One of the ladies sat on a sofa with her legs apparently drawn up into her body as those in an airplane in flight, like the wheels of an airplane in flight, babbling, "Don't put any ginger ale

INJURY FATAL

REUBEN GETSCHOW.

Elmhurst Grid Star Dies of a Broken Neck

Reuben Getschow, 23 years old, football captain of Elmhurst college, whose neck was broken a week ago Saturday in a game with Valparaiso university, died of his injury yesterday morning at the Passavant hospital, just as his team mates were about to tell him of their victory over the Milwaukee State Teachers' college football team on Saturday.

It had been thought by physicians that news of the victory would cheer Getschow and aid him in his battle against death. The news had been kept from him Saturday because of his weakened condition.

Getschow's home was in Appleton, Wis. His parents were present when he died.

Four years ago Getschow's back was broken while he was working on a construction job at Appleton. He survived the injury without any permanent ill effects.

RED WINGS BEAT SAINTS, 2-1; LEAD IN SERIES, 3 TO 1

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Rochester, International league champions, took a commanding lead in the little world series by defeating St. Paul, 2 to 1, here today. The Red Wings hold an advantage of three games to one.

George Puccinelli's home run in the ninth inning with one out and the score tied at 1-all was the margin of victory.

La Doumegue Sets New Record for Mile Run

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Jules La Doumegue, French middle distance star, today set a new world's record for the mile run when he covered the distance in 4 minutes 1-5 seconds. La Doumegue's performance clipped more than a second from the accepted world's record of 4:10 3-5, set by Paavo Nurmi in 1923.

PACKERS SPOT GIANTS A SCORE, THEN WIN, 27-7

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 4.—The Green Bay Packers today unfurled their two championship banners and then proceeded to whip the New York Giants, 27 to 7, for their fourth consecutive victory of the National Professional Football league season. The win left the Packers two up in their series with the Giants, a set of games that started in 1928. More than 14,000, another capacity crowd, attended.

The New Yorkers were the first to score when Red Flaherty broke through and blocked Mule Wilson's punt on the Packers' 35 yard line in the opening quarter. The ball was deflected from Flaherty's chest, but he chased it, picked it up and ran 15 yards for the touchdown. Hap Moran's kick from placement scored the seventh point.

Packers March to Goal.

Four first downs five minutes later placed Green Bay in a position to tie the score. Verne Lewellen had the honor of scoring, crashing through left tackle for ten yards and the touchdown. Red Dunn added the extra point by placement.

Tom Nash's return of Wyckoff's punt paved the way for the second Packer score a minute later, Green Bay taking off from the Giants' 33 yard line. Bo Molenda's 32 yard plunge on a spinner and Lewellen's dive through right tackle were the final factors in the touchdown. Dunn again converted to make the figures, Green Bay, 14; Giants, 7. The first quarter ended two plays later.

Just after Jug Earpe had intercepted Moran's pass on the Giants' 42 yard line in the second quarter, Wuert Englemann raced around right end for the third Packers' touchdown. Dunn failed on the try for extra point. It is claimed that Dunn has missed only three times in three or four years.

Scoreless Third Quarter.

Hurdis McCrary was successful on spinner plays in the third quarter, but despite all the ground he gained, the Packers couldn't put it over. They got as close as the five yard line and had a down in which to make it, only to have Hank Bruder's pass to Fitzgibbon fall incomplete for a touchback.

The Giants took the ball on their 20 yard line and immediately were forced to punt. Once more Green Bay started a march, but that was terminated when Bruder shot another incomplete fourth down pass.

The final quarter hardly had opened before the Packers scored. They came into possession of the ball after a punt on the Giants' 46 yard line. Lewellen opened with a two yard thrust through the line. Then, a pass, Dunn to Blood, added 14 yards and put the ball on the Giants' 30 yard line. Two line smashes added five yards and then Dunn threw to Blood for the touchdown. Dunn made the extra point.

BEARS WIN, 36-6, AS MOLESWORTH, NESBITT STAR

Keith Molesworth and Dick Nesbitt, with two touchdowns each, led the Chicago Bears to a 36 to 6 victory over Cicero yesterday before 5,000 on Morton High school field.

The Bears scored early in the first period when Lintzenich ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Nagurski and Molesworth also scored in the opening period. Nesbitt's two touchdowns came in the second quarter. Molesworth completed the Bears' scoring when he plunged over late in the third quarter for his second touchdown. Cicero's touchdown was scored in the last period.

STAPLETON WINS, 9-7.

New York, Oct. 4. — (AP) — Ken Strong's third quarter field goal from the 30 yard line enabled Stapleton to open its home season in the National Professional Football league with a 9 to 7 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, at Staten Island today.

Until Strong's successful kick, neither team had been able to score although both had threatened on several occasions. Stapleton scored a touchdown early in the fourth quarter when McLean, formerly of Iowa, grabbed a long pass from Strong and galloped 40 yards to the goal line. This score was nullified by a Brooklyn touchdown in the closing minutes of play, McBride plunging across from the three yard line after a march down field. Peters added the extra point.

PHILADELPHIA IN 0-0 TIE.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Philadelphia's Yellow Jackets, led by Herb Joesting, battled the Providence eleven to a scoreless tie today.

Sox Play for $7,371.62 in Series Today

The White Sox will be playing for $7,371.62 this afternoon in their effort to end the city series. This represents the difference between the series winners' end, $22,264.86 and the losers' end, $14,893.24.

There were at least four plays the like of which most of yesterday's customers never saw before. Jolley hit a ball through an 8 inch square hole in the scoreboard in deep left center. Catcher Hemsley got an unassisted putout in the foul territory off right field. Pitcher Smith's intended 20 foot throw to third base hit the left field wall. A bean ball thrown at Fonseca's head hit his shouldered bat and went fair to advance a runner to third base.

Charley Root was rather provoked when he walked Red Faber in the second inning, Red having batted .076 in the American league season. And Charley nearly swooned when Red singled with one on base in the exciting fifth. By the time Red made his second hit, Charley was ready to expect anything.

"Cub folks, hell. I hitched my horse in this space when I first started pitching for the Sox and I've been parking autos here for nigh onto 18 summers."

And Mr. Urban Faber's auto stayed right where Red parked it.

Hundreds of fans were thrilled when Bob Weiland started warming up in the bull pen during the fourth inning. They were Lefty Bob's relatives.

There was a squawk when Woody English opened the game by being called out on strikes without taking a single swing for himself. Umpire Quigley didn't change his mind, however. Woody fanned again in the third, but there was no beef on this occasion.

The reason given for sending Pat Malone right back after pitching six innings Saturday was that he at present is too fat for the market. But he didn't have enough stuff to take a workout, and was yanked forthwith.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Big Smead Jolley yesterday again met his "cousin," Charley Root, and what Smead did to Charles was even more wicked than what he did in the first game of the city series. In the first game all Smead could do was a homer with one on to give the Sox a lead and victory. Yesterday Smead gave his team a lead that never disappeared by cracking another homer, this time with the bases loaded.

The Sox were so delighted with this repetition of Jolley malevolence towards Root that they kept right on slugging everybody Manager Hornsby could dig up for pitching purposes. The eventual score was White Sox, 13; Cubs, 6, which gave the south siders an edge in the series, three games to two.

Four Home Runs.

Jolley's home run was one of four in the game, which was witnessed by 41,523 persons who paid to get in. Jolley's was the first and it set the score at Sox 6, Cubs 3. Cuyler led off the sixth with the No. 2 homer of the contest, and it made the score Sox 6, Cubs 4. In the seventh Hemsley knocked one, and the score became Sox 6, Cubs 5. And Bill Cissell wound up the homer business in the eighth by knocking the ball into the left field stands with two on base.

This afternoon the battle scene will be shifted to Wrigley field, where Vic Frasier will be given a chance to win the city championship over that able battler Guy Bush. If the Cubs win, the final game will be fought out on the north side tomorrow.

Quintet of Sox Heroes.

Although Jolley's performance in the game yesterday was more dramatic than the work of any other player, it would be unfair to give him all the hero honors. You've got to cut in Cissell, Johnny Watwood, Ted Lyons, and old Red Faber, who won his second victory of the series, although he retired in the seventh after having been made weary by his work on the bases. Red's base running was occasioned by the fact that he had a perfect day at bat with a walk and two singles. Two singles, incidentally, are just half the number of hits he made during the entire American league season.

Before starting the detailed account, why wouldn't it be a good idea to summarize the accomplishments of the gents in the foregoing hero list?

Jolley—Drove in the first Sox run with a long fly in the first inning; knocked the ball into the right field stand with Faber, Watwood and Cissell on bases in the fifth; walked and later scored in the seventh; knocked the ball through a slot in the left center score board in the eighth and was held to a double by ground rules, later to score on a double by Blue.

What Cissell Did.

Cissell—Singled in the first inning to put Watwood on third in a scoring position; drove home Grube with a single in the fifth, and got on to score on Jolley's homer; singled in the seventh to launch an onslaught which resulted in three Sox runs and put the game on ice; knocked a homer in the eighth with Grube and Watwood on base.

Watwood—Made three singles and scored after each.

Lyons—Relieved Faber in the seventh with the tying run on second, as a result of English's double; got the side out and took it easy the rest of the way, because the Sox made seven runs after he entered the game.

The first inning saw the score tied at one all. For the Cubs, Herman walked and got around on Cuyler's out and Bell's single. For the Sox Watwood singled and so did Cissell. Watwood reaching third and Cissell taking second on Cuyler's throw to third, and then Watwood scored on Jolley's fly.

Cubs Gain 2-1 Lead.

In the fourth, the Cubs grabbed a 2 to 1 lead. Bell got his second single

MATE MAY TAKE LEAVE OF TURF AS CHAMPION

Victory in Cup Practically Assured.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Mate, the 3 year old which thrilled 50,000 Chicagoans at Arlington Park last July when he beat Twenty Grand and many other 3 year old rivals in the $70,000 Classic, most likely will go into retirement when the snow flies, regarded as the best of his age in America.

Of course a lot of folks will yell "Where are you going to place Twenty Grand?"

It is a very legitimate squawk. For hasn't Twenty Grand won a Kentucky Derby, a Belmont stakes, a Saratoga Gold Cup, a Lawrence Realization and a Jockey Club Gold Cup?

What About Twenty Grand?

Horses which gallop through these contests to victory usually are regarded as champions. They are often looked upon as more than a champion for a lot of people will call them super horses.

Yet in all the victories Twenty Grand beat Mate but once. He administered the trimming in the Kentucky Derby when he turned in the most sensational mile and a quarter a 3 year old ever ran.

In two other very important 3 year old fixtures—the Preakness in Maryland and the Classic at Arlington—Mate shook his flying heels in the eyes of Twenty Grand. Mate also won an American Derby, but Twenty Grand didn't go to the post in that race so it had nothing to do with the Mate-Twenty Grand controversy which is likely to cause many street corner debates late this fall and winter.

Passes Up Cup.

The Twenty Grand-Mate fight was to have come back to Chicago this week. The Hawthorne Gold Cup is to be run at the old Hawthorne course on Thursday afternoon. It is a mile and a quarter contest at weight for age, which means that Twenty Grand and Mate each would pack 120 pounds and their famous old rival Sun Beau would get in at 126 pounds.

But Twenty Grand declined the issue. He isn't coming west to race for the Cup, his trainer, James Rowe announced. Mate is on the grounds ready for the battle. So is old Sun Beau.

Why did Twenty Grand pass up the Hawthorne gold cup? Why did he pass up the Havre de Grace cup worth $20,000 in Maryland on Saturday? Horsemen shake their heads and say: "He can't be training right or he would at least have tried for one of the stakes."

Sun Beau Spry.

If Twenty Grand is a super horse he should have won both stakes. When he could have gone after the Latonia championship stakes and one other stake of the late fall season in Maryland. If he is a super horse he should have won all of them and would have topped Sun Beau's record for high money winning honors this year.

In the Mate camp at Hawthorne the news that Twenty Grand is not coming west caused no concern. "It makes our victory in the gold cup all the more certain," said one of Mate's handlers. "But we all wanted to give Twenty Grand one more licking this year."

Sun Beau, after a very dismal showing in the mid-west handicap at Hawthorne on Saturday, was stepping about like a 2 year old in his quarters at Hawthorne yesterday. He gave everybody the impression that he will run a different race in the cup which is at a mile and a quarter while the mid west was only at a mile and a sixteenth.

Two Feature Races.

After Sun Beau's ordinary showing in the mid west handicap it may be that all the eligibles to the gold cup with the exception of Twenty Grand may go to the post. For when a horse like Uncommon Gold beats Sun Beau anything is liable to happen. And in these times the owner of most any sort of a horse is willing to take a flyer at a $25,000 purse.

Two good races are on the Hawthorne program this afternoon. It is rodeo day and one of the features has been named the bull dogger purse. It is at six furlongs and engages fashionable 2 year olds. The other good race is a sprint affair called the calf roper purse.

Greentree 4 Loses, 11 to 9, to Templeton

Westbury, N. Y., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A great seventh chukker rally gave Winston Guest's Templeton team a 11 to 9 victory over Tommy Hitchcock's quartet in the final match of the Monty Waterbury high goal handicap polo tournament here today.

A crowd of 3,000 saw Templeton come from behind in the seventh period with three goals to win.

Rally Falls.

Hitchcock, playing a brilliant game, made a desperate effort to rally, but young Mike Phipps carried the ball from mid-field to score the only goal of the final chukker.

Aided by a two goal handicap and a pair of goals by Winston Guest, Templeton rolled into an early lead, but the 27 goal Greentree team began to count in the second as Hitchcock scored the first of his three goals.

At the half way mark the Hitchcock four had tied the score, and with Jock Whitney and Stewart Iglehart scoring, gained what appeared to be a safe lead in the fifth and sixth periods. Guest rallied his forces in the seventh chukker, however, with Phipps first taking a pass from Devereaux Milburn to score and then being followed by Milburn's only goal of the game and Raymond Guest's counter after the bell had rung.

Substitution Boosts Handicap.

G. H. [Pete] Bostwick started at No. 2 for Greentree, but a weak knee forced him out in the second period. Mills taking his place. The substitution gave Templeton an added handicap goal. The lineup:

| TEMPLETON. | | GREENTREE. |
|---|---|---|
| Michael Phipps | No. 1 | J. H. Whitney |
| Winston Guest | No. 2 | H. G. Bostwick |
| Devereux Milburn | No. 3 | T. Hitchcock Jr. |

NOTRE DAME, N. U. PROVE READINESS FOR COMING TEST

Both Show Scoring Power in Opening Games.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Northwestern and Notre Dame hurdled their opening football opponents successfully Saturday and now advance undefeated to their test at Soldiers' field next Saturday. While Notre Dame's victory over Indiana, 25 to 6, was expected, although not by such a margin perhaps, a Northwestern victory over Nebraska also was needed to make this week's contest between the rivals a natural attraction. The nation noted with interest how Elite Rockne's boys carried on without him. The Western conference and Big Six were equally interested in the Nebraska-Northwestern affair at Evanston, which went to the Wildcats, 13 to 7. But the Pacific coast followed the progress of St. Mary's of Oakland, Cal., toward an unofficial championship.

The Notre Dame of the West.

St. Mary's, under the direction of Slip Madigan, rapidly is becoming the Notre Dame of the west. Coach Madigan, former Irish star, has had remarkable success. Last season his team won eight games and lost one, a 7 to 6 defeat by the University of California.

One week ago St. Mary's defeated Southern California, 13 to 6, giving the Trojans an early setback, just as Washington State had in 1930, when the Cougars marched on to the coast championship after a 7 to 6 victory over Southern California. Saturday St. Mary's whipped California, 14 to 6, and now, although it is not a member of the Coast conference, it seems on the road to unofficial recognition. With the exception of these games, Saturday was a day of preparation in the larger grid camps for more important contests to come.

You Can't Tell by the Scores.

Early season scores are misleading. On occasion coaches hold back, for too much success may mean defeat later through overconfidence. Such games are also tryouts of candidates for the varsity. The outstanding game of the high score practice affairs Saturday was Ohio State's 67 to 6 victory over Cincinnati. It takes a lot of running to score 67 points, even against a weak opponent, and Ohio State, with a high percentage of veterans back from the 1930 team which whipped Pitt and Navy among other foes, evidently is prepared to shoot the works.

After the game with Vanderbilt this week at Columbus, the Buckeyes will go to Ann Arbor for their opening conference engagement against Michigan. That game now looms as all important to both. The Wolverines warmed up with a pair of easy games, defeating the Central State Teachers' eight, 27 to 0, and Michigan State Normal, 34 to 0. This week Michigan meets Chicago.

Purdue's hope of a title to match the first it scored in 1929 under Coach Jimmy Phelan rests on the outcome of this week's game with Illinois. The Boilermakers won handily from Western Reserves, 25 to 0, and from Coe, 19 to 0. Purdue's first string backs, White, Risk, Purvis, and Tunevich, demonstrated their ability, but Coach Kizer well may worry about his more inexperienced linemen.

Illinois Passes First Test.

Down at Champaign the Illinois team was tested against the Notre Dame style of play. St. Louis university was the opponent, and Coach Bob Zuppke scheduled the game for the practice it would give his line against the type of attack Purdue will use Saturday.

Illinois won, 20 to 6, a typical early season Illinois score. Big Dave Cook and his sophomore associates on the Illini eleven took the field after the second team had spotted Ft. Louis its touchdown, and marched to victory.

Wisconsin also won a double header whipping North Dakota State, 12 to 1, and Bradley Tech, 33 to 0. The Badgers had the same one touchdown margin over State that Minnesota demonstrated last week against the same team. Both Wisconsin touchdowns were the result of forward passes, for the Badgers' running attack was unable to function. Auburn will give Wisconsin a more complete test next Saturday in preparation for the opening conference game a week later against Purdue.

Iowa fell before the Pitt Panthers, 25 to 0. Pittsburgh's play was a methodical repetition of plunging and running which the Hawkeye line, weakened by injuries, could not stop. Pitt, as a result, looms as dangerous for Notre Dame later on.

W. and J. Surprises Tech.

Carnegie Tech, also a future Notre Dame opponent, was the victim of a surprise defeat by Washington and Jefferson, 19 to 7. A 20 yard place kick, almost a rarity since the goal posts have been set back to the end lines, was scored by W. and J. in the third period to break a 7 to 7 tie.

Minnesota had no trouble winning from the Oklahoma Aggies, 20 to 0. The Aggies, on the basis of last season's record, were expected to make it a close battle. The Gophers left immediately for the Pacific coast, where they meet Stanford Saturday in an effort to settle their scoreless tie held over from 1930.

Eastern Games Are One-Sided.

Results in the east, with the exception of Navy's 12 to 6 victory over William and Mary, were one-sided. Army's veteran eleven ran over Knox college, 47 to 6. Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Dartmouth, Colgate, New York university and Pennsylvania won as they pleased.

It was the same story in the south, with Alabama taking high scoring honors by whipping Mississippi, 55 to 6. Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Florida, Georgia and Texas also won by top-heavy counts. Texas defeated Missouri, 31 to 0, a score reminiscent of Missouri's disastrous 1930 campaign.

On the west coast, Southern California defeated Oregon State, 20 to 0; Washington beat Montana, 25 to 0; Oregon had a 9 to 0 margin over Idaho and Washington State won from California [Los Angeles], 13 to 0. Stanford nosed out Santa Clara, 6 to 0.

Decide Chicago's Fate in Class Rooms This Week

Whether Chicago will be able to put a good team or only a mediocre one on the field against Michigan at Ann Arbor next Saturday will be decided early this week.

The most important unknown factor is the eligibility of Pat Page Jr., which will be determined tomorrow when young Pat takes a final examination in German. Coach Stagg is banking heavily on Page's knowledge of German and has been playing him regularly at half and full back in practice.

If he makes the scholastic grade the Wolverines will be faced with the best plunger Chicago has had since the Thomas brothers. Young Pat is also an excellent punter ad a fair passer.

Two veteran backs, Lou Kanne, who backed up the line and kicked well last year, and Joe Temple, a two letter man, also will attempt to clear up their eligibility this week. The case of another ineligible, Aufdenspring, who stood out at full back on last year's freshman squad, is considered more hopeful.

Paul Stagg's injured leg has progressed satisfactorily and he is expected to be in uniform today calling signals. Three sophomores, Sahlin, Pete Zimmer and Page, if he is eligible, will probably start with Stagg in the back field.

MICHIGAN IMPRESSIVE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Boasting a record of 12 games won and two tied in the last 14 they have played, Michigan's gridmen will start work tomorrow for their first Big Ten test of the current season, next Saturday's contest with Chicago.

The Wolverines came through their opening engagements with Central State Teachers and Michigan Normal without serious injury Saturday.

IRISH OFFENSE POOR

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Obviously displeased by the appearance of his Notre Dame team in its victory over Indiana yesterday, Coach Heartly Anderson returned here today to say that he still cannot see a victory over Northwestern next Saturday.

The squad came through its first test uninjured and will be ready to go to work tomorrow, doing away with the usual Monday layoff, in the best of physical condition.

"Our line showed up well on defense, but we didn't get the test we expected on pass defense. So I don't know how our back field will be when Rentner starts throwing 'em Saturday."

Anderson had plenty of fault to find with the Irish offense. The guards were pulling out too slow, in his opinion, and offensive polish generally was lacking.

PURPLE PRACTICES SECRET

Now that the Nebraska hurdle has been successfully negotiated, Northwestern's football team will resume preparations for Notre Dame at Soldiers' field Saturday.

Nebraska provided Northwestern with just the test Coach Dick Hanley was seeking. Two weaknesses stood out. They were a tendency to fumble and a laxity on forward pass defense. The latter resulted in Nebraska's touchdown.

The Wildcats escaped the Nebraska game without injury. Reb Russell, who was forced from the game in the third quarter, is expected to report for practice today.

Starting today all practices will be conducted behind closed doors.

Max Hafford, ticket manager at Northwestern, announced last night that plenty of seats are still available for Saturday's game. He stated further that purchases should be made at the various ticket offices in the loop and Evanston rather than by mail orders. Tickets ordered by mail at this date may not be filled in time for the game, he said.

NOW ILLINI FEAR PURDUE

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Encouragement over the showing of the young Illini against St. Louis yesterday was somewhat overshadowed today by reports of the strength of Purdue, brought back from Lafayette by Milt Olander, who scouted the Boilermakers. Olander said Purdue was much farther along than Illinois on account of veteran material and was fitted with an abundance of backs, including a good new man, Hecker.

OLIPHANT BREAKS ANKLE

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Although Ohio State defeated the University of Cincinnati, 67 to 0, yesterday, the victory proved costly because of injuries to regular players.

Work will begin tomorrow in preparation for Vanderbilt. The game will mark the third meeting between the two schools, Vandy having won the previous games, the first in 1908 by 17 to 6 and again in 1909 by 6 to 0.

Adams Rejoins Cards Against Macks Today

St. Louis infield all season, has been out because of a twisted ankle. He limped slightly during the drill, but thinks that by tomorrow afternoon that handicap will have vanished. In the two games already played third base has been the Cardinal's chief weakness, so Sparky's return naturally is regarded by his mates as something to smile about. Adams will top the batting order and there isn't much of him to pitch to.

Pepper Martin, the ex-Oklahoma oil field worker who rode the rods to get himself a baseball job, is still in the mood to give the famed Mickey Cochrane's throwing arm another thowing up. You will recall that Pepper not only made five hits in the two battles, but in the second ran wild on the bases and in that way alone promoted the Cards into the two runs scored. If Martin does any more tricks of that kind, experts who always have insisted that Cochrane couldn't throw in the same class with Hartnett will come up out of their shelter and yell, "We told you so."

The strange play that let Pinch Batter Moore get to first on a third strike in the ninth inning of the second game and put the decision in jeopardy for a few minutes still is engrossing the attention of the writers. Some insist Pitcher Hallahan should have been given the error. Others believe the official scorers were right in slipping it to Catcher Wilson. Now another faction has come up with the argument that Third Baseman Flowers should be charged with the error.

Some Call It Wild Pitch.

Those who want Hallahan penalized say that so long as the ball came over so low that it hit the dirt before Wilson had a chance to catch it, it was a wild pitch, which under the conditions would be scored a pitching error. Those clinging to the idea that Wilson was the goat take the stand that because Wilson caught the ball on the first hop and then blundered by throwing to third, he deserved the charge.

Flowers now is involved in the dispute, because after taking Wilson's unexpected throw to third he not only neglected to step on third, thus forcing Foxx, but then held the ball instead of throwing it to first. There was ample time for the latter play, because Moore didn't start running until after Coach Collins had told him to get moving. Even Umpire Bill Klem is charged with being at fault in the play. The umpire naggers say the play was so unexpected that Klem wasn't looking.

A peculiar angle was admitted by Flowers. He said that he had promised a ball to a friend and that when it came to him after what he supposed was the final out he decided to keep it. That explains why he didn't throw it to first.

Wilson Takes Blame.

Catcher Wilson is playing the big hearted boy in the argument. He says he made a mistake by throwing to third, but the point is that no throw would have been necessary if it had been possible to make a catch of the third strike to Moore. And a throw to third, had it beaten Foxx to the bag, would have served the same purpose as a throw to first. In either case it would have meant the third out.

There are supposed to be some tickets still available for the games here. It is supposed that this is the result of many people not calling for reservations. But it may be just another indication of Philadelphia's enthusiasm. The tipoff on the town came about a week ago when only 4,000 paid to see the Athletics and Phillies in a charity game.

Sox Bombard Cubs' Pitchers; Win, 13 to 6

with one out and scored on Barton's double. D. Taylor grounded to Cissell and Barton was sunk at third. Danny then stole second and scored on Grimm's second hit, a single to center.

Root looked great in the Sox half of the fourth. He caused Blue and Sullivan to be called out on strikes and threw out Kerr.

In the fifth, the Cubs failed to get the ball out of the infield and this encouraged Manager Bush to flash the base hit sign to his batsmen in the Sox half of the inning. Grube, Faber, and Watwood singled to fill the bases, and Cissell singled to score Grube and keep the bases full. It was at this point that Jolley crashed his homer. Fonseca and Blue were put out, but Sullivan beat out a hit, only to be tagged by Catcher Hemsley when he turned the wrong way after reaching first. Don't wonder about this. It was Hemsley, and Sullivan was tagged in right field after Rolley had recovered a throw past first.

Lyons Stops Cubs.

As we've told you, homers by Cuyler and Hemsley had the score at 6 to 5, when Faber retired for Lyons with English on second and two out in the seventh. Lyons threw a strike and three balls to Herman, then Billy tapped to Kerr for the third out.

Malone tried to pitch the seventh. Cissell greeted him with a single and Jolley walked, after which Manager Hornsby recalled that Sunday follows Saturday night and hastened to get Pat out of the picture. Bob Smith came in and did much worse than Pat probably would have done, regardless. Fonseca laid down a bunt and Smith, attempting to get Cissell at third, threw the ball so far past Bell that it actually rolled against the left field wall. This enabled Cissell and Jolley to score and Fonseca to reach third, whence he scored on Sullivan's fly.

In the eighth Grube and Watwood singled and came home on Cissell's homer. Jolley knocked the ball through the score board, went to third when Smith's wide throw bounced fair off Fonseca's shouldered bat and scored on Blue's double. May came in and fanned Sullivan to terminate the Sox offensive.

Over in a corner, in the cabaret glow of a standing lamp, a big man with a dead cigar in his mouth sat in a big chair, snoring, and a man who was passing high glasses around was singing "The brewer's big horses they ran over him."

For Sale—Ball Players.

Then there was this man with a soft, Georgia purr, marred by an occasional "Hipf, pardon me," who came up and said, "What club you with?"

"No club," I said, "newspaper business."

"I'm goin' to make you a present," he said. "I'm goin' sell you swell pitcher for fifteen nunner dollars. Goin' sell you Lil Stoner, fifteen nunner dollars. Goin' prackly give you swell casher, fi' hunner. Pitcher, casher two thous' cash or stamps. Stoner goin' have great year nesh ear. Got a check?"

"I'm no club owner," I said patiently. "Newspaper business. Sport writer."

"Wha' paper?" he demanded. "I read your write-ups. 'Slousy write-ups. Wha' paper? Fifteen nunner dollars and casher for fi' hunner."

No Use Arguing.

He had his arm around my neck. He had a leg around my legs. He was breathing right into my eyes. He couldn't be argued with. I would tell him I wasn't a magnate; that I was only newspaper. He would agree utterly that I was not a magnate, but newspaper bish and add, politely, "I know; don' mind 't I say what I think about your writeups, do you? I think 'slousy,'" and then would insist on selling me Lil Stoner and this casher.

At 4 o'clock we all got into a taxi, including the man who had been run over by the brewer's big horses, to go after those scrambled eggs and the tomato juice at last. This pest was the last one to the cab and there was a lot of sitting on laps even then. So it looked as though I might escape without buying Lil Stoner and the casher. But, no, he said he would ride on the running board and when we finally hove to at the dairy lunch downtown he dropped into the chair next mine and said, "What you got agains' Lil Stoner, anyway; 's a good pitcher, ainey? Fifteen nunner for a good pitcher. What you want for the money? You prob'ly want Grove. Try an' get Grove. Try an' get Al Simmons."

Buy It in for the Lady.

The lady who had sat on the sofa took an odd slant on all this. She said, "Red, get him for me, baby, get me Lil' Stoner. I'll give him a good home. I'll give his casher a good home, too. Ain't you going to buy 'em for me, Red?"

The propaganda was getting too strong and, besides, it was at that hour of the morning when courage is at the ebb.

"Anybody got a check?" I asked. Somebody did have a check. I filled it in, signed it and got a bill of sale for Lil' Stoner and a casher whose name I can't quite make out, due to haste and bad pen, no doubt.

So I wish to warn the great southwest to be on the alert and forget not to duck if they hear a sizzling sound like that of a shell in flight, for that would be my check bouncing around between Fort Worth and St. Louis.

What can they do to me for this?

DEATH TO OPEN H. C. FRICK ART TO PUBLIC GAZE

Passing of Widow Makes Home a Gallery.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—By the death of Mrs. Henry Clay Frick, widow of the Pittsburgh manufacturer, in Pride's Crossing, Mass., her husband's art collection with the house which contains it, at 1 East 70th street, all valued at between $30,000,000 and $50,000,000 is released to the public under Mr. Frick's will. The valuation includes a $15,000,000 endowment left by Mr. Frick for the support of the collection.

Mrs. Frick died at her home, Eagle Rock, yesterday. With her was her daughter, Miss Helen Clay Frick of New York, and her son, Childs Frick of Roslyn, L. I. She was 72 years old.

Funeral Services Today.

Private funeral services will be conducted at Eagle Rock tomorrow by the Rev. Neilson Poe Carey, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Beverly Farms, Mass., and Mrs. Frick's body will be taken in a private car to Pittsburgh, where additional services will be held at her home, Clayton, at 11 a. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in the family plot at Homewood cemetery.

Mr. Frick, who died in 1919, provided that after his wife's death the house, the collection and the fund should be employed "for the use and benefit of all persons." Mrs. Frick was left a life estate in the house and the collection was left to nine trustees, who incorporated "the Frick collection" some years after Mr. Frick's death.

Mellon Among Trustees.

On the death of Mr. Harding, Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, was named in his place.

The board has made no decision as to the ultimate disposal of the collection, but it is understood that it will continue to remain where it is and that the home will become a public museum.

Mrs. Frick was the former Adelaide Howard Childs, daughter of the late Asa P. Childs of Pittsburgh. She was married on Dec. 15, 1881. Four children were born, of whom Miss Helen and Childs Frick survive.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The Story Thus Far

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: The Chairman

HOOVER STARTS GETTING DATA TO WRITE MESSAGE

He Will Confer with Official Family.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.] — President Hoover returned from his Rapidan fishing camp late today prepared to begin a series of conferences with members of his official family on current domestic financial problems and topics which will be stressed in his annual message to congress, a document which this year will cover an unusually wide field.

Banking matters together with possible measures to be taken in an effort to stem the downward trend of the bear market were two subjects which have and will continue to engage the attention of the President. On Saturday Mr. Hoover deferred his trip to the Rapidan to discuss financial matters with treasury officials and today Undersecretary Mills was in conference for several hours with George Harrison, president of the New York Reserve bank, and a number of other bankers, some of them en route to Atlantic City for the bankers' convention this week.

Sees Ball Game Today.

White House officials denied that the President's early return from the Rapidan, where he spent an unusually short week-end, was occasioned by any new development in the domestic or foreign financial or business situation. It was said that he simply wanted to get a good night's rest before leaving tomorrow for Philadelphia where he will attend the third baseball game of the world series.

Conferences between the President, Col. J. Clawson Roop, director of the budget; members of the cabinet, and leading Republican congressmen will be daily occurrences from now until the annual message is ready for the printers. Financial matters will dominate the message as well as the opening weeks of congress. In his report on the state of the nation the President will deal with such topics as taxation, the war debt and reparations moratorium, disarmament, and its attendant financial aspects, the need of economy in government, emergency construction legislation and appropriations for unemployment relief, measures for stabilizing business and a host of other projects which in one way or another touch the public purse.

May Back World Court.

The President most likely will urge ratification of the world court and touch on American participation in the approaching Geneva arms conference.

The membership of the delegation which will represent the United States at Geneva will be selected shortly. A skeleton organization of experts already has been called together. In some quarters it is said that the delegation will consist of but three or four members and that admirals may be absent from the American technical staff.

10 SLAIN IN RIOTS AS CHILE ELECTS MONTERO CHIEF

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Ten persons were unofficially reported killed in rioting in Chile's presidential election today. Fifty persons were reported to have been wounded and some 200 arrested.

One man was killed in a street riot in Santiago and another died in an attack on the Montero headquarters here. A group fired on the building and the occupants returned the fire. A reporter for a Santiago newspaper was injured fatally when his automobile collided with another on the way to the military academy, where a riot was reported. The report of a disturbance later was denied.

Incomplete returns late today indicated that Dr. Juan Esteban Montero, Conservative, had received at least 60 per cent of the votes cast. A candidate is required by the constitution to poll half of the total number of votes for election. Headquarters of former President Arturo Alessandri, Radical, refused, however, to concede Montero's election.

SCIENCE TESTS NEW METHOD IN CURE OF ANEMIA

Find Liver Extract of Added Virtue.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A new form of liver extract which cures secondary anemia in dogs has been developed at the University of Rochester school of medicine.

Secondary anemia is a common human affliction. Its cause differs radically from that of pernicious anemia, but it is usually accompanied by great physical or mental lassitude.

The Rochester discovery does much toward settling a dispute whether liver feeding is useful in this more common but less fatal form of anemia, as it is in the pernicious variety. The extract was developed by C. H. Whipple, M. D., dean of the medical school; F. S. Robscheit-Robbins, and C. B. Walden.

Follows First Discovery.

The previous discovery that liver extract relieves pernicious anemia was based upon laboratory work with animals done by Drs. Whipple, Robscheit-Robbins, and Hooper, although the final human application was made by others.

Fresh hog liver finely grounded into water containing dilute sulphuric acid is heated to 80-85 degrees centigrade and filtered. The filtrate is evaporated to a thick syrup and precipitated with 70 per cent alcohol. The portion insoluble in 70 per cent alcohol is dried and ground. This is called the secondary anemia fraction. It weighs but three per cent of the original whole liver, yet contains 65 to 75 per cent of the potency of the whole liver.

New Extract Palatable.

The new extract is palatable. One difficulty of treating anemias has been the rebellion of the stomach at taking the large quantities of liver necessary. The Rochester preparation can be taken "in considerable quantities without clinical disturbance."

The Rochester work shows that more than one factor in diet is involved in the cure of anemia. The liver fraction which relieves pernicious anemia has little effect on the secondary.

In both forms of anemia there is lack of red blood cells. Dr. Whipple reports that in secondary anemia, there is a deficiency of building material for both cell structure and hemoglobin pigment whereas in pernicious anemia there already exists an excess of pigment building substances but some deficiency prevents its utilization by the body. This deficiency may have to do with stroma [cell framework] formation.

It is like a builder of a red brick house, with the red blood cell corresponding to the house. In secondary anemia there are not enough bricks to make the house. In pernicious, there are more than enough, but the body lacks something with which to stick them together into the completed structure.

Liver supplies the missing something, and the speedy recovery is spectacular, because all the red cell elements are waiting in the body. But secondary anemia recovery is slower, because the body must make its "brick" substances from the ground up.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 4.—Temporary economic stress has done what all the dry laws and dry fleets and dry squads of two nations failed to accomplish. It has cut in half Canada's whisky shipments to the United States.

Canada's liquor exports dropped from $28,405,000 in the twelve months ending August, 1930, to $13,773,000 in the twelve months ending this August. Officially, of course, there are no direct exports of liquor from Canada to the United States, but even the officials whose duty it is to prevent it assume that the bulk of Canada's liquor exports reaches the United States by circuitous routes.

INSULL TALKS ABOUT RUMORS, SHORT SELLING

Says Present Fear Is Unwarranted.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The answer to the question of why the Insull securities have been depressed in the market in common with other stocks is found in La Salle street where the query has been made so many times and not in the operation of the properties in which these issues represent an equity. Such is the impression the reporter carried away yesterday after talking with Samuel Insull, chairman of the board of directors of the utility enterprises.

SAMUEL INSULL.

"Fear caused by the false rumors which have been started by short sellers has caused some of the liquidation," Mr. Insull said. "However," he added, "an examination of the stockholders' lists of the various Insull companies shows that relatively few changes among the people who have been holding the securities for a number of years. The number of stockholders has been increasing steadily in recent months, which is evidence that a great number of people agree with me when I say that public utility stocks are selling on too low a basis.

Discusses Short Selling.

"I am not opposed to short selling," he stated. "I believe that it has an economic function in providing a cushion in declining markets, but I know that it has been used to depress prices of many sound securities out of proportion to their value. I know of no better evidence to support this than the fact that a stockholder in one of our companies who owns 1,500 shares was offered a large premium for each day that he would loan his stock to a short seller.

"There is no reason for the present price of our securities. Business has shown steady improvement all this year. I am not a trader and I judge conditions from the operations of the gas and electrical properties I have charge of.

"In the Chicago district the gas and electric business has shown gains all this year. The decrease in output in this district in September from the comparable month of 1930 was only one third of the decline shown in January.

Trend Reverses.

"From September 1930 to January 1931 the percentage of decline was increasing but from January to September of this year this margin has steadily narrowed down so that now one week shows a slight decline and next week shows a gain as compared with the corresponding periods of 1930. The difference in output for the two years is now so slight as to be almost negligible.

"The output of the operating units of our large holding company, Middle West Utilities, is running way ahead of last year. This company operates in 29 states and serves 4,000 communities. In November of last year business of Middle West was running 6-10 of one per cent below the preceding year while the report on last week's operations shows a gain over last year of 8.7 per cent and the previous week was 1.9 per cent ahead of the corresponding week of 1930.

Business Better Now.

"With these things happening there is no reason why securities should be selling at the present prices when 6 months ago when business was not as good as it is now they were quoted substantially higher."

Mr. Insull said that he was impressed with the manner in which the English people had acted during the recent financial crisis there. They were strikingly calm while in contrast with the attitude shown by many Americans, he stated.

"Whether this was due to difference in natural characteristics I do not know but no one has ever charged Americans with lacking courage," he declared. "Is it not time that we take a hitch and discard our pessimistic attitude," he asked.

Intended to Rest.

Mr. Insull said that his recent trip to England had been intended as a rest but that he arrived there three days before England went off the gold standard and left there three days later. He was so interested in the events taking place that he had little chance to rest, he said. There was little apparent uneasiness as contrasted with what he found in New York when he returned, he added.

As an example of the absurdity of many rumors which are now being circulated, Mr. Insull cited the story which he heard in London the day after he arrived there. A report from New York was brought to his attention to the effect that he had been carried off the steamer in an invalid's wheel chair. Since his return to Chicago, he said, his secretary has had a number of calls from persons inquiring about the rumors of his health.

U. S. Chamber Reports on Slump's Cause and Cure

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—In an exhaustive report on the causes of the depression and steps that should be taken to hasten a return of prosperity, the United States chamber of commerce committee on continuity of business and employment today urged greater local efforts to stimulate employment building, as well as a speeding up of the federal public works program.

The committee report, which now goes to the member chamber organizations for a referendum, was prepared under the chairmanship of Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the board of the New England Power association. It recommends limited amendment of the anti-trust laws, the setting up of a national economic council, establishment of privately sustained systems of unemployment benefits based upon definite reserves previously established, as well as other measures which it asserts would give greater stability to the national business fabric.

Raps Manipulation.

The committee discredits the assumption that technological development has resulted in the permanent reduction of employment by substituting machines for labor. It predicts that the movement for shortening hours of labor for workmen in industry will continue at a more rapid rate. It condemns manipulative speculation which leads to inflation or depression and recommends that "commodity and security exchanges take steps to prevent it."

In addition, more stringent regulations for credit are recommended.

Immediate measures for meeting the problem of unemployment include centralized local organization for providing employment, central registration of workers seeking employment, and the planning and execution of public works. Emphasis is placed on the necessities for local communities to handle their own unemployment and relief problems as far as possible. Expansion of the use of federal funds for extensive new projects are condemned.

This report, which was one of the subjects of week-end discussion by President Hoover and Julius Barnes, head of the chamber, brought some good tidings to the chief executive for it stresses the idea that the depression is sure to end, bringing better times. While not specifying when the end is to be expected, the chamber says that encouraging factors are present today.

Lists Depression Causes.

It lists "wars and catastrophes, undue expansion, and excessive speculation" as contributing factors in business depressions, asserting that in the present instance they "have had a bearing on the intensity and duration of the depression." Permanent national prosperity, the committee states, is dependent upon a reasonably prosperous agricultural population.

Among measures suggested to promote a proper co-ordination of production and consumption is the amendment of the anti-trust laws. It is not suggested that the present anti-trust laws be repealed, but it is suggested that they be amended to provide that:

"[a] Business concerns desiring to do so may enter into contracts for the purpose of equalizing production to consumption and so carrying on business on a sound basis, provided that such contracts are filed with some governmental authority, such contracts to take effect and to remain effective unless the governmental authority having supervision finds on its own initiative or on complaint that such agreements are not in the public interest in which event such agreements would be abrogated, and

"[b] Businesses that desire to do so may combine to find out from some suitable governmental authority before the combination is made whether or not such combination is prohibited by the anti-trust laws."

The proposal of the committee for creation of a national economic council suggests that it be set up by business as an advisory board to consider economic problems.

"Among such problems," it says, "maybe [a] ways in which production can be controlled and directed as a benefit instead of as a menace to prosperity; [b] wage levels; [c] various phases of foreign trade, both export and import; [d] collection and dissemination of authoritative information and business statistics; [e] numerous subjects involving agriculture, transportation, credit, finance, and curbing of harmful speculation."

On Public Works.

In its chapter on immediate measures that should be taken to meet unemployment, the committee stresses the necessity of local action through effective organization.

"In addition to public works, local governments should be encouraged to undertake such work as can be done in the interest of the public health, safety, and comfort—namely, cleaning buildings, streets and alleys, improving drainage, and minor construction. By these means in the great majority of cases each community will be able to meet its individual local problems. Federal appropriations are opposed."

The committee finds that guaranteed employment plans, while possibly suitable in a few scientic cases, "would not be practical for industry in general."

This plan has been studied by President Hoover and was the subject of numerous conferences last summer between officials of the chamber and the chief executive.

Oppose Dole Systems.

"The conclusion is drawn," says the committee, "that unemployment is not, from an insurance point of view, a practical field for government compulsory insurance. When developed by private initiative, with proper foresight and safeguards, it might be found practicable after careful and cautious experimentation, to provide limited benefits for a reasonable period in the event of cyclical and seasonal unemployment.

"The fundamental conclusion that we draw from our study is that we would not desire to see so-called 'unemployment insurance' schemes based upon the English or the German models adopted in the United States. The existing system of dependence primarily upon charity we regard as unsatisfactory. Some methods involving much more extensive coverage must be sought."

AMER. SMELTING SIX MOS.' PROFIT DROPS SHARPLY

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A sharp drop in net income reflecting the depressed state of the nonferrous metal industry, where the lowest prices in history prevail, is reported by the American Smelting and Refining company for the first half of 1931.

Net income for that period, after all the usual deductions, but before dividends, amounted to $1,365,173, compared with $6,879,441 in the same period of 1930 and $4,219,310 in the second half of last year.

Net income is figured after a charge against profits of $1,487,230 due to writing down to cost or market, whichever the lower, metal carried in excess of normal. Simon Guggenheim, president, points out that this is a book writeoff and not necessarily an actual loss, as the company still has the metals.

Before the writeoffs the company had net income applicable to the common stock of $462,404, or 22 cents a share of common. After giving effect to the writeoffs on excess metal stocks the company failed to earn its preferred dividends of $2,350,000 by $1,054,826, Mr. Guggenheim reports to stockholders. The total dividend requirements for the period were $5,094,910, so that the deficit amounted to $3,829,736, compared with a surplus in the comparable period of 1930 of $1,356,410.

BOND MARKET SAGS; SELLING LIGHTENS AT CLOSE OF WEEK

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The bond market sagged sharply last week, although it experienced brief periods of strength as selling pressure lightened toward the close of the week.

The breadth and the consistency of the decline may be realized from the fact that the average price of sixty representative bonds, composed of equal numbers of rail, public utility and industrial issues, reached new low levels for several years every day of the period while trading continued active. The slump extended to the foreign group, too, although the upturn in them on Saturday canceled a few of their losses and reduced others.

Definitely bearish news to account for this broad movement was lacking, but it was apparent that the steady liquidation came from many sources, both at home and abroad. What with the shrinkage in corporate earnings, only 36.7 per cent of the aggregate value of corporate bonds listed on the New York stock exchange are given the highest rating, AAA, by Moody's service, according to a new compilation by that organization. On July 1, 1926, that classification embraced 44.8 per cent of the listings.

The most indicative changes in the five year period are the higher ratings for public utility issues and the removal of many railroad loans from the AAA classification. Some 40 per cent of the public utility issues now have that rating compared with 24 per cent in 1926. At present, rails having the highest rating amount to 43.4 per cent of the total compared with 59 per cent in 1926.

Lincoln Savings Bank of Evansville Closes Doors

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 4.—The Lincoln Savings bank, a state institution, closed its doors here last night and has been taken over by the state banking department. Its closing followed upon a receivership suit in Circuit court here yesterday when Elmer D. Luhring, real estate and lumber dealer of the city, was named receiver of the Lincoln Mortgage and Title Guaranty company, an associated corporation.

Watch for New Proposals as Nation's Bankers Convene

BY O. A. MATHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 4.—The great number of bank failures that have occurred throughout the country in the last year or two is expected to result in several unique proposals for banking regulation at the annual convention of the American Bankers' association, which convenes here tomorrow.

These proposals are being discussed tonight by bankers who arrived today and probably will be brought up following the session of the association's economic policy commission tomorrow morning. It is understood that the report of the chairman, Rudolph S. Hecht, president of the Hibernia Bank and Trust company, New Orleans, will make an analysis of bank failures showing that bad management has been responsible, rather than economic conditions. On the basis of this expected analysis, the bankers are discussing proposals for radical changes in state banking laws to eliminate inexpert banking.

Propose Rigid Test.

One of the proposals is for a system of examinations which will require officials of banks to prove their qualifications, just as doctors are required to qualify for practice and lawyers are required to be admitted to the bar. Another proposal contemplates the removal of state banking commissioners from politics and extending their authority to the point of requiring bank boards of directors to dismiss officers who do not conduct their banks in accordance with recommendations made by the bank examiners. Still another proposal is to raise the capital requirements for banks to a point where the directors will be largely drawn from men of large business experience.

"There is no doubt that the numerous bank failures in the last few years have resulted from bad management for the most part, and not from general economic conditions," Craig B. Hazlewood, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, explained. "For the last five years, the association has been preaching the doctrine of better management. Undoubtedly this has brought about improvement in banking practice, but it has not prevented a wave of failures which have aggravated the present depression.

Suggests Legislation.

"We should devise some means of securing better banking practice to safeguard the country's depositors and give them confidence in our banks. Along this line, it might be well to seek state legislation that will require bank officials to meet certain requirements, possibly a combination of technical knowledge and proven experience. Another desirable improvement would be to make state banking supervision more effective. The examiners and superintendents should have power to enforce their recommendations even to the extent of requiring bank directors to dismiss officers who prove inefficient."

More than 1,000 bankers arrived today for the convention and an equal number are expected tomorrow. The various division and committee meetings will occupy tomorrow and the general sessions will begin on Tuesday.

SEND PROTEST TO HOOVER ON SHORT SELLING

The newly organized Midwest Manufacturers' Association, Inc., formed last week to represent the manufacturing interests of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska, has sent messages to President Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon protesting against speculative short selling on stock exchanges, Samuel M. Hastings, president of the group, announced yesterday.

The association, which includes representatives from the state manufacturers' associations of the midwestern states, will attempt to organize stockholders for the purpose of taking off the market the principal stocks used in short selling operations, Mr. Hastings said.

With the addition of representatives from Ohio and Minnesota, who have been invited to join, the association will represent 38 per cent of the nation's manufactured products, worth $27,000,000,000 annually, its president said.

Hosiery Federation Heads to Confer on Walkout

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A special meeting of the executive board of the Federation of Full Fashion Hosiery Workers of America will be held tomorrow to take action on refusal of union strikers to return to work, William Smith, secretary-treasurer of the organization, said tonight. The meeting was called after union hosiery workers in Dover and Boonton, N. J., and Northampton, Mass., had voted to continue their strikes despite orders from national headquarters to end the walkout. Smith said approximately 5,000 workers were involved in strikes at union mills.

Sees Fractional Gain in Steel Output This Week

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 4.—A fractional increase in steel operations this week is indicated, according to a summary of the iron and steel markets issued today by the magazine Steel, which places the rate of operation for last week at 29 per cent of capacity. A decline of 2 per cent in operations by Cleveland will probably be offset by increases in output in Pittsburgh and Buffalo, the publication says.

SOBER REASON TO GET INNING IN STOCK MARKET

But Time Isn't Ripe Now, It Seems.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 4.—The occasional recovery in the stock market and the very decided week-end recovery in home and foreign bonds were variously ascribed last week to the recovery of sterling exchange from its extreme depression, to the fact that no other continental countries than the three Scandinavian states had yet abandoned free gold payments, and to the agreement reached by the eastern trunk line railways on their "four-part consolidation plan."

No doubt each of these influences may have contributed to better financial feeling, but it is reasonable to ask whether any or all of them would have affected the market in its mood of a very little time ago. Supposing a competent observer to have read the week's news but not to have been informed on the course of the week's markets, he might easily have imagined an entirely different response.

He might have pointed out that gold suspension had spread with unexpected suddenness to continental Europe, that our own trade and production reports were increasingly unfavorable, that railway traffic was showing larger shrinkage than ever as compared with 1930, and that Europe's financial confusion had caused a sudden and quite unprecedented drain, through "earmarking," on our own gold reserve.

Must Look Elsewhere.

The true explanation for the week's recovery on the markets must therefore be looked for in something else. It may be ascribed, somewhat more convincingly, to the fact that at least a part of the finapcial community had awakened to realisation of the wildly extravagant manner in which the markets had been reflecting their ideas or expectations.

Securities of railways which are earning and meeting their fixed charges, of governments whose budgets are balanced and which are abundantly able to meet all foreign payments on their obligations, had, in scores of instances, sunk to valuations such as would naturally indicate impending insolvency and default. In the declines of the preceding three or four months little or no discrimination had been practiced.

What the episode as a whole had chiefly suggested to the observant mind was the action pursued by those estimable citizens who are declared that people are just about as punctual in meeting their "honest" debts as when things were buoyant. "What's a few dollars?—they know I'm good," may go in good times... "Better not get behind, even a cent," is the watchword when things are tight.

OUR BANK has a unique vantage point to observe the tendency of good, honest people with respect to their bills. For it is a part of our daily life to observe the inside stories and to know the intimate problems of Chicago families ... We have dealt with over 350,000 of them, in periods of prosperity ... and in periods of depression. We have no more hesitancy in lending money to Chicago families in these days than in the days gone before ... For when Chicago families make promises, they keep them.

SPECULATION IN GRAIN MARKET AT LOW POINT

Foreign Influences Are Disturbing Force.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The action of the stock and the foreign exchange markets were dominating influences on grain prices last week. When foreign exchange rates declined they had a strengthening effect on grain prices, as it lowered the purchasing power of the dollar. Canadian exchange was off sharply, ranging around 10 to over 11 per cent, which put the price of Canadian wheat at a level which provided incentive for Europe to buy that grain, as it was able to get more for its money.

The trade had it late Saturday that Russia was going off the gold basis, which led to heavy liquidation, possibly some short selling, with a break in all grains to the lowest of the season and for many years.

Until a satisfactory readjustment of foreign exchange is made, unsettled markets are to be expected. Apparently the world is going through a readjusting period, which is taken as meaning continued nervousness, with sharp price fluctuations and a low range of prices.

Farmers Hold Wheat Back.

There is no pressure of cash wheat. Farmers' marketings remain light. The farm board is shipping wheat sold to Brazil, China, and Germany. The visible supply is regarded as having passed down three weeks ago, but a peak ago it was 232,000,000 bu, against 206,000,000 bu last year.

Export clearances are not large. There is plenty of wheat available in all positions throughout the world. Current over supplies in the United States and Canada as estimated by the Uhlmann Grain company are 475,000,000 bu. These countries raised 1,051,000,000 bu. Normal consumption in the United States is estimated at 650,000,000 bu, and in Canada 120,000,000 bu, with waste and feed 50,000,000 bu, making a total 820,000,000 bu, and leaving a total for export and carryover 500,000,000 bu.

Argentine and Australian crops are making good progress and harvesting here is only eight weeks away.

Speculative trading is down to a minimum, with spreading operations between Chicago, Winnipeg, and Liverpool furnishing a good percentage of the business. Open interest in Chicago wheat futures is 94,608,000 bu compared with 95,921,000 bu a week ago and 167,555,000 bu a year ago. If there is any material change it is expected to be for the better.

Low Prices for Corn.

Corn prices are down to a level where farmers will get very little for their new crop unless conditions are changed in the immediate future. Farmers in Iowa, Nebraska, and parts of Illinois, who say that they will not sell corn at less than 60c, may be making a mistake, as such prices cannot be obtained without a radical reversal of present market conditions and speculative sentiment. December corn at 33¾@33¼c, the closing price on Saturday, would mean around 15@16c to the farmer for his good corn.

URGES AGENCY FOR CLEARING OF FOREIGN CREDITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 4.—Establishment of a clearing house for foreign credits in New York, to enable American banks and banking houses to minimize their losses in the field of foreign credits, has been proposed by Leonard Frederick, formerly foreign manager of the National Bank of Commerce and director and treasurer of the American Smelting and Refining company.

Mr. Frederick advanced his proposal in a letter to Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the governing board of the Chase National bank and American member of the committee of the Bank for International Settlements that drew up the recently published "Wiggin report."

As a result of the suspension of the gold standard in England, Mr. Frederick asserts, New York will have to assume a heavy burden and responsibility in financing world trade.

Monsanto Chemical.

Will you kindly give us what information you can on the past record of Monsanto Chemical Works? When was it incorporated? Have they paid dividends regularly on both the common and preferred? What is their funded debt?—J. L. W.

Monsanto Chemical Works was incorporated in 1901. It manufactures medicinal products and fine and heavy chemicals, including sulphuric acid, caustic soda, carbolic acid, chlorine and its derivatives, dyes, resins, etc.

Net income for the five years prior to 1929 rose steadily, a reflection of favorable conditions in the industry and expansion. Net for 1930 was $732,684, or $1.71 per common share, which was 56 per cent less than the net of $1,691,338, or $4.25 per share [adjusted] reported for 1929. The decline was attributed to lower sales which resulted from a lessened demand from the companies it supplies and lower prices.

For the first half of 1931 net profit was $471,464, or $1.57 per share on 429,000 shares of no par capital stock, against $622,399, or $1.52 per share on 410,307 capital shares in the first half of 1930.

On June 30, 1931, current position was good. Current assets were $6,355,820 and current liabilities were $997,514. Cash and marketable securities alone were well over $2,000,000. Working capital was $5,358,316, against $5,438,949 on Dec. 31, 1930. Funded debt was $1,705,500. The company has no preferred stock outstanding.

The common is on an annual $1.25 dividend basis. The quarterly 1½ per cent stock dividend was discontinued after the payment of Jan. 2, 1931.

United Light and Power.

Will you please send me information on United Light and Power company first and consolidated 5½s, due 1959?—G. W. W.

United Light and Power company, through subsidiaries, furnishes various utility services to a population of 5,120,000 in 907 communities in 13 states.

Fixed charges were earned 1.76 times in 1930, against 1.78 times in 1929, 1.47 times in 1928, and 1.28 times in 1927.

For the twelve months ended July 31, 1931, operating revenues were $91,007,527, against $96,260,065 for the preceding twelve months. Fixed charges were covered 1.65 times, against 1.87 times for the twelve months ended July 31, 1930.

The first and consolidated 5½s, due 1959, are considered a business man's investment.

Insull Operating Units Report Production Gains

Output gains by Insull units were reported yesterday by President James C. Kennedy of the Central and Southwest Utilities company. The electricity output of the West Texas Utilities company, serving 125 communities, shows 5 per cent gain for the week ending Sept. 27, compared with the same period last year. The Southwestern Gas and Electric company, serving east Texas, shows 39 per cent gain. Reasons given are activities in cotton and oil industries.

Second Grade Foreign Bonds Yielding 20 Per Cent

Rapidly falling prices of second grade foreign bonds have resulted in an average yield for this group that is close to 20 per cent, according to Moody's Investors' Service. Average return on ten foreign issues rated Baa stood at 18.61 per cent at the end of September. This contrasts with an average of 8.67 per cent for thirty corporate domestic bonds of the same rating and approximates the all time record for this type of foreign issue, the analysis states.

Schedule Only $8,403,859 in Municipal, State Bonds

A total of only $8,403,859 in new state and municipal bond offerings is scheduled this week by 50 municipalities, a compilation by the Daily Bond Buyer shows. This is the smallest total for any week during the year to date and brings the weekly average down to $36,935,701. Only two major sized items are included in this week's total, $2,360,000 Yonkers, N. Y., bonds to be offered today, and $1,350,000 Dallas, Tex., general improvement bonds Wednesday.
